MEXICAN JETLINER CRASHES NEAR MONTERREY; 79 ABOARD

A MEXICAN AIRWAYS jetliner carrying 79 persons including Mexican tennis champion Rafael Osuna, crashed on a mountain in bad weather near Monterrey Wednesday. A Red Cross search plane spotted the wreckage. There was no immediate word Wednesday night on the fate of the 79 persons. The Red Cross reported that mountain teams were dispatched toward the crash site on "three-peak hill," part of the rugged foothills of the eastern Sierra Madre chain about 20 miles north of Monterrey.

U.S. BOMBERS DROP MILLION POUNDS OF BOMBS ON JUNGLE

U.S. B52 BOMBERS, striking in five waves, dropped a million pounds of bombs on Central Highlands jungle areas where allied forces have reported killing almost 1,000 Communists in heavy fighting in the past three weeks, U.S. military spokesman said Wednesday. The new raids, carried out Tuesday night and Wednesday, followed a record month of B52 bombing that shelled 24,500 tons of explosives on Communist troops and installations in South Vietnam in May. It was the heaviest month of such raids this year.

BATTERED PLANE DROPS FOUR MAKESHIFT BOMBS ON HAITI

A BATTERED, U.S. built four-engine Constellation plane with a Haitian flag painted on its side, dropped at least four makeshift fire bombs on Port au Prince, Haiti, Wednesday. Authorities reported one person was killed and another wounded in the attack when one of the bombs started a fire in a small waterfront hut. Several other small fires were started in uptown Port au Prince, but were quickly extinguished. In Miami, Fla., Haitian exiles said the Democratic movement of Haitian Patriots, led by Rene J. Leon, a former Haitian army colonel, "has placed its forces on Haitian soil." They did not elaborate. In Washington, the Haitian ambassador, Arthur Bonhomme, said communist Cuba was responsible for the bombing attack.

NIXON DEFENDS MILITARY, BLASTS 'NEW ISOLATIONISTS'

PRESIDENT NIXON rose to the defense of the military establishment Wednesday in a speech before the Air Force Academy's 1969 graduating class in Colorado. He branded some critics as "new isolationists" and suggested they were bent on achieving unilateral American disarmament. Lamenting what he called the present "open season on the armed forces," the President accused some unnamed detractors of seeking U.S. withdrawal from the world scene. That course, Nixon said, would be disastrous. "Military programs are ridiculed as needless if not deliberate waste. The military profession is derided in some of the so-called best circles. Patriotism is considered by some to be a backward fetish of the uneducated and unsophisticated. Nationalism is hailed and applauded as a panacea for the ills of every nation—except the United States," he said. The President claimed the wave of criticism went beyond dissent over the war and fear of the "military industrial complex." He said it represented a belief that the best means of reaching an understanding with Russia and Red China lay "through a downgrading of our own alliances and what amounts to a unilateral reduction of our own arms in order to demonstrate our good faith. They believe that we can be conciliatory and accommodating only if we do not have the strength to be otherwise," Nixon said. He declared: "We shall not trade our defenses for a disarming smile or charming words."

NIXON AND THIEU MAY ANNOUNCE U.S. TROOP WITHDRAWALS

PRESIDENT NIXON and South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu may announce the withdrawal of America's 540,000 troops in Vietnam at the conclusion of their Midway Island meeting, U.S. sources said Wednesday in Washington. Such an announcement would relieve some of the growing public pressure on the Nixon Administration for a sign of progress toward termination of the U.S. involvement in the war. But neither the White House nor State Department were willing to take some of the drama from such an announcement by confirming a report that an announcement of a limited troop withdrawal was already being prepared. The two presidents meet Sunday on Midway Island.

3 HUGE EXPLOSIONS SHAKE DUPONT PLANT IN N.J.; 3 DEAD

THREE THUNDEROUS explosions shook a DuPont Chemical Co. powder plant Wednesday and killed three workers and left four unaccounted for. Sixteen pupils were cut by broken windows in three schools one mile away and residents of Carneys Point, N.J., felt shock waves in a 10 mile radius. The shocks were felt as far as Wilmington, Del., across the Delaware River. A company spokesman said at least a dozen workers were injured in the plant along the river, some of them seriously, but the total number of injured was said to be below 50. The series of three quick blasts occurred in an area of one-story buildings where nitrocellulose is stored in the process of manufacturing gunpowder.

LOCKHEED EXECUTIVES AND AIR FORCE CLASH OVER CONTRACT

LOCKHEED AIRCRAFT CORP. said Wednesday it had a binding contract to produce the entire order of 115 C5A cargo planes for the Air Force. The Air Force denied it. Lockheed executives clashed openly with a group of Air Force officers over the complicated terms of the contract before the Senate Armed Services Committee. The flap occurred as the committee finished two days of hearings on C5A production costs.

HOUSE KILLS SARGENT'S $161 MILLION TAX PROGRAM

THE MASSACHUSETTS HOUSE — after less than 90 minutes of debate — killed Gov. Francis W. Sargent's $161 million tax program Wednesday. Final action came on a 149-76 roll call. The motion to kill was made by Democratic Rep. Edward Coury of New Bedford. The House vote came after the members defeated two attempts to substitute the governor's bill with proposals to change the sales tax. One proposal called for increasing the 3 per cent limited sales tax to 5 per cent and it was scuttled on a 185-40 vote while the other attempt would make the sales tax a 2 per cent general tax — and it failed to reconsider the vote today, but defeat of the bill by such a wide margin all but assured no chance for the measure's survival. Sargent was not present for the vote. More than likely, he will be forced to submit a new tax message this year. The brunt of his program called for a 14 percent surtax on all existing taxes but sales, gasoline and cigarettes.

BOSTON PLANS $6.9 MILLION PARKS IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

BOSTON will undertake a four-part $6.9 million improvement program for its parks and malls, the Parks and Recreation Department announced Wednesday. Commissioner John D. Warner said the program includes $1.2 million for projects begun in 1968; $207,000 for construction and equipping of recreation facilities; $987,900 for beautification and restoration and $4.6 million for bond issue financed projects including floodlighting the 29 city parks and playgrounds. Department of Housing and Urban Development, includes $75,000 for tree planting throughout the city and $200,000 for a pedestrian mall on Dartmouth Street.

PATRIOTS REJECT USE OF FENWAY PARK FOR LEAGUE GAMES

THE PATRIOTS announced Wednesday the team will not play its American Football League games at Fenway Park as in previous years — thereby leaving the team temporarily homeless. The reason: expansion and extension of the baseball season.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Ted Has Picked Up Torch Bobby Dropped A Year Ago

Senator Edward M. Kennedy has been making a one-man crusade to end the war in Vietnam.

He has been going further than he would be expected to go, for Ted by nature is not an extremist.

Ted criticized the strategy of the army brass in ordering the battle for Hamburger Hill.

This brought blasts from the members of his own party that he was violating one of the fundamental rules of Congress in second-guessing military judgment.

Ted retorted with even sharper criticism.

Most recently he has warned South Vietnamese President Thieu that he must make compromises for peace or assume the risk of facing the future alone.

Apart from all the other objectionable aspects to the action, Ted hardly would make a good combat soldier fighting at the side of other men.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —

EVERYTHING...
HAVEN'T WE?"

The best schooling, good clothes, a comfortable home... all these are important.

But don't they need answers to the big questions — such as Who is God? What is God? Where is God? What does He have to do with me?

Your children's sense of security and lasting happiness may well depend on being given good and useful answers to these important questions.

In the Christian Science Sunday School, children learn to know God, to feel a closeness to Him, and to turn to Him for the spiritual resources they need to strengthen and enrich their lives.

Isn't this something you would like to give your children? Why not bring them next Sunday morning at 10:45 a.m.?

Aldermen Pass Resolution Opposing Service Facility

Plans of the Massachusetts precedent will have been set. Turnpike Authority to build a service facility in West Newton met strong opposition at Monday night's Board of Aldermen meeting.

The Board passed a resolution signed by 23 of the 24 members rebuking the authority for taking this "unwarranted action" which threatens the very existence of the Myrtle Baptist Church and dashes the hopes of the black community in Newton.

The 24th alderman is out of town.

Proposed by Alderman Matthew Jefferson, the resolution became the subject of number of amendments. One provides for copies to be sent to the 280 Massachusetts state legislators.

Another provides for copies to be sent to the officials of Howard Johnson's, which will operate the restaurant at the facility. They will also operate the one planned for Newton Corner.

Alderman Melvin J. Dangel said, "I don't understand why Howard Johnson's would put up a restaurant here and then one at Newton Corner. They will be competing against each other."

Alderman William Matthews urged the Massachusetts legislature to "put some curbs on Mr. Driscoll" (John T. Driscoll, authority chairman). He said Driscoll was "abusing his authority" and in the process "abusing the people of the community."

The group effort by the aldermen in opposing the authority plans was compared to the effort a few years ago in opposing the planned stadium at Woodland. Alderman H. James Shea Jr., however urged the board members and the city to "mobilize" more than the White Construction Co.

"When you lose one round you lose the whole battle," he said, adding that if the service facility is built, then Newton's land use pattern will be permanently affected—the culmination of work initiated by Msgr. John Quirk last October, will be realized on Sunday, June 15th, when the parishioners of St. Bernard's Parish, West Newton go to the polls to elect their first Parish Council.

Inspired by Vatican II, this will mark one of the most significant developments in the history of the parish.

Under the guidance of Msgr. John Quirk, the Steering Committee, chaired by Mr. Harry Lynch and composed of parishioners, Curates, and Nuns, was elected in February and charged with the responsibility of preparing the way for the formation of a Parish Council.

This was accomplished by a list of other restaurants and gasoline stations available to Toll Road motorists. He said the facility is "totally unwarranted." He also said there is a possibility of additional land taking at the site.

Attorney G. Ronald Kesinger, of Weston, was elected President of the Waltham, Watertown, Weston, Newton Bar Association at the Association's annual Ladies' Night Banquet which was held at the Faculty Lounge of Brandeis University in Waltham on Tuesday evening, May 27. Kesinger is a partner in the Weston law firm of Crafts & Kesinger.

Also elected were, Bernard T. Loughran of Watertown, first Vice President; Edward W. Foster of Waltham, second Vice President; and John B. G. Palen of Newton, Secretary-Treasurer.

Outgoing President, Robert R. LeBlanc, introduced the speaker of the evening, Sister Margaret Gorman, R.S.C.J., Chairman of the Psychology Department at the College of the Sacred Heart in Newton. Sister Gorman, a specialist in semantics, spoke on the "Communication Gap Between the Generations."

President Kesinger asked the attorneys of the Association to consider several proposals during the next year. He proposed that the attorneys minimum fee schedule be revised and also be publicized to the general public who are often unaware of the rationale behind attorneys' fees.

Other proposals included a campaign to better acquaint the young people and families in the lower middle classes of our society with the benefits of legal services, a continuation of dialogue between the Bar and Medical Associations, an initiation of a Lawyer's Referral System, an apparatus for making speedy decisions which reflect the sentiment and opinion of members of the Bar Association whenever judicial and clerical positions are vacant and when important legislation is proposed, and a campaign to unify the Bar Association on a state-wide basis.

Kesinger has served as Chairman of the Law Day, Legal Services and Lawyer's Referral Committees of the Association as well as presently serving as Chairman of the Committee on the Amendment of the Law of the Middlesex Bar Association, and is a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association and of the American Bar Association.

Basic Quality Of Meadowbrook Program Is Sound Says Laurits

The basic quality of the program at Meadowbrook Junior High School is strong, but there are places where improvements are needed, Acting Supt. James Laurits told the Newton School Committee on Monday night.

Dr. Laurits presented a report on the principal findings of the members of the School Department's central staff following a general examination of the program at Meadowbrook which began in August 1968.

In attempting to list some broad areas where improvement is needed, Dr. Laurits declared, "I am very much aware that Meadowbrook is being singled out, and that each of the other junior high schools has its own areas where the program needs to be strengthened. The Central Staff has not taken special steps this year to examine the other schools as it has done for Meadowbrook."

Recommendations for improvement include:

1. In some courses in English and social studies, curriculum materials need to be improved, or additional materials should be added.
2. In some instances, the learning centers can be made more effective. When questioned, Meadowbrook Principal Maurie Blum conceded that the math center is most successful, the foreign language center has done well, science less well and that the learning centers in the fields of English and social studies have so far been the least effective. He said that beginning next year learning centers will be available throughout the day. At present students have a rigidly scheduled period when they must go to a learning center, whether they are ready to use it or not. We would like to be able to send a student to a learning center when the need is approved."

3. "The school needs to give increased attention to a curriculum which will address itself to the rather severe differences in the backgrounds of the students — Socio-economics and ethnic. We must be certain that the curriculum pattern and schedule do not inhibit new approaches to the problem. The issue is not unique to Meadowbrook by any means and it will take the combined wisdom of all of us to make progress."

4. The school needs a more effective program for a small number of "uncommitted students." For a variety of reasons, certain boys and girls have ceased to find anything of interest or value in their school experience. The problem exists in each of our junior high schools. Many teachers feel that the community will have to join as teaching partners to help find better ways for these boys and girls to learn.

The strengths of the Meadowbrook were cited by Dr. Laurits as the following:

1. Students and teachers tend to be highly motivated — they like the school and wish to improve it.
2. Academic achievement by students is high in comparison to schools in national samples.

3. The school continues to develop rich experiences for students.

4. Teaching techniques tend to be good or superior.

The Gourmet Adventures of THE HIGHLANDS

The frozen non dairy coffee creamers are extremely popular, and it's certainly a convenience to have them ready for coffee. But have you tried using them in ways other than in coffee? Try it in your scrambled eggs or half and half with water to dilute condensed cream soups or clam chowder...

For a quick Cole Slaw Dressing, mix ½ cup non dairy coffee creamer (defrosted) with 2 tablespoons vinegar, ½ teaspoon sugar and a dash of salt and dry mustard. This makes enough for about 2 cups of shredded cabbage. And it's oh, so delicious!

You'll find THE HIGHLANDS RESTAURANT, 1114 Beacon Street, Newton, 332-4400 is a popular place to dine with people who know good food. Call now for reservations. "Food for the Hungry — Drink for the Thirsty." Fashion shows every Wednesday luncheon.

5. Much attention is given to educational planning.

6. A full program exists to help pupils with learning disabilities or deficits.

7. Behavioral problems are handled with thoroughness and sensitivity.

8. The faculty at Meadowbrook wishes to maintain academic excellence for the student, but is also determined to have the student increase his sense of responsibility for his own action and for the effectiveness of the school.

Committee man Alvin Mandell, after hearing the report, said, "I had hoped you would look further into the mental and physical discipline at the school and at the rather divergent amounts of time spent in classrooms at the different junior high schools."

For example, he declared, students at Meadowbrook get 2 1/2 hours per week in foreign language. In other junior highs students spend four hours per week on foreign languages. This puts Meadowbrook students at a disadvantage when they enter high school and compete with students from other schools.

John McLeod, principal of Warren Junior High, pointed out, however, "that some of the things happening in learning centers at Meadowbrook are similar to things happening to students at Warren during the four prescribed hours. The critical thing is how well these things are done," McLeod asserted.

Mandell also questioned whether the kind of progressive program used at Meadowbrook could be properly carried out with the high rate of teacher turnover. He claimed that this year there were 19 resignations and one reduced, he said.

retirement by teachers in that school. Mandell also claimed these figures represented 35 per cent of the faculty at Meadowbrook.

Director of Personnel for Newton Schools Thomas O'Connor replied that teacher turnover in the city runs annually from 15 to 25 per cent, mostly due to "Marriage, maternity and moving." Last year it was just over 19 per cent, according to O'Connor.

In the junior highs it was slightly over 12 per cent last year. But it seems to be running higher this year and looks as though it will average 17 to 18 per cent. Teacher turnover at Meadowbrook this year will be about 8 per cent higher than last year, O'Connor said.

Committeeman Richard Douglas asked about the relative commitments made to the five junior high schools. He pointed out there is a considerable spread between the 17.9 pupil teacher ratio at Warren and the 13.2 pupil ratio at Meadowbrook.

Dr. Laurits replied that the enrollment at Meadowbrook has fallen off appreciably in the last three years (by about 100 students) because of the decrease in enrollment in the elementary schools in the area. At the same time enrollment increased at Warren and other schools on the north side of the city.

Though staff was increased somewhat at those schools none was removed from Meadowbrook. "But the pupil teacher ratio did get out of balance," Dr. Laurits noted. In 1969-70 about another seven positions will be added at Warren while at Weeks and Meadowbrook the number of faculty members will be

Editorial . . .Fun-Filled Days In Paris

There are 39 Congressmen and 20 aides presently in Paris attending the International Air Show at the expense of the American taxpayer. They'll be there all week and receive $50 a day for living expenses.

Congressman L. Mendel Rivers (D-South Carolina), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, considers the show a rare opportunity to see the latest in Soviet and other foreign aviation developments.

Of course, the people most concerned with aviation developments, the Defense Department experts, are attending the show. With them it is a matter of business.

For the life of us, we can't see the reason why 39 Congressmen and 20 aides had to go to Paris, especially when it is costing taxpayers a minimum of $20,000 with the maximum probably much, much higher.

If there is a "need-to-know" urgency about the air show, it would seem that Defense Department experts are fully qualified to analyze, observe and report their findings to Congress. It would also be quite simple to take movies of the entire show and show them to interested members of Congress.

Although Cong. Rivers may consider the show a "rare opportunity" to see the latest in Soviet and foreign aviation developments, it apparently is more of an opportunity for some members of Congress to obtain a fun-filled trip to Paris in the cheapest possible way — at the expense of the taxpayers.

Letters To The EditorGarbage Contract

Editor,
The Graphic:
I read and appreciate your editorial of May 22, regarding a free press. I hope you will agree with me that with the freedom of the press goes the responsibility to report news, uncensored, unabridged, and of course without attempt to take things out of context.

I am speaking of the controversy concerning the City of Newton's garbage contract. Paul Mulroy, James Shee and Irving Fishman who by their actions in working for an expanded mental health and retardation program have shown that (contrary to popular opinion) they do have the best interest of their electorate in mind when they conduct their duties in the legislature.

Commends Law-Makers
Editor,
Newton Graphic:
I wish to commend publicly the legislators who fought valiantly for the restoration of funds to expand the comprehensive community mental health and retardation program within the Areas of Newton, Wellesley and Weston.

The citizens of Newton should be especially proud of their representatives Paul Mulroy, James Shee and Irving Fishman who by their actions in working for an expanded mental health and retardation program have shown that (contrary to popular opinion) they do have the best interest of their electorate in mind when they conduct their duties in the legislature.

Good Government

Not to be lost amidst the shrill propaganda of the oncoming city elections is the fact that Newton has a long and distinguished record of good government.

We enjoy a tradition of public service with dedicated and able citizens giving of their time and talents without compensation as members of the various municipal boards, including the Aldermanic.

Despite the heat of political campaigns we should not forget this. We are very fortunate to have men and women of high integrity serving us so faithfully and so ably. They merit the confidence we place in them.

Church Stand

As chairman of the Board of Trustees of Myrtle Baptist Church of West Newton, we feel it is part of our duty and responsibility to the church to write this letter and inform the citizens of Newton and the public in general that the membership of Myrtle Baptist Church, Newton's only black church is more than upset at plans of the Mass. Turnpike Authority to build a gas station and restaurant on the land at the rear of the church, which the church has been for the past three years attempting to reacquire from the Authority.

This land was taken by the Authority when constructing the Turnpike Extension through Newton, and no purposeful use has been made of the land by the Authority since the taking of the land.

In these times where black people are desperately trying to establish leaders and create self pride, race pride and dignity among its people the church is a most important part of this movement. Myrtle Baptist Church is a very active church in this movement and since it is such an active church with an abundance of young children and young adults among its membership, it is imperative that the church expand.

If the Authority goes ahead with its plans the future of Myrtle is in danger due to the fact that the church needs the extra land to go ahead with its proposed new building plans. If the gas station and restaurant are erected on the land the church's plans for expansion will have to be canceled as the present site of the church is inadequate to build the size church needed to minister to the churches projected growth.

You owe it yourself to go there to become inspired by what can be done with imagination, ingenuity and money.

I do not belong to any organization affiliated with the hospital but went there to make donations to that particular ward. When I was there, Mrs. Volk told me she would welcome visits to the Ward by interested individuals or organizations as well as donations of any size.

I assure you that whatever you do in relation to this Ward, you will feel good for having done this.

In the meanwhile if you have any further questions regarding Ward E-1, you may call Mrs. Volk directly at the hospital between 7:00 and 3:00 any day — from Newton 1-359-4312.

In another case an army guard at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery was ordered to Vietnam after he criticized U.S. involvement in the war. He subsequently was given a physical examination to determine if he should be sent into combat or if he had an asthmatic condition which would preclude such duty.

Is Victory in Race to Moon Worth Price We Are Paying?

An American Astronaut probably will land on the moon next month and almost surely before the end of the summer.

Hopefully, the moon's terrain will be such as to enable him both to land and to leave.

Billions of American dollars have been spent in preparation for this great history-making event.

When a man from our nation lands and walks on the moon and then comes back home through space to tell about it, we will have realized a fantastic objective — one which would not have been considered within the realm of possibility a few years ago.

But the question certainly will be raised whether it was worth the price and what we have actually accomplished.

Will the excursions into space strengthen our defenses against possible nuclear attack by an enemy country?

Will the scientific knowledge we have gained be of any help in curing the diseases which cause human suffering and claim human lives?

Could we have used those billions to greater advantage in other ways? What would have been hurt except our pride if the Soviet Union had won the race to the moon?

Perhaps additional billions can be diverted to human problems if the war is ended in Vietnam. It also should be possible to pare down expenditures on the moon project after we have landed a man there.

Dirksen Was Pal to Johnson But Is Pest to Pres. Nixon

One of the strange developments on Washington's Capitol Hill this year has been that Senator Everett Dirksen hasn't got along as well with President Nixon as he did with former President Johnson.

For eight years the Senator with the tousled curls and the honey-coated tonsils made a career of being reasonable and cooperative with the Democrats.

For the past several months he has been periodically pitching a monkey wrench into the Nixon machinery, something he did not do when Democratic Presidents were dwelling in the White House.

President Nixon and his aides are saying little publicly about Senator Dirksen, but privately they assert that lovable "Mr. Republican" is not acting the part.

One political writer even referred to him as "Irksome Dirksen." Another Washington observer declared that Senator Dirksen ended his honeymoon with Presi-

Fink has been principal of the high school in Scarsdale, New York, since 1961.

Opposed to the appointment and the salary was Comiteeeman Alvin Mandell.

School Committee Chairman Manuel Beckwith said the appointment was the climax of the year-long search. "This is not the first time, but the third time that I know of that Aaron Fink has been approached to come to Newton," Beckwith said. At one time he was asked to become a junior high school principal.

Committeeman Vincent Stanton remarked, "The salary has brought comment, if not criticism, since it is 50 per cent higher than that of the Mayor and since it will be the highest paid to a school superintendent in the state next year."

"If it's your money, it's also our money," Stanton noted. "The really important decision was who the man is. The salary must reflect many factors such as what he has been doing."

Chairman Beckwith read a letter from the School Committee to Acting Supt. James Laurits expressing gratitude for the quality of his service under singularly trying circumstances.

Dr. Laurits will return to his former position as Assistant Superintendent for Personnel.

Some serious thought should be given by the Authority to the one important thing that the black membership of Myrtle has in Newton, its church, and in this day and time Myrtle is playing an important part in the lives of its membership.

We are appealing to the Authority to give careful consideration to their plans for this land as the membership of Myrtle needs this land and its church to help in the development of black leaders that America and the black race need.

We feel that the Authority should show some deep consideration for the black community and its church especially after fragmentizing the

Photographs On Display Now At Newton Library

The Elma Lewis story in pictures, a group of photographs showing students of ballet, painting, and music at the National Center of Afro-American Artists, Roxbury, is on display at the Newton Free Library, 414 Centre Street, Newton Corner, in a salute to Miss Lewis, director of the Center.

Miss Lewis, a specialist in creative life-saving through innovative techniques, has already served over 3,000 students at her school in 18 years of operation.

The Center, now going public in a big way, hopes to raise $10 million in the next five years to continue its service to the community.

A new Newton group, Friends of the Afro-American Center, is now forming under the co-chairmanship of Professor Lloyd Lillie of Boston University and Mrs. Franklin N. Flaschner of Waban. The group presented Miss Lewis with a check for $2500 at a Mothers' Day reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Taymor, West Newton.

The photographs will remain on view, with a correlated book exhibit, through late June.

Monticello Degree

Miss Melinda J. Malkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Malkin, 14 Baldpate Hill Rd., Newton Centre, was awarded the Associate in Arts degree from Monticello College, Godfrey, Illinois, on Sunday, May 25. The degree was conferred by Dr. G. E. Myers, president of Monticello, during the 131st Commencement ceremonies.

dent Nixon before the rice had even been swept out of the polling booths.

Some of the things Dirksen did which did not stir up any gratitude in the White House were:

His criticism of the President's tax bill.

His opposition to the appointment of Dr. John H. Knowles, director of the Massachusetts General Hospital, as Assistant Secretary for Health and Scientific Affairs.

His action in blocking the appointment of Dr. Franklin A. Long as director of the National Science Foundation.

His assertions which resulted in the resignation of Clifford L. Alexander, Jr., as chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

In addition, lovable, old Ev spilled a few classified beans after a hush-hush White House briefing on the U.S. spy plane shot down by North Korea.

One unusual occurrence found Senator Ted Kennedy, who may be the Democratic opponent against President Nixon in 1972, in a row with Senator Dirksen.

Ted was in the unusual position of defending President Nixon against Mr. Nixon's top spokesman in the upper chamber of Congress — the Republican leader in the U.S. Senate.

It is as if Ted has picked up the torch dropped by his brother Bobby when the latter was gunned down in a senseless murder a year ago.

And that is probably just what it is.

Ted from all indications is saying the things Bobby would have said, and is waging the great fight for peace in Vietnam which Bobby would have made had he lived.

Richardson May Be Induced To Run Against Ted In 1970

Under Secretary of State Elliot Richardson, the former Massachusetts Attorney General and Lieutenant Governor, is gradually becoming an outstanding figure in the Nixon administration.

Washington observers predict that when the war finally ends in Vietnam, Richardson will have had a prominent part in the negotiations which achieve a cessation of hostilities or an end to U.S. involvement in them.

Then they engage in some long-range political speculation involving President Nixon, Senator Edward M. Kennedy and Under Secretary of State Richardson.

They declare that Mr. Nixon will be standing for reelection in 1972 and that the only one who might defeat him is Senator Ted Kennedy. Neither former Vice President Humphrey nor Senator Muskie could do it, in the opinion of the Capitol Hill pundits, and they consider Eugene McCarthy a joke.

But before Ted runs for President in 1972 — if he does so — he must stand for reelection to the Senate in 1970.

Elliot Richardson, who within the next 12 months will be one of the negotiators responsible for ending the war in Vietnam, will be persuaded to resign as Under Secretary of State next year and to accept the Republican nomination to stand against Ted Kennedy, so the conjecture goes.

Ted will defeat Richardson but not by any runaway margin. The fight will be tough enough and tight enough so that Ted will be forced to stay home and apply himself to his own battle, preventing him from journeying to other parts of the United States to campaign for other Democratic candidates, according to the way Washington experts figure it.

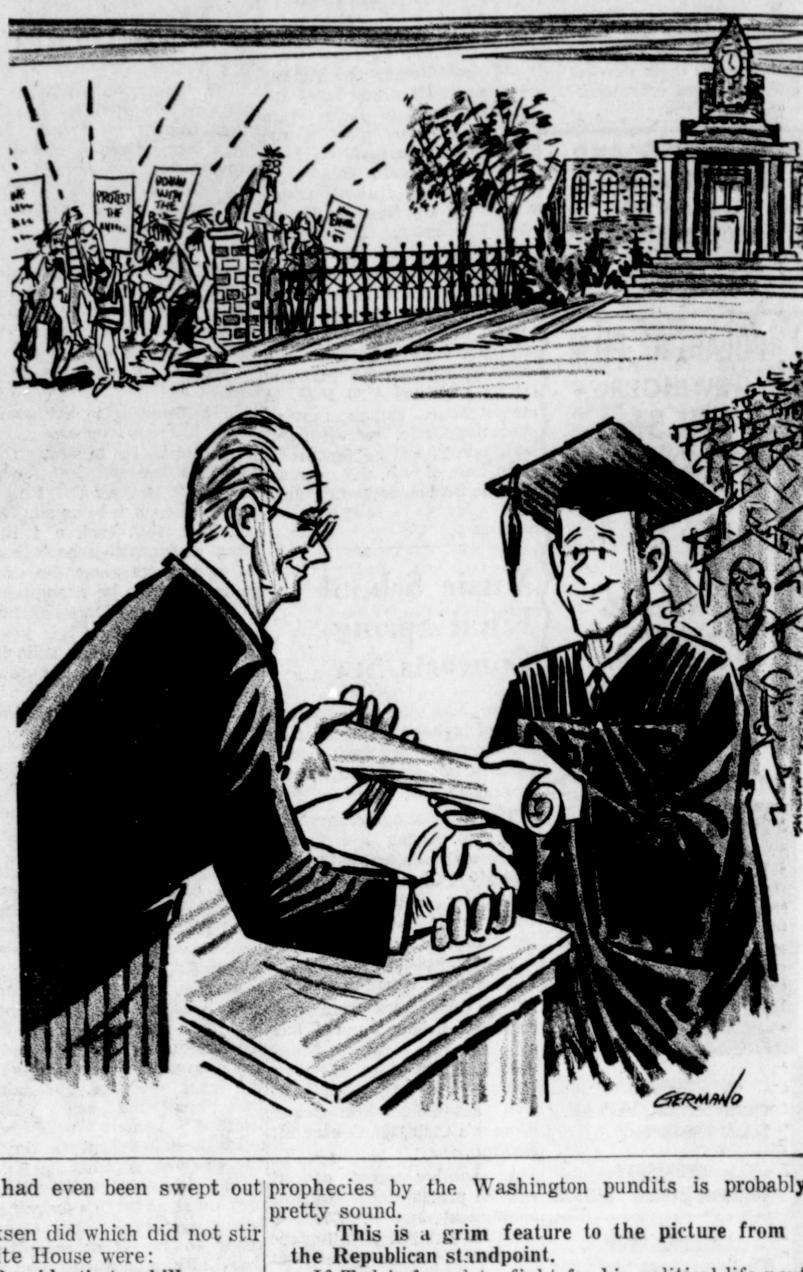

Ted will win, but by a smaller plurality than in his other election contests, which will lessen his Presidential prospects for 1972, the crystal ball gazers anticipate.

Richardson will lose the Senate fight but will be appointed to some position such as Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense, U.S. Attorney General or Supreme Court Justice.

Then in 1974 Richardson will run as the Republican candidate for Governor.

That is interesting because it obviously assumes that Governor Francis W. Sargent will be defeated when he runs for the Governorship next year. If Sargent wins next year he'll be a candidate for reelection in 1974 unless he goes to the U.S. Senate in the meantime.

However, that aspect of the political guesses and

Myrtle Baptist Church Girds For Battle Over Use Of Land

The members of Myrtle Baptist Church of West Newton at a special meeting Sunday, June 1st, voted overwhelmingly to protest and fight plans by the Mass. Turnpike Authority to erect a gas station and restaurant on land at the rear of the church land which the church has been attempting to reacquire from the Authority for the past three years.

Myrtle Baptist, Newton's only all black church, is in the process of a new building fund campaign.

The membership is up in arms over the Authority's lack of concern in proposing to build or even thinking of building a gas station and restaurant so close to the church.

The noise and vibrations will seriously effect the building and events that are taking place inside the church. The feasibility of even continuing a church on the present site is doubtful under

Myrtle Baptist is one of the most active churches in the area. Its membership is growing, probably faster than any other church in the area. It has a large number of young members, ages 12 to 21, who are the future of the church and the members feel that the building of the gas station and restaurant, 20 feet from the property line of the church will eventually destroy the church, since the church will be unable to expand. The present building is inadequate to minister to the present membership and its projected growth.

It seems that the Turnpike Authority is totally insensitive to the hopes and aspirations of this particular church and area in Newton. This will be the second time that upheaval caused by the turnpike will drastically affect the lives and way of life, a particular people in this city. Letters seek-

Mann Bill Gets Good Reaction

House Bill No. 1043 filed by Representative Theodore D. Mann of Newton has received favorable action by the House Committee on Banks and Banking.

The proposed legislation provides for an inquiry by a Special Commission relative to the percentage of mortgage money invested in urban areas by banks, credit unions, and insurance companies. The findings of such an inquiry, Rep. Mann stated, would help materially in finding more effective means for the financing of homes in the urban areas through private enterprise.

Believing that home ownership and pride in such ownership can contribute a great deal to better living of individuals and to the rehabilitation of urban areas, Representative Mann is hopeful that the Commission will be established.

Students Given Volunteer Honor At Faulkner Hosp

Student volunteers from twenty-three junior and senior high schools, their parents and teachers were on hand for presentation awards at the Faulkner Hospital Recognition Ceremony held recently.

Faulkner Hospital Administrator, William J. Skerry of Newton Centre, praised the spirit and industry of the young people and expressed the appreciation of the Board of Directors whom he compared to the student volunteers as devotees of time and effort for the Hospital.

He told the audience that student volunteers spark the "Faulkner friendliness" with their gift of time and attention to small details of bedside care. He commended parents and teachers for encouraging the responsible young to take up the broadening experience of helping the sick — an experience he described as a "constructive, important exploitation of opportunity and devotion."

The Art of Home Decor

By MEL STERN

What would you do if you had a narrow kitchen wall next to the back entry? You can put it to work as a meal-planning, budget-balancing business center. Start with a simple schoolmaster's desk — perfectly scaled for tight quarters — and then add a high stool for seating. Finally, dress up the wall area with a miscellany of accessories which reflect a special interest. You have now turned a plain kitchen wall into a useful area.

Personality and charm are key words used by the decorators here at FERNANDO'S FINE FURNITURE, 308 Harvard Street, Brookline, 566-8635. We have a complete decorating service with experienced salespeople, who will help you be your own decorator and coordinate your decor with the type and style of your choice. We carry a grand line of occasional furniture which will add that extra special touch to every room in your home.

Miss Wolbarst-Mr. Taylor Wed at Martha-Mary Chapel

The Martha Mary Chapel in Sudbury was the recent setting for the marriage of Miss Joyce Ronnee Wolbarst to Kirman Ronaki Taylor.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney A. Wolbarst of Painesville, Ohio, the groom's parents.

The Rev. Peter Holdorf officiated at the two o'clock afternoon double ring service. A reception took place at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Renaissance styled gown of white crepe. Her chapel mantilla was styled of lace and she carried a bouquet of daisies with white tea roses caught with cascading ribbon.

Mrs. Michael L. Altman of Newton Highlands, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Diane Leigh Taylor of Painesville, Ohio, sister of the groom, was the other attendant.

Serving as best man was William Hirsh of New York. The ushers were Michael L. Altman of Newton Highlands, brother-in-law of the bride, and Robert Holman of Action.

After a honeymoon in Nassau, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are living in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Berman told his colleagues that he will move out of Newton in the very near future.

He expressed his regret at the necessity for the decision and declared that his service on the School Committee had been "a privilege" and one of the most important of his life experiences.

Mr. Berman has served on the Newton School Committee for four years and was its chairwoman for more than a year.

It is understood that the vacancy his resignation will create on the School Board will be left unfilled until the voters elect his successor next November.

The School Committee ordinarily does not meet during the summer, and it is felt that the appointment of a new School Committee member would give that person an unfair advantage in an election contest for Berman's seat.

Newtonites To Summer Jobs In Washington

Two Newton students are among the 75 named last week by the President to work as Executive Interns this summer in government offices in Washington.

Chosen from more than 16,000 students who qualified by taking civil service examinations and on the basis of their school records and fields of interest were James L. Wolbarsht, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Wolbarsht of Newton and Caroline Poplin, 22, of Newton Centre.

Wolbarsht, majoring in economics at Harvard, will be assigned to the office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense, Installation and Logistics at the Department of Defense.

Miss Poplin, an English Major at Bryn Mawr College, will be assigned to the agency for International Development as an Assistant to the Executive Secretariat.

$22,500 Voted For Study Of Population of Schools

The Newton School Committee on Monday night voted to award a contract for $22,500 to General Learning Corp. of New York City for a demographic study of the city.

The study will attempt to project future school population trends in Newton so that steps can be taken to balance the pupil enrollments in the various schools.

At present many of the city's schools are overcrowded, but some others are not filled to capacity. When the study is completed, decisions will have to be made about what steps should be taken. There could involve such controversial measures as a redistricting, bussing, open enrollment and possibly some new construction.

Assistant to the Superintendent Henry Atkins said that beginning last summer several firms and institutions were contacted regarding the study. In the fall the School Committee put $20,000 into the budget to pay the costs.

The requirement asked of the firms and institutions were that they have some system for projecting population by elementary school districts into the high schools, Atkins said. In addition, they had some system to recommend procedures to relieve pressure areas.

Tag Days
Raised $611 For Cerebral Palsy

Nuncio Pellegrine and Joseph Capalbo, Co-ordinators of the Rainbow Tag Days held in Newton last month report that the affair was successful and that $611 was raised for the Cerebral Palsy Building Fund.

Mr. Pellegrine publicly expressed the grateful appreciation of the members of the Board of United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Boston to all who helped in this special event, including the students at Our Lady Help of Christians, and the volunteer group of teenagers who continually support the programs of the Cerebral Palsy Association.

PTA Council To Introduce New Officers

The final meeting of the Newton PTA Council will be held tonight, Thursday evening, June 5, at Bigelow Junior High School.

The business for the evening will include the acceptance and distribution of officers' and committee chairmen's annual reports and the introduction of the new officers.

The officers for 1969-1970 are: President, Peter Scott; 1st Vice President, Charles Jacobs; 2nd Vice President, William Geer, Principal of Newton South High; 3rd Vice President, Champ Fisher; Executive Secretary, Mrs. Stanley Charren; Recording Secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lohan; Treasurer, Marvin Cantor.

Following the business portion of the meeting, Guidelines the new PTA handbook, will be presented and discussed in group workshops.

This handbook attempts to outline the duties and responsibilities of the PTA officers and committee chairmen. Herbert Callahan, Chairman of the handbook, urges all outgoing and incoming officers and committee chairmen to attend.

About 200,000 secondary school students are involved in cooperative arrangements with industry, working on jobs on a released-time basis, according to Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz.

Hopkins said the inconvenience of the transfer is the main complaint. Shea said that "some persons in the employ of the city exaggerate" when they say elimination of the street cars at Newton Corner will alleviate the problem.

Williams reined his white stallion away and galloped off.

Wright caught up with him but it took the aid of three more policemen to get Williams off the horse. He was charged with violating an 1872 act of being drunk while in charge of a horse and was fined $14.40.

5 From Newton Get Degrees At Lesley College

General Learning Corp. was recommended to conduct the study, Atkins stated, because they appear to have the facilities, staff and experience required. They recently completed a similar study in New Haven, Conn.

Committeeman Vincent Stanton said he is not convinced "this study will be meaningful to me." It begs, in part, the important political question of what the School Committee is willing to do about such controversial matters as bussing, etc. Also the staff must define what they consider to be excess space in schools. Stanton indicated the study was "premature."

Committee members Edwin Hawkridge and Mrs. Norma Mintz agreed that these decisions must be made, but expressed the view that it will be easier to make them when more information is available.

Swinging Weddings Are New in Japan

By SHOTA USHIO

TOKYO (UPI) — Wedding on a beach. Wedding in front of a railway station. Wedding attended by the bride and groom's children. A former stage actress and magazine writer has gone into the business of producing unusual wedding ceremonies in a nation long accustomed to conservative nuptials.

Miss Motoko Yamanobe, who is in her upper 20's, drinks her sake (rice wine) on the rocks and has never gotten around to marriage herself.

One of her weddings was performed outdoors on a beach, a hill or on the grass," she said. "Brides and grooms are dressed in long flowing gowns worn by Japanese nobility in the eighth century.

The most expensive cameras are designed to set the correct lens opening automatically. Without this type of camera, a light meter to measure the intensity of the sunlight is a big help.

Lens filters are also inexpensive aids. They filter out certain light rays and improve the contrast and sharpness of photos. They aren't always necessary for color photography, but help considerably with black and white pictures.

The yellow filter (K2) is the most popular. It adds contrast and sharpens the outline of clouds in the sky. A red filter (A) adds a touch of drama to pictures. An ultraviolet filter (UV) lessens the bluish tint caused by water and sky.

In addition to providing pictures of the boat, its occupants and memorable cruises that will be enjoyed for years to come, there are several other instances where a camera is helpful. For example:

Pictures are an aid in teaching beginners boatmanship and improving the boatman's own techniques, especially in racing.

The Internal Revenue Service accepts photographic evidence to substantiate losses due to fire, theft, hurricane, etc. It also allows a reasonable cost of taking these supporting photographs as part of a justifiable claim.

Pictures of the boat and such valuable equipment as compass, radio, depth finder, etc., help authorities track down through pawn shops, second-hand dealers and fences, if they are stolen.

Boating

An adjustable camera that can be set for action-stopping fast shutter speeds is an asset. Stopping the action overcomes — at least partially — one of the difficulties of boating photography, camera movement resulting from the pitch and roll of the boat.

South's Tennis Team Is Edged By Weston, 3-2

In what could have been a preview of the state tournament finals, Newton South High's tennis team was edged, 3-2, by Weston.

Weston, which owns a victory over Newton High as well as a previous win over South, established itself as the number one seed in the state team tourney, beginning this week. South and Newton will be the most difficult roadblocks the Wildcats will have to negotiate.

The 3-2 triumph over the Lions could have easily gone the other way. Sophomore Dave Cohen remained undefeated in 13 matches, scoring South's first point in a 6-1, 6-0 victory from the top singles spot.

All Starr, in second singles, was nipped, 6-4, 6-2, but cousin Bill Starr came back in the third singles position to take a 6-1, 6-2 decision. However, Ken Miller and Andy Levin were dumped, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3 and Paul Cohen and Bob Kellner fell, 9-7, 6-2, for the deciding points.

Red Sox Scouts In Stands As Newton Whips Reading

By JEFF GROSSMAN

There were Red Sox scouts in the stands at Dickinson Stadium last Saturday as the Newton High baseball team battled Reading in the first round of the Eastern Mass. Tournament.

The scouts, farm director Neil Mahoney and scout Sam Mele, had come to look over Reading's star pitcher Dave Merullo and their fantastic outfielder John Doherty.

Merullo was 6 and 1 and Doherty batted over .500 for the visitors this year.

And the scouts must have come away impressed — by Newton baseball in general and Ron Arcese and Norm Westlund in particular.

The Tigers won the game 7 to 2 and completely dominated the contest from the bottom of the first inning on.

Last year Reading captured the Class A title.

Arcese provided a great deal of the offense while Westlund picked up his eighth win in nine decisions this year.

The lefty started slowly in the first inning giving up a pair of hits and a run but settled down and went uncathed until the eighth when he was touched for another run.

Paul Britt came on and finished up in the ninth.

Captain Arcese was his usual outstanding self. During the season the St. Louis University-bound senior batted .345 and had only two errors out of 132 chances at shortstop.

Saturday Arcese hit a three run homer to left and singled, while playing flawless defense.

The Orange and Black actually won the game in the bottom of the first with a three run rally. Arcese added his three run blast in the fifth frame.

In other first round action, Lynn Classical beat Keith Academy, 6 to 1, Peabody won over Lawrence Central, 7 to 4, and Quincy defeated Boston English, 4 to 2.

New Bedford and Durfee won by identical 1 to 0 counts over Braintree and Norwood respectively. Newton South just made it past Stoneham, 2 to 1, and Somerville outlasted Boston Latin, 12 to 10.

South's budding hopes were shattered, though, as Newton High, tuning up for defense of its state title, demolished the Lions, 9-0. The loss set the Lion mark at 1-7, with two matches remaining.

Newton Wins 10th Suburban League Title In 11 Years

Casualty riddled Newton High track team still managed to cop the Suburban League track title and place fourth in the Class A Meet.

The Tigers gained a first, a second and third thirds on their way to the fourth place finish behind winner Brainerd, second place Weymouth and third finisher Lexington.

Last Tuesday the squad defeated Brockton, 81 to 59, and won their 10th Suburban League title in 11 years. The score is deceiving, however, as Newton competed without three top men.

Saturday, two of them, Bill Clarke and Joe DiSeglio competed while the other, Al Boyer didn't.

Another walking wounded, Don McMillen was Newton's only winner in the class meet as he captured the long jump with a 21'6" effort, the longest of his career.

McMillen's jump was tied but he won on his second best jump which was better than that of the second place finisher. McMillen's chance for a double win was thwarted when his leg tightened up and he pulled up in the 100 yard final.

A surprise second place was taken by Bill Clarke. Clarke, running in only his third race of the year (he too had suffered leg difficulties) came strong at the end to cop the four point finish.

The Experiment, established in 1932, has representatives in more than 60 countries involved in the annual exchange of some 5,000 young men and women between the United States and 100 nations around the globe.

be better equipped to advance in their lifetime the mission of the Holy Spirit in the world.

"At a time when other men are finding it necessary to lay down the responsibilities of the priesthood and the prophets of doom are crying out that the church is failing to pieces, young men like Father Leonard are taking up those responsibilities and, by so doing, are publicly professing their hope and confidence in the future of the priesthood and the future of the Church.

They are doing so with a Christian joy and optimism that the rest of us would do well to imitate, especially in these days when there seems to be so many in the Church who can see nothing but storm clouds, even when the sun is shining. The challenge that these young priests face is a gigantic one. As we move into the 1970's, we would do well to listen carefully to what these young men are saying.

"They may say the wrong words at times and even do the wrong things. But it may well be, and probably is, true that the Spirit of God is speaking to us through them."

Concelebrating the Mass with Father Leonard were Rt. Rev. John J. McManamon, Pastor of Our Lady's, Father McNally, Very Rev. Msgr. James E. Tierney of the Metropolitan Tribunal, Rev. William Leonard, S. J. of Boston College, Rev. Clyde Leonard of Franklin, a cousin of Revs. Paul Scribner, Westwood, William D. Coughlin, No. Chelmsford, Philip J. King, St. John Seminary, and Richard Donahue, Natick.

Deacon was Rev. Mr. Paul Deffley of St. John Seminary; and lector was Joseph Antonelli also of the Seminary.

Seated on the altar were Rev. John Quinlan, Pastor of St. Thomas the Apostle, Peabody, Revs. David Bonfiglio, Robert Flaherty, and William Quesley, all of Our Lady's, Newton.

Choir was under the direction of Richard Osgood, Organist; folk music was fed by Leo Delicata with William Finucane and Marie McDade playing guitars. John Desimone was soloist. Offertory procession was made

11 Students Are Post-Confirmants At Temple Reyim

A music listening station will soon be available to Newtonites at the Main Library Building, as the result of a gift from Friends of the Newton Library.

Mr. Henry Bates, head of the Newton Free Library, accepted a check for three hundred dollars from Walter Rosenfeld, retiring president, at a recent meeting of the Friends of the Newton Free Library.

"I'm very grateful that the Friends are making it possible for the Library to offer this new service," Mr. Bates said upon accepting the gift. He explained that the listening station will provide posts for three people to hear three different selections at the same time from the Library's expanding record collection. Records may also be borrowed from the library to be enjoyed at home.

After presenting the gift to Mr. Bates, Mr. Rosenfeld welcomed the new president of the Friends of the Library, Mr. George Michaels of Auburndale. Mr. Michaels, an attorney, has been active in the leadership of the Friends since the group was first organized. His wife, Mrs. Barbara Michaels, is the Library's newly elected director of publicity, who recently brought honor to

In place of the usual sermon by the Post-Confirmants, the Congregation participated in a period of creative meditation, introduced by Miss Lucy Sologub, in which some of the class members spontaneously shared their thoughts.

Jackson L. Parker, Temple President and teacher, presented the class. The certificates were awarded by Bernard H. Shulman, Director of Education of the Temple Shalom Religious School.

Other officers elected for the 1969-70 season of the Friends of the Newton Free Library are: Mae Takayangi, Harriet Avery, and Mary Lewis Hansen, vice-presidents; Barbara Kamar, corresponding secretary; George Brewer, treasurer; and Miriam Freedman, recording secretary.

VFW Post 2384 Elects Officers

Thomas A. Medaglia of 11 Cappy Circle, West Newton, was re-elected and installed last week as commander of the Sgt. Eugene J. Daley Jr. Post 2384 of the Newton Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Also installed for two year terms were Senior Vice Cmdr. Edward Woloski; Junior Vice Cmdr. Anthony Dance, Adjutant Christopher Butler and Quartermaster Erwin Beal Jr.

The post also elected delegates to the State Department of the VFW convention to be held June 20 through 22.

The installations ceremonies were held at the Newton War Memorial Building, with dinner at Valle's Steak House in Newton, followed by a tour of Boston harbor.

Medaglia is a native of Newton and educated in local schools. He has business establishments in Newton Upper Falls and Wellesley Hills. He and his wife, Jeanette, have two children.

Medaglia entered the Army soon after the attack on Pearl Harbor and served with combat engineers in the European Theater from 1942 to 1945.

During his past term as commander, Post 2384 has exceeded the VFW State Department membership quota. He also instituted a community program on pension assistance.

The program includes educational, hospital, domiciliary care, burial allowance and Social Security benefits for veterans and widows. Applications are processed by the post service office and filed directly with the Veterans Administration.

David Gibson, Doctoral candidate at Boston University, will accompany the chorus and soloists and will present two concert numbers at the piano, and join with Hazel Trask, Director of the Junior Choir of the church, in a "Four-Hands" piano number. Karen Shires, teacher and instructor of violin from the North Shore, will be the guest violinist for the evening.

There will be no admission charge for the concert. A free will offering will be accepted with the proceeds to be used for the purchase of new choir robes for the Sanctuary Choir.

Men's Wear . . .Regency-Edwardian Are Often Confused

in Beau's day were high-standing, almost like a horse collar and usually tapered into V notches. So if you see a high standing collar you can safely call it Regency.

Well, unless it is Napoleonic, which was roughly the same era. Some versions of this trimmed and rolled collar are called Napoleonic when it is combined with the belted waist and epaulets, the big new trend in rainwear. The same Napoleonic influence is seen in various topcoats and don't be confused if someone calls a coachman's collar — it is the same thing.

Edward VII came along 75 years later, a fashion-conscious swinger who ruled in a court of opulence and pageantry. Edward was, to put it mildly, portly, and he chose to correct his figure faults through fashion rather than diet. He wore long, fitted jackets with inverted pleats to give himself a leaner, trimmer look, and a fashion which is now called Edwardian.

The silhouette is this: a pronounced shaping at the waist, flared skirts on the jacket, a longer jacket and bigger arm holes. And the collars lie flat, not at all like the high-standing Regency ones. It reflects the fastidiousness of the elegant Edward who was known to change suits as many as 12 times a day.

Because of the Edwardian elegance, many modern designers go to his era for inspiration. Current evening wear, for example, uses such opulent fabrics as velvets and furs. There are deep, rich colors including emerald green, royal blue and ruby red in dinner jackets.

Shiny buttons and gold braiding, all part of the past glitter, are frequently used as trimmings. And, as in the Edwardian Era, they were accessorized with fancy shirts — ruffled and laced and embroidered.

So, as Miss Chicca put it, the well dressed man can now wear what was indeed once considered fashions fit for a king.

Treasures In Store For Visitor to Bogota

By MURRAY J. BROWN

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) It took a Spanish expedition more than two years to fight its way from the Caribbean coast through hundreds of miles of jungles and mountains to reach this 8,600-foot-high plateau in the Andes. Only 136 of the 900-man force survived the march more than 400 years ago.

The Spaniards were looking for El Dorado when they pushed into the uncharted interior from Santa Marta. They never did find the fabled "Golden One" or his city of gold high in the sky but the survivors founded Bogota, now the capital of Colombia.

Today, you can fly into Bogota in comfort aboard Avianca and other international airlines jet planes in six hours from New York, three hours from Miami and about one hour from Santa Marta, Cartagena and Barranquilla on Colombia's Emerald Coast.

And there are treasures in store for the modern-day visitor to this city sprawling across the broad savannah in the shadows of rugged mountains deep in the interior of the South American Republic.

Bogota offers fine hotels and restaurants as befits a bustling metropolis of more than 1.2 million, bargains for shoppers and historical and other points of interest.

The Museo de Oro (admission 12 cents) with collections of pre-Colombian golden and jeweled ornaments and burial artifacts dating back some 5,000 years and valued at more than $30 million. Masks, breastplates, nose rings, ear plugs and figurines of gods, birds, fishes, reptiles and animals attest to the craftsmanship of Chibcha, Quimbaya, Tairona, Darien and other long dead goldsmiths.

Armed guards keep close watch for souvenir hunters. But you can buy exquisite 18-carat reproductions of some of the unique ornaments for about $20 up.

Also worth visiting is the National Museum with its collections and exhibits tracing the history of the Indians and their predecessors down through the pre-Christian era.

Preserved also is La Quinta de Bolívar, an 18th century colonial mansion amid lovely gardens. The one-time home of Gen. Simón Bolívar is now a museum containing his uniforms and other possessions and original furnishings.

How to give your teenager $100,000.00

If you and your son or daughter are trying to decide whether or not he or she should attend college, keep this thought in mind:

"The average college graduate will earn in his lifetime $100,000.00 more than the average high school graduate!"

A College Education is extremely important in today's competitive market. Yet, it is expensive. To help with the financing of a college education, the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company has inaugurated an ASSURED EDUCATION LOAN PLAN whereby you can borrow the money you need to make sure your youngster will attend college.

Here are a few of the advantages of the Assured Education Loan Plan:

1. One Loan can pay expenses of up to 4 years of education — a total of $10,000.
2. The total program you select is protected by life insurance.
3. You can spread the cost over as many as six full years.
4. This fund can cover tuition, room, board, books, clothing, travel, and other related educational expenses.
5. Interest payments are tax deductible.
6. You need not be a depositor in our bank to apply for an Assured Education Loan.

Stop in at any of our 21 neighborhood branches in Newton, Waltham, Wayland, Weston, Natick or Marlboro and ask for the free brochure entitled "Finance College Years."

This may be the most important step you take to assure your child's future.

Honors

Sister Husson, R.S.C.J., was tendered a standing ovation by the class — A surprising gesture in these times when acts of disapproval of college presidents are disturbingly common.

Announcement of the fund was made by Miss Shanley, who was spokesman for the drive and its chief instigator. She said:

"I should like to address my remarks especially to Sister Husson, as well as to all our guests. I speak not only for my class and for the present students of the college, but for all the students who have had the privilege of living and working at Newton during the years of Sister Husson's presidency."

She replied she was grateful that "next year a young woman who completes her studies at Newton will have assistance to do something she would really like to do, as a completion or extension of her Newton College years."

"As a concrete and (we hope) appropriate expression of our gratitude and appreciation, we have arranged to establish a Sister Gabrielle Husson Fellowship Fund. Every year hereafter there will be announced, at Commencement, a grant to be made from this fund to a member or group of members of the graduating class. The grant will amount to no less than five hundred dollars and is intended to help launch or sustain a project for fulfilling some contemporary human need. Those to whom the awards are made must themselves be personally involved in and committed to this project in some way."

"All those who contribute to this fund, which we hope will grow larger in time, will be continuing the work most characteristic of Sister Husson: inspiring others to act courageously and rationally, to meet problems as they arise, to be always alert to how those problems change, and to make every personal effort to solve them."

"I am proud and grateful to represent all those who join me — Trustees, members of the administration and faculty, students, the Alumnae Association, the Janet Stuart Guild, the Father's Club, librarians, secretaries, housemothers, switchboard operators, the buildings and grounds men and the dining room staff — In other words, the Newton College family — in making to Sister Husson this first contribution of $12,000 for the Sister Gabrielle Husson Fellowship Fund."

Sister Husson — Unaware of both the fellowship drive and the goal Miss Shanley's committee had determined and did reach — Was taken appropriately by surprise overwhelmed by the Fellowship in her name had the standing ovation in her honor.

She replied she was grateful that "next year a young woman who completes her studies at Newton will have assistance to do something she would really like to do, as a completion or extension of her Newton College years."

Sunday marked Sister Husson's last Commencement as president. Her 13 years of leadership will end with her resignation, effective this month. But in the Husson Fellowship, the educational continuity she always strived to maintain for Newton College will be, in a very personal way, preserved.

Ruth Louise McLaughlin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. McLaughlin of 225 Tremont St., Newton, is a graduate of the Stockbridge School with the class of '69. A graduate of Presentation Academy, she was a student of Laboratory Animal Management. She is recipient of the Gold "S" award for leadership in class activities.

Garbage Firm Deficit Is $300 Weekly

Collecting garbage in Newton is costing the garbage collector $300 a week but Anthony Capello, of Capello Brothers, Inc., said "It's to our advantage to struggle through this year and renegotiate next year."

Two weeks ago, the Board of Aldermen defeated a request by Mayor Monte G. Basbas to pay Capello Brothers money above what the contract calls for on the three-year contract which has one year left to go.

Capello said he is being hit hard by increased costs due to inflation and the general cost of living increase.

Capello Bros. Inc., was the lowest bidder for the contract two years ago. The bid was $182,000 annually. The next lowest bid was $245,000.

The mayor asked the board to approve a 10 percent increase in the $182,000 figure, $12,299 for the next nine months initially, with an agreement that an additional five percent would be added next year.

The contract would have been extended for a fourth year. However, by a one-vote margin, the Board denied the request after a short debate on political contributions.

Capello said he didn't see anything wrong with political contributions. He said the amount involved was only $800 and that the alderman who was most critical, Sidney T. Small, "was playing politics."

Small was critical of Basbas for requesting the Board to up the contract in view of the fact that Capello had made a contribution to the Mayor's campaign. He also said he considers it "improper" to negotiate contracts rather than placed them out to bid.

City Seeks Private Bids For Rubbish Collection

In a step toward implementing the Booz, Allen & Hamilton report on city operations, Newton recently advertised for bids for rubbish collection.

The B&H report concluded that $300,000 to $400,000 could be saved by use of a private contract. More efficient labor use was the reason cited.

If the rubbish were collected by a private company about 100 city workers would be affected. Mayor Basbas said there isn't a plan at the present time what to do with the men. But he thought attrition might take care of some of them.

Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt said that if there is satisfactory bidding and the city decides to end collecting its own rubbish, then the 29 city-owned packer trucks would be turned over to the contractor as part of the deal.

Basbas said bidding was asked because "we would like to see what it will cost us, see what bids come in. Then when we have some idea we'll go before the Board of Aldermen to request the money."

Another public hearing on the controversial dog leash law will be held June 24, although, by law, it is not required.

Ald. Melvin J. Dangel, of Ward 3, chairman of an aldermanic committee studying the problem, said the committee decided to hold the additional public hearing because "we have a petition before us."

The petition was submitted by Miss Marion S. O'Brien, of 12 Troy Ln., Waban, containing more than 100 names. The petition asks the aldermen to modify the law in order to allow dogs free-rein at certain times of day.

They contend the law is a hardship to the aged and infirm, particularly in bad weather, and discriminatory in that it punishes the good dogs as well as the bad.

The hearing will be held at 8 p.m. June 24 in Newton high school.

Basbas, Shea To Inspect Bridge Site

Mayor Basbas and Ald. H. James Shea, Jr., will join today in a 10 a.m. inspection at Newton Corner to aid in planning for a footbridge.

Shea, in accepting Basbas' invitation, expressed the hope the inspection would expedite construction of the bridge.

The proposed footbridge, at the intersection between Hubbard's Drug Store and the library and the interior of the turnpike intersection, has been advocated by Shea and Newton Corner citizens. The residents hope that the pedestrian walkway will be built in conjunction with the construction of the $12 million air rights facility now being built.

Mayor Basbas has requested $100,000 from the Board of Aldermen for the bridge. The Board hasn't approved the request, as yet.

Assistant Chief Timothy D. Herlihy is in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Rubin said, "We are pleased that in recent weeks voters have been careful to sign petitions exactly as their names appear on the voting list, but we are still concerned about the high percentage of invalid signatures."

Mayor Basbas Says:

Pay Scales For City Jobs Need Periodic Adjustment

Mayor Basbas said last week he would like to have a study made of all city positions with a view toward reclassifying them on the pay scale.

He said in collective bargaining this year, every city department had complaints that their employees were not in the right classification. He said it has been 10 years since the city has had a salary study and job reclassification and it might go a long way toward eliminating unrest.

Basbas said it was too late to do this year, but meanwhile, he will ask for a department review to see what can be done toward reclassification for next year.

"I think it should be done periodically," he said.

He voiced the opinion as police voted to compromise in their salary demands and to ask the city for a $9000 maximum yearly salary.

Basbas said if the figure is accepted he would make it apply to the firemen as well.

Firemen three months ago accepted $9000 but police sought $9500.

The mayor also said there has been some discussions between the police negotiators and the city about

16 AMERICANS KILLED, 160 WOUNDED AS REDS ATTACK CAMPS

NORTH VIETNAMESE hurled explosives and blazed away with a flamethrower Wednesday to break through the outer defenses of a U.S. Army camp. They killed 14 Americans and wounded 32 before defenders hurried back the attack. In another action, North Vietnamese soldiers assaulted a U.S. Marine camp behind a barrage of mortar fire and grenades but did not break through the Marine lines. Military spokesmen said the two battles cost the Americans 16 dead and 160 wounded.

Viet Cong Transformed Into 'Provisional Government'

IN PARIS the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front announced Wednesday it had transformed itself into a "provisional revolutionary government," dedicated to pursuing the war "until final victory." U.S. Chief Negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge, apparently convinced the communists do not want to engage in serious peace talks, was reported by American officials to be seeking Washington's permission to take an extended vacation. A Viet Cong broadcast announced the NLF had invested "all power and authority" in the newly-formed revolutionary government of South Vietnam and that a new delegation would take over in the peace talks in Paris.

CAMBODIA DEMANDS $8.6 MILLION IN WAR DAMAGES FROM U.S.

CAMBODIA has demanded $8.6 million in war damages from the United States along with its agreement to renew diplomatic relations, the official Khmer news agency said Wednesday in Phnom Penh. The report said damages were caused by defoliants used by American aircraft searching out Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troop concentrations along Cambodia's frontier with South Vietnam, an area of numerous rubber plantations. Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state, announced Tuesday that his nation was renewing diplomatic relations with the United States, starting with an exchange of chargé d'affaires. Relations between the two nations have improved recently as a result of both U.S. agreement to respect Cambodia's borders and increasing Communist activity in Cambodia.

ITALIAN COMMUNISTS REJECT SOVIET UNITY DOCUMENT

THE ITALIAN Communist party, the largest in the West, spurned the Kremlin at the 75-nation Communist summit Wednesday, ridiculing the idea of a single world Communist movement and denouncing the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia and Russia's anti-Chinese position. The Russians replied that "individual voices of dissent are drowned by the voices welcoming and approving" their basic course. At the same time, the Soviet foreign ministry accused Communist China of trying to upset the conference with reports of provocations on the Sino-Soviet border.

PEKING CLAIMS SOVIET TROOPS PROVOKED BORDER CLASH

THE PEKING GOVERNMENT claimed Wednesday Soviet troops provoked a border clash and then sent an armored column knifing into Communist China, but the Russian version of the incident put the blame on the Chinese. Peking radio said Wednesday the Russians probed near one of Red China's major oil fields and about 500 miles from her main nuclear and missile testing site at Lop Nor. The Chinese filed a protest note with the Soviet embassy in Peking and the Soviet foreign ministry delivered a note in which it rejected the Chinese protest.

CONTROLS NOT CONSIDERED AS ALTERNATIVE TO SURTAX

THE WHITE HOUSE, contradicting Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy, said Wednesday President Nixon had no intention of considering wage-price controls if Congress refuses to extend the 10 per cent surtax. Sec. Kennedy told a news conference Tuesday that such controls would be considered among other alternatives as a means of controlling the economy if Congress rejects Nixon's request to extend the surtax beyond its June 30 expiration date. But White House Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler told reporters Wednesday that the administration has said before and he would reiterate that there were no plans to call for wage-price controls if a surtax extension is turned down.

USS EVANS SKIPPER TESTIFIES IN PROBE OF COLLISION

THE SKIPPER of the destroyer Evans told an investigating board Wednesday at Subic Bay Naval Base, The Philippines, he was not informed of the change of station which led to the ramming and sinking of his ship by the Australian carrier, Melbourne. Cmdr. Albert S. McLeodore said he was asleep just behind the bridge when the Melbourne rammed the Frank E. Evans in waters south of Vietnam before dawn on June 3. But McLeodore said there were standing orders that he was to be awakened if his ship was ordered to change its position. He told the board that Lt. (j.g.) Ronald G. Ramsey, 24, the man in charge of the ship at the time of the collision, had qualified formally for duty officer of the deck 10 days prior to the collision at sea in which 74 members of the crew were killed.

A EXPERT SAYS EMPLOYEES DISCIPLINED FOR TRYING TO CUT COSTS

AN AIR FORCE efficiency expert told Congress Wednesday Defense Dept. employees are sometimes disciplined for trying to cut costs because the Pentagon wants to keep its contractors prosperous. A. Ernest Fitzgerald told a Senate-House economy in government subcommittee that employees who try to economize are subjected to undesirable transfers and other forms of retaliation. He said in 20 or 30 of the biggest defense plants, the government permits prices to be higher than elsewhere. "The government knowingly allows them to charge higher prices to keep their plants open," he said. "This is done in the name of 'maintaining capability' which means to keep the contractor in business."

RADICAL SDS ANNOUNCES CONVENTION SITE — CHICAGO

THE RADICAL Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) on Wednesday threw down the gauntlet to Chicago and announced its 1969 national convention, which has been barred by campuses throughout the nation, would be held there beginning June 18. "We don't want any trouble, and if there is any it will be caused by Mayor Richard J. Daley and his fascist pig police," said Bernardine Dohrn, an SDS national secretary. A spokesman for Daley said he knew of no special provisions which the city would make for the convention of the student radicals. Chicago was the site last August of bloody clashes between police and demonstrators during the Democratic National Convention.

PUSEY APOLOGIZES TO ROTC CLASS MEMBERS

HARVARD UNIVERSITY President Nathan M. Pusey, appearing unexpectedly, apologized to 57 graduating members of the Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) Wednesday for attempts by demonstrating students earlier this year to rid the school of on-campus military training. Pusey told the graduates in dress whites he wanted them to know the school was "proud" of them and added he was unsure of the future fate of ROTC at Harvard. ROTC was downgraded in April to extracurricular status. As Pusey spoke, one of three students expelled for participating in the campus uprising told a news conference several blocks away that disciplinary action taken Monday against 135 demonstrators was an attempt to "smash" SDS.

MONTE G. BASBAS

Fishman Is Critical Of Ballot Form

Rep. Irving Fishman (D.-Newton) today criticized the listing of incumbent city officials' names on a specimen ballot displaying the new voting machines to be used in the municipal election November 4.

Fishman, an announced candidate for Mayor of Newton in the forthcoming election, said that he welcomes the test of the new voting machines to facilitate balloting and tabulation of the votes, but "the listing of the names of incumbent city officials on the voting machines to be displayed in the eight wards and 33 precincts of Newton gives the incumbents an advantage which is unfair to other candidates."

Rep. Fishman suggested that "until the actual specimen ballots of all candidates to be voted on next November can be printed, fictitious names should be used for display purposes to demonstrate the use of these new machines."

Fishman concluded that "the present administration has an obligation to refrain from using the display of the new voting machines in any way that will give it or other incumbent city officials a campaign advantage for purposes of re-election."

Mayor Basbas Points To Record In 3rd Term Bid

Representative Irving Fishman recently disclosed his intention of opposing Mayor Basbas in the November election.

In his statement the Mayor reviewed his handling of the city's affairs and problems during the past three and a half years and cited what he considered the highlights of his administration.

Mayor Basbas asserted that he instituted a number of programs "which made Newton a better place in which to live." He said he established the first city-wide Crime Prevention Committee.

In discussing his record, Mr. Basbas asserted that he built the new Bissell Junior High School and has had additions constructed to several elementary schools.

The Mayor observed that the school budget has risen 36 per cent during his administration while the cost of operating the other city departments has gone up 21 per cent "even though our tax rate is still lower than 19 of the 39 cities in the Commonwealth."

The text of the statement in which Mayor Basbas announced his candidacy for reelection follows:

"Four years ago, when I first sought this office, I set up a 10-point program to meet the challenges then facing the City of Newton.

"In the 3 1/2 years since, time allowed - we have in my non-partisan administration has worked programs which have, in fact, steadily to meet these and the many new challenges that have appeared. I think the record will show that in the

Police Chief Stops Games At Carnival

Thee games at a Newton carnival were closed by Police Chief William F. Quinn Monday night because he considered they were violating the state's anti-lottery law.

The games all involved putting up money in order to win a prize.

"In my opinion," the Chief said, "they were games of chance rather than skill."

The carnival is authorized by the United Cerebral Palsy Association and is being operated by Somerville and Peabody men.

Chief Quinn said the charitable group gets a percentage of the take in the amusement rides, generally in such cases, but gets a fixed fee in the booth games. "That's where the money is made," he said.

He explained, "we're not really hurting the Cerebral Palsy Association, but stopping the carnival operators from making a large profit from the public."

The Chief said he left the games of skill at the carnival open.

The carnival is being run in a lot on Watertown St. and Chief Quinn said he had been asked by Mayor Basbas to "check it out."

The three games closed down were described by the police as 1) A ball toss. There are 16 different colors on a board located behind a roped off area. Where the ball stops is the winner.

2) The jewelry pitch. Small pieces of jewelry are attached to a spinning wheel. Money is placed on a number and if the wheel stops on that corresponding number then an item is won.

3) The stop and go flasher. There are six numbers on a wheel. A light flashes around and if the number on which it stops is the same as the number on which the players have placed a coin they win a prize.

PTA Building Committee Wants Architects Fired

The Newton PTA Council's building committee has called for dismissal of the architects for the new Day School.

In a report presented last Thursday night at the Council meeting in Bigelow junior high school in Newton, the committee said, "the development of plans for a new Day Junior High School has been a fiasco."

The report was presented at the Council meeting Thursday night by Dr. Gilbert Friedell, chairman of the Council's school building committee.

The report stated that although the need for the new Day school becomes increasingly evident, the city should move promptly to dismiss the present architects and hire new ones, reconsider the site and, if possible, select a new one, and do everything possible to expedite the planning and construction of the new Day Junior High.

In addition to Dr. Friedell, the Council's building committee includes three architects: K.E. Alexander, co-president of Mason-Rice PTA, Charles Jacobs, vice-president elect of the PTA Council, and Dr. N. Michael McKinnell.

Others on the committee are Mrs. L. Tillman McDowell, committee co-president and a past president of the Newton High School PTA; Leon Jaffe, engineer; Mark Gordon, former Day PTA president; Mrs. Robert Mooney, chairman of the Lincoln-Eliot PTA building committee and Mrs. Gershon Rosenblum, former president of Carr PTA.

Herbert Regal, outgoing Council president, said that Mayor Basbas had called him after receiving Friedell's personal letter and the report.

The Mayor told Regal that the architect for Day was originally hired by the then Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and was retained as architect at the request of the then superintendent of schools, Dr. Charles E. Brown, and John E. Gilleyland, assistant superintendent for business services.

An appendix to the report indicates that "the letter of intent authorizing the architects to prepare preliminary drawings for a new Day Junior High School is dated Aug. 29, 1967, and - as far as we can tell - was sent by Mayor Basbas. The architects had been asked by Mayor Gibbs in Jan. 1964 to study the question of rehabilitating Day, together with the possibility of an addition but the studies of new construction by these architects were, to the best of our knowledge, commissioned by Mayor Basbas."

Dr. Friedell pointed out that the School Building Assistance Bureau approves school plans on the basis of space requirements, insisting on the adequate square footage of a building. It does not pass judgment on architectural quality.

Dr. Friedell said, "It is appalling that suddenly 12 of the 31 schools in Newton are found to be overcrowded and inadequate. The recent report to the School Committee on the status of school buildings dramatically underscores the fact that the building and maintenance of school facilities is a problem which concerns citizens in all parts of Newton, not just those in one particular school district."

The body of the report makes specific suggestion for Tenant rents are determined on the basis of 20 per cent of their annual income, with a minimum of $55. per month for a one bedroom apartment, $60. per month for a two bedroom, and $65 per month for a three bedroom. Tenants will pay directly to the Housing Authority.

"We have an obligation which the Newton Housing Authority certainly wishes to fulfill," he said.

The Authority will lease apartments for the program which meet housing code requirements and which rent in the vicinity of $75-$125 per month for a one bedroom unit, $100. - 145. for a two bedroom unit, and $120. - 175. for a three bedroom unit.

Mr. Manin also states that the Authority would like as many low income residents as possible to file applications so that the Newton Housing Authority will be better able to appraise for the City of Newton.

"In view of the minimal progress in the plans and the continuing deficiencies in design, we suggested in February that the School Committee consider recommending to the mayor that he either appoint new architects or request the architects to acquire an associate architect for design."

At that time the Council building committee reiterated an earlier recommendation that a person with architectural expertise be hired by the School Department to work continuously with the Day principal and faculty.

Regarding the Newton High School that report reads:

"(1) We believe construction of Newton High School should proceed as rapidly as possible. The current schedule calls for the job to get out on bid by Oct. 15 (some six months later than the date publicly set last year as the target date) with construction to start in December of this year.

"(2) In view of rapidly rising construction costs, the city must be prepared for the possibility that all bids will be above the budget estimate made over a year ago. However, we believe any further reduction in the size of the school or its facilities would guarantee the inadequacy of the building. We strongly feel that air conditioning (including air cooling) must be provided in most areas in this building. To do any less would be false economy.

"(3) We suggest the retention of Building 3 as a possible

Testimonial Here Honors Herb Connolly

Newton Mayor Monte G. Basbas, at a recent testimonial in Newton honoring Governor Duval and Newton resident Herb Connolly presented the popular auto dealer with the Key to the City of Newton in recognition of his outstanding services to his fellow men.

The purpose of the testimonial for Mr. Connolly was to raise funds for the Christian Lay Apostolate World Volunteers, a worldwide service and relief agency aiding the hungry and destitute of the "third world," the undeveloped nations of the globe.

The Greek sculpture Apollo Belvedere was discovered in the last part of the 15th century.

Says:

When you air condition your home, you are not really cooling it — rather you are removing heat. That is why an air conditioner has to be mounted in a window or thru the wall so that the heat removed can be discharged outdoors. And that is why air conditioners are rated by BTU's — to indicate how much heat they can remove. One of the main things to remember is that the correct size is very important, and the tendency of a salesman to sell you a larger unit than you need is the worst thing he could do. As a matter of fact, if you are going to make a mistake, it is better to have a unit a little too small than too large. But why make a mistake? Just come to us and we will make an accurate BTU survey for your rooms.

Editorial . . .Purposeful Generation

It was heartening to note at last Saturday's commencement exercises of Boston State College that there were no protests and there were no males with long hair. Even though all the 1250 graduates wore caps and gowns, spectators knew which were the girls and which were the young men.

The majority of the large class is expected to enter the field of education, becoming teachers in Boston and in schools in the surrounding suburban area. Thank the good Lord our children will be taught by such young men and women whose sense of values haven't been distorted.

As one dean at the college said: "Our kids have very definite goals. They know where they are going."

Perhaps the principal reason for the level-headedness of the graduates of Boston State — and the vast majority of graduates of other state schools — is that they know the value of an education.

They know that their four years of higher education have been subsidized by the taxpayers of the Commonwealth and that without such subsidization, they might not have been able to go to college.

Most of the graduates of state colleges throughout Massachusetts come from middle class families operating on tight budgets where both parents are forced to work in order to maintain a decent standard of living. Often as not, the parents are not college graduates but have impressed the need of higher education on their children.

Having been indoctrinated by the parents, having seen how hard their parents have worked to maintain the home, the children have gone to college with a singleness of purpose — to get an education and a chance at a better life.

Because of their own goals, they have not had the time nor the inclination to worry too much about the ills of society and for this, some may condemn them. But, though they may not have raised their voices in protest against the injustices still prevalent in our "Great Society," they are very well aware of them.

We feel that in their own quiet way, as responsible members of society, they will strive to right them.

Vacation Time Again

For the young, there is no freedom to compare with that which comes with the closing of school.

The exuberance of the young as they savor release from the necessary disciplines of the classroom is a wholesome thing to see.

This is pure escape, the kind that adults dream about but never achieve.

Even for the kids, pure untrammeled freedom loses its shine in the latter days of summer when the "nothing to do" stage sets in.

Freedom, to be enjoyed, must be earned, and even then, its richness is lost where there is no ultimate sense of direction or minus factor such as household or yard chores that tend to preserve an appreciation of freedom.

The ending of the school year, and the watching of the kids in their new-found freedom and the manner in which they use — and abuse — that freedom, should have a special meaning for the adult world today where freedom is being used and abused in ways no one could have foreseen a few short years ago.

Wendell Bauckman Honored By Newton Junior College

At the Newton Junior College Commencement exercises held at Meadowbrook Auditorium Sunday, June 8, Mr. Wendell R. Bauckman, President of the Board of Aldermen in Newton, was given the President's Citation by President Charles W. Dudley.

The granting of the President's Citation, an innovation in the Commencement ceremony of the College, represents the greatest distinction the President can bestow.

Mr. Bauckman's introduction read: "Your enthusiastic, dedicated, and distinguished service to the Newton community has enriched the City and has inspired your many friends and neighbors for nearly three decades.

Graduate of Newton High School and Norwich University; you have the unmatched record of over twenty-five years of continuous service to the City of Newton, as elected member of the Board of Aldermen — and as President of the Board and acting Mayor.

A resident of Newton for over fifty years and lifelong member of the leather industry, you have drawn upon your experience and wisdom in guiding many civic and benevolent projects in behalf of all the citizens and students of the Newton community.

As a true believer in the merits of Newton's Junior College, you have promoted this concept in many ways; by unmatched attendance and participation in the functions of the College, by your many acts and deeds in support of the College, and by your many words of hope and confidence — as the College looks forward to a future of continuing service and educational contribution to the City of Newton.

What the Governor probably will do will be to arrange for a friendly House member, presumably a Republican, to submit a proposed 2 per cent hike in the sales tax.

Then maybe the Legislature will pass a tax program, and the Governor will "reluctantly" sign it into law.

Nixon Startled By Reaction To Air Force Academy Blast

President Nixon and his advisers were startled at the unfavorable reaction to Mr. Nixon's speech at the Air Force Academy in which he leveled a sharp counterattack at critics of his military and foreign policy.

The speech apparently ended the President's "honeymoon" with several U.S. Senators.

From where we sat it sounded as if President Nixon was aiming a strong blast at Senator Edward M. Kennedy.

But other Senators thought Mr. Nixon was hitting at them, and they didn't like it.

Among the things the President learned were that a great many people consider there is nothing sacred about his military policy which makes it immune to criticism and that there is substantial public dissatisfaction with the pace with which he is moving toward peace.

The Air Force Academy speech was no spur-of-the-moment declaration by the President. It had been in the making for a month and had been carefully discussed.

One reason President Nixon was stunned by the poor reaction to his speech was that he had tried it out on the members of his Cabinet and they had okayed it.

It seems somewhat naive to expect that even the bravest and most independent thinkers among the Cabinet would speak up and tell the boss he had a bum speech and had better forget it.

The unfortunate aspect of the situation from Mr. Nixon's standpoint is that he made his blunder at a time when there was a growing acceptance of him as President.

Richard M. Nixon has never been a truly popular

"At long last de-escalation has become a fact rather than a phrase," declared Brooke.

On what Senator Brooke based his observation that the de-escalation of the war in Vietnam is now a fact, is not clear to this observer. Such an appraisal hardly seems warranted by anything which was said or done.

Presidents Nixon and Thieu said that progress toward peace and the improvement in South Vietnam's fighting ability would allow the United States to begin the withdrawal of 25,000 men.

Nobody said anything about de-escalation. The fact is that we probably have more men in Vietnam than are actually needed.

Greater progress toward peace than this would be needed to cause any real public jubilation.

5 Per Cent Sales Tax Seen As Possible Tax Compromise

Some time before they end their 1969 session the members of the Legislature will enact a tax program in order to balance the state's budget.

Present indications are that they will not be in any hurry about doing it.

The guessing on Beacon Hill is that a 2 percent increase in the sales tax will be the keystone of the tax plan finally adopted.

Governor Sargent, of course, knows this but so far has been reluctant to advocate a boost in the sales tax.

His caution in the matter may be open to question. Former Governor Volpe waged a hard-nosed, 14-months campaign for the approval of the original sales tax law and then was overwhelmingly reelected.

Leaders in the Legislature have no intention of accepting Governor Sargent's challenge that they come up with a tax plan of their own.

They're quite satisfied to sit back and wait for Mr. Sargent to submit Tax Bill No. 2.

The big objection voiced by the law-makers to Governor Sargent's original tax proposal was that it placed too much weight on the state income tax and would have made too big a dent in pay envelopes.

However, even after a 14 per cent surcharge on personal income was knocked out of the tax package, the bill was overwhelmingly rejected.

What came as a surprise to many observers was that only 15 Republican legislators voted for the Governor's bill while 51 GOP law-makers reported themselves against it.

Another paradox was that Democratic Speaker David M. Bartley voted for the Republican Governor's tax bill while GOP House Leader Sidney Q. Curtiss voted against it.

In fact, Governor Sargent might have achieved the passage of his tax bill if he had lobbied effectively among the House members of his own party.

Here are some intriguing figures on how the Democratic and Republican House members recorded themselves on the Governor's tax program:

For the bill: 71 Democrats and 15 Republicans.

Against the bill: 85 Democrats and 51 Republicans.

Those figures would suggest that the Governor didn't strain any political muscles or break any whiplashes in his efforts to line up Republican votes in support of his tax plan.

How quickly the Governor will submit another tax bill is uncertain.

But if the new measure is substantially the same as the one which was killed, it will be interpreted as evidence that Mr. Sargent is not anxious to be known as the architect of the tax program even though he argued that the tax plan the House killed was "the most equitable he could devise."

What the Governor probably will do will be to arrange for a friendly House member, presumably a Republican, to submit a proposed 2 per cent hike in the sales tax.

Then maybe the Legislature will pass a tax program, and the Governor will "reluctantly" sign it into law.

Mayor

"From the very first day, I have called on the wealth of talents found among our citizens to help me seek new and better solutions to our problems. Over 1000 Newtonites have responded, regardless of political affiliation, and are giving of their time to serve on various committees established by me covering such subjects as:

school and library sites, conservation, housing, community relations and zoning for the balance of Norumbega Park, among others.

"I established the first city-wide Crime Prevention Committee in the country and have set up a group to study the problem of drugs and what we can do about it. And, to capitalize on the expertise of City Hall personnel, I was the first Mayor to establish weekly meetings of department heads as an unofficial "Cabinet" to improve communications and efficiency.

"These are a few of the some 20 areas where I have enlisted the aid of our highly qualified citizens — to a greater extent, I think than any previous chief executive of our City.

"With their help - and the help of our Aldermen, School Committee and members of City government - there is no municipal problem that has not received our attention.

"After years of neglect, we have a new Bigelow Junior High School and additions to several elementary schools. Initial plans and a bond issue have been approved for a new Newton High, which should be ready for bid in October.

Preliminary plans and a bond issue have been authorized for a new F.A. Day Junior High to be started the first of the year.

"Responding to a growing concern for open spaces, mine was the first administration to chalk up positive acquisitions of important land areas for this purpose. Two parcels alone, totalling 107 acres in the Hammond Pond Parkway area, were purchased in the past two years. Additionally, we have just acquired over 4 acres from the Turnpike Authority for a much needed recreation

From a sophisticated theatergoer comes the suggestion that eating a light meal before the theater and having supper afterwards makes theatergoing more enjoyable. The pre-theater light meal keeps one from that uncomfortable too-full feeling which is inclined to make one sleepy during the performance. Supper afterwards is a grand way to relax and further savor the pleasure the performance has given. After-theater suppers can also be a delightful way to entertain and are quite the "in" thing.

Dinners at THE HIGHLANDS RESTAURANT, 1114 Beacon Street, Newton, 332-4400 are always a delightful way to spend an evening. Every Friday evening we have a fashion show for your enjoyment. Mr. Lipof is engaged in commercial real estate management in Greater Boston. He is also a director and officer of the Mt. Vernon Co-operative Bank, and serves on the board of directors of the Longwood Credit Union.

Lipof graduated from ministration. They demonstrate, I believe, a firm commitment to recognizing the needs of the City, to dynamic action in meeting them and to finding ways to finance them with minimum impact on the taxpayer.

"Obviously, in times such as these — with change and demands for change besetting us at every turn — much remains to be done.

"One of our important problems, I am convinced, is the tax burden on the home owner. During my term of office we have seen our School budget jump 36 per cent and the cost of operating all other City departments, under my supervision, rise some 21 per cent — even though our tax rate is still lower than 19 of the 39 cities in the Commonwealth.

"We — and all other cities — must question the need for every service provided or demanded by our citizens and citizens groups. Increased long-term planning — especially of capital items — is essential. We must also find other sources of income, especially Block Grants.

"To offset initial costs of some of our programs, I have actively sought State and Federal funds. In acquiring 107 acres of the Webster Estate (worth over $1,000,000), I was able to keep the direct cost to Newton's taxpayers to a minimum of $250,000.

"In providing Leased Housing for some of our low and moderate income families, we are receiving Federal subsidy and, through another Federal program, we are hiring college students for summer work at a cost to us of only 15 per cent of their salaries.

"Further, we have applications pending for financial assistance to acquire open spaces adjacent to Cold Spring Playground and for the construction of the Auburndale Elderly Housing project.

"Of course, Federal and State subsidy is not the whole answer to keeping costs down, and we have taken steps to increase the efficiency of our government.

"We have provided — for the first time — a Director of Program Performance Budgeting who will help us operate a better controlled budget. Our data processing and computer use has been greatly enlarged. With Aldermanic authorization, I am seeking an Industrial Engineer who will improve the operations of our Public Works Department and I have also established the office of Finance Director to coordinate the City's financial activities.

Miss Stevens-Mr. McCarthy Wed at Our Lady's Church

A trip to Washington, D.C. and New York City followed the recent marriage of Miss Louise Marie Stevens to Kevin M. McCarthy, which took place at Our Lady of the Presentation Church, Brighton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Clifford H. Stevens of Brighton and the late Mrs. Theresa F. Stevens. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCarthy of 158 Derby road, West Newton, are the groom's parents.

The Rev. Leo Nolan officiated at the three o'clock nuptials which was followed by a reception at the V.F.W. Post Hall in Watertown.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a pure silk satin gown marked with jeweled Alencon lace appliques. A matching satin petal headpiece held in place her bouffant illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white flowers accented with greens.

PTA Council To Release Publication On June 16

FOCUS—PTA, a brand new publication sponsored by the Newton PTA Council, will be released the week of June 6. The focus, coordinated by the Daniel Kunitz; Emerson Mrs. Communications Committee, fills a long-time need, the problem of communications among the individual PTA's. It will serve Mrs. Thomas Jones; Mason, as a medium for the exchange of ideas between local schools and as a source of information on subjects pertinent to PTA.

The first publication, entitled "WHY PTA?", explores the varied opinions and reactions to the general concept of a parent-teacher organization, the pros and cons, the advantages and disadvantages, with direct quotations from parents and teachers included.

The publication, printed by the Production Center, Newton Public Schools, represents contributions from the individual PTA's, submitted by a reporter from each school.

The reporters for the first issue are: Angier, Mrs. Robert Conley; Beethoven, Mrs. Leonard Finger; Bigelow, Mrs. Richard Barron; Bowen, Mrs. Donald Brooks; Burr, Mrs. James Peghiny; Cabot, Mrs. Robert

May-Time Frolic Held At Church

The members of the 1326 Club who gathered at the Unitarian Church of West Newton at 1326 Washington Street on Friday the 23rd, frolicked in the Pagan Manner of time pre-dating current religions.

After greetings by Mrs. William C. Richardson, the fun began. A race to create may baskets of beauty (won by Mrs. Lorne MacHattie) was one group, while a round of Folk Dancing whirled under the direction of Ben and Shari Bergstein at the centre spot and the maypole dancers spun at the other end of the social hall.

Under the skillful direction of Bob and Shari Bergstein the dancing became fast and furious with English, Spanish, Russian, Israel, Irish, and foreign and home-grown Indian dances.

The colorful spring decorations of Cahill Specials and special lighting turned the assembly room into a bower of beauty. In contrast with modern Rock and Roll, the music charmed young and old (ages ran from eleven to seventy-six) to become a band of carefree merrymakers.

As befits the mood of Maytime, a character depicting "The Spring Food" mocked the assembly while over all the bright tones of flute music filled the hall as dancers exhausted, made for the cooling refreshment and gorged on cookies, decorated in the same spring colors.

When dancing resumed, Greek and Albanian movements, under Ben's tricky arranging continued till interrupted.

In the spirit of Alfred Noyes "The Lord of Misrule," who had staged the riot, took over and closed up the evening.

The Newtonites responsible for the evening were:

Arranging Mr. and Mrs. William C. Richardson, Music Mr. and Mrs. Lorne MacHattie, Decorating and seating Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foulkrod, Refreshments Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rose, Dancing Ben and Shari Bergstein, Publicity Mrs. Katherine Holgart.

The June Party of the 1326 Club will be under the chairmanship of Sandy and Betty Latner.

2 Graduate At Graham

Michael F. White, son of Dr. and Mrs. Melvin F. White of 382 Hammond St., Chestnut Hill, and Robert B. Veduccio, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Veduccio of 168 Tremont St., received the Associate in Applied Science Degrees at the Graham Junior College recently.

White, a business administration major, was a member of the hockey team at Graham. Veduccio, a communications major, also was a member of the hockey squad.

Those on-going blood donors might check their calendars, because eight weeks from now they are eligible to give again. If every donor planned to, and did give every 8 weeks, there would never be a blood shortage.

The Red Cross blood program warns that another shortage could develop over the summer period unless all the donors pitch in and give during the vacation period.

Mrs. Sue Skoler of the Oak Hill Park Association was the blood representative. She and her crew prepared supper for the volunteer workers and the team that came from the Blood Center.

Mrs. Walter LeVine and Mrs. Earl Atkinson were the Newton Red Cross Blood supervisors for the day. They were assisted by Mrs. James Blackall, Mrs. Leslie Little, Mrs. Payson LeBaron, Helen Ludlow, Margaret James, Mrs. Adele James, Mrs. Walter Irvine, Mrs. Ed.

One hundred and thirty-three persons came to the Memorial School in Oak Hill to donate blood. Those who donated their blood are covered for one year. Also, members of the Oak Hill Park Association who donated blood have seen to it that members of the association are covered for their blood needs for the coming year.

Those on-going blood donors might check their calendars, because eight weeks from now they are eligible to give again. If every donor planned to, and did give every 8 weeks, there would never be a blood shortage.

The Red Cross blood program warns that another shortage could develop over the summer period unless all the donors pitch in and give during the vacation period.

Mrs. Sue Skoler of the Oak Hill Park Association was the blood representative. She and her crew prepared supper for the volunteer workers and the team that came from the Blood Center.

Mrs. Walter LeVine and Mrs. Earl Atkinson were the Newton Red Cross Blood supervisors for the day. They were assisted by Mrs. James Blackall, Mrs. Leslie Little, Mrs. Payson LeBaron, Helen Ludlow, Margaret James, Mrs. Adele James, Mrs. Walter Irvine, Mrs. Ed.

One hundred and thirty-three persons came to the Memorial School in Oak Hill to donate blood. Those who donated their blood are covered for one year. Also, members of the Oak Hill Park Association who donated blood have seen to it that members of the association are covered for their blood needs for the coming year.

Students At Mason-Rice In Hub Trip

Telescopes, cokes, escalators, elevators and Mr. Marshall were the high spots of a recent trip taken by a group of children from the Mason-Rice School in Newton Centre in conjunction with a group from the John Winthrop School in Dorchester.

Sponsored by the Educational Collaborative, a organization encouraging Urban-Suburban contacts, Mrs. Hildebrand's second grade from Newton Centre stopped by for Mrs. Barber's second grade in Dorchester and together they traveled to the Prudential building.

Mr. Marshall, Brian's father, received much attention from both groups of children as he was the first father to venture forth on one of these expeditions. He was a great help and assisted the large group at all points.

The fountains on the street level were tempting as it was a hot day, but the novelty of the escalators proved to be an inducement to move on toward the tower. The rapid elevator produced shrieks of both excitement and fear, while the telescopes on the Skywalk were an immediate success.

After looking out at the city and talking about some of the landmarks, the group reversed direction and headed for the ice-skating rink where the delivery of chilled cokes had been arranged.

While waiting, one youngster looked incredulously back up at the building and asked, "We been all the way up there?" The affirmative answer pleased him and after the refreshments, the enthusiastic group climbed back into the bus for the trip home.

Wild Melee Erupts As Newton Defeats Lynn Classical, 6-0

By JEFF GROSSMAN

The Newton High baseball team literally fought their way to the Class A Eastern Mass. Title as they defeated Lynn Classical 6 to 0 last Saturday at Legion Field, Bridgewater.

The contest, marked by a free-for-all and ejections, was Coach Howard Ferguson's fourth Class A title team. This Saturday Newton will play the winner of the Western Mass. final's for the State Championship.

The classic pitching dual between Newton's Norm Westlund, 8 and 1 versus Classical's undefeated Bob Cronin, really never developed as Cronin's wildness and his team's lack of support (five errors) gave way to Newton's overall strength.

Westlund, on the other hand, won his ninth game giving up only two singles and walking one while whiffing eleven.

The Tigers actually won the game in the first by registering a run. Indoor track man Rich Echlov walked and quickly stole second. Colin Clapton moved Echlov to third on a fly out and Captain Ron Arcese delivered Echlov with a single.

Newton scored two more in the second and one in the wild fourth. With one out and the bases loaded Echlov dropped a Texas Leaguer into left. The speedy Echlov over-ran first and was tagged out.

Meanwhile, Chuck Pendegast, the only Newton player to connect for two hits was trapped between second and third. Seeing this, Ernie Asaff broke from third and ran right into Classical catcher Mike Carroll.

Jolted by the collision, Carroll dropped the ball and Asaff scored. Carroll, upset by Asaff's hard but perfectly legal tactics jumped the Newton leftfielder and both benches emptied.

It was soon broken up and Carroll was ejected.

Another ejection took place in the seventh. With Newton leading by the final 6 to 0 count, the loser's Bob Remson, unhappy over a call used what Umpire Ed Pigeon termed "foul" language after a warning was given to him so he was thrown out.

The last and only time Coach Ferguson has won a State Title was in 1955 and the hope around Newton is that that will be updated this Saturday.

How They Got There

Newton's wild win over Lynn Classical last Saturday epitomized Newton's tournament play. Either you were squirming in your seat over the excitement of this "no tomorrow" tournament or you were marvelling at the Tiger batsmen who could generally do no wrong.

The Tigers opened the series by clobbering defending champ Reading, 7 to 2. Westlund was superb on the mound while Ron Arcese had three hits including a three run home in the fifth.

Next came the Newton South contest which went over four and a half hours and 14 innings and which ended in a 4 to 4 tie.

There were clutch performances and key plays all around on both sides. Colin Clapton, a firstbaseman by trade went 9 2/3 innings in relief of ace Norm Westlund and gave up a single run.

By the end, Clapton was visibly worn and his fast ball seemed to almost float to the plate but he somehow held the South offense in check.

On the other side, South's Jim Gamble did the same in a seven inning relief stint of starter Frank Hurvitz. Hurvitz, like Westlund, had pitched nine innings on the previous Saturday to advance in the tourney.

Hurvitz also tired. He slowed his pace markedly in the latter innings and the NHS batters finally figured him out in seventh. Trailing 3-0 the Tigers rallied for 2 runs and might have had more if weren't for a double play that had him clustered around it on both sides.

Clapton and Arcese opened with singles and catcher Jon Marcus bounded into the twin killing. Wargin, Asaf and pinch-hitter Jethro Mills all came through with hits to score two runs.

South retaliated with a run in the eighth. Clem Virgilio singled and advanced on a sacrifice and a fielders choice and scored when Ron Arcese's throw from short on Frank Hurvitz's grounder went wide of first sacker Bob Wargin.

The bottom of the eight saw Newton come back with a run. Clapton walked, pilfered a second and scored on a Ron Arcese single. Arcese went 21 for 21 through the tourney and knocked in 12 runs.

The ninth produced a hero for Newton. With runners on second and third and the count 1 and 2, Rich Echlov beat a chopper down to shortstop Emmons Levine.

Bob Wargin, who had occupied third, scored and Echlov reached first in a hurry. Chuck Pendegast, who had been on second, took too big a turn around third and Levine alertly got him in a run down, sending the game into extra innings. Previously, Echlov had struck out four times.

For five more innings the game went on with each inning invariably bringing a sure run-producing situation only to have something or someone thwart the effort. The game was finally called because of darkness.

Due to graduation, the game was to be played in its entirety the next day at 12:30. A huge throng surrounded the field as the interest in the game in the school probably was the same or exceeded that of the Brookline football game which was to decide the Class A title.

And it was funny how much difference a couple of hours could make. Newton came out and strong-armed their way right past South 12 to 1. In this game South's weakness, lack of pitching depth, really showed.

All season they had gotten by mainly with Hurvitz and Gamble and on Wednesday they had no one to pitch. Their third pitcher, Thurston Tartar hadn't pitched in a week and when he was called on he wasn't effective. Shortstop Emmons Levine started on the mound for South.

Newton's Jethro Mills was just untouchable. The ball was moving for him around the plate and in five innings of pitching NSHS couldn't manage a run. Dick Cunningham finished, in an obvious move to have Mills for a later pitching assignment.

And that assignment came the next day as Newton routed New Bedford, 13 to 1, to gain the final against Lynn Classical. Mills was again impeccable. He entered the game with three on and one out in the fifth and retired the side.

Hitting stars for the victors were Ron Arcese and Colin Clapton who both went 4 for 5 at the plate. The game was called in the seventh when the game was obviously out of New Bedford's reach.

Lions, Tigers In 14 Inning Standoff - NHS Wins Replay

By LEWIS FREEDMAN

It can be said that Newton South literally "squeezed" past Middlesex League champion, Stoneham, 2-1, in the first round of the EMass Baseball Tourney.

Frank Hurvitz executed a perfect squeeze bunt down the third baseline to chase catcher Ken Stuart home with the winning run in the top of the ninth inning.

Southpaw Jim Gamble and Stoneham ace Mike Asaf hooked up in a brilliant pitching duel. Each hurler permitted just five hits while fanning nine. Both pitched scoreless ball until the 9th with all the scoring took place.

The Lions tallied two runs in the top half of the ninth. First-baseman Lou Miller walked. Gamble forced him at second. Stuart singled. Sophomore Virgilio singled to right, and Stuart scampered to third and subsequently scored on Hurvitz's bunt.

With two outs in the bottom of the 9th, centerfielder Dave McDowell smashed a triple. Tom Smith singled him home but was out trying to stretch his hit into a double.

South's victory coupled with Newton's win over Reading set up a quarter-final confrontation between the two Suburban League representatives.

The two teams battled through 14 innings for 4 hours and 35 minutes with no result.

At the end of a long afternoon and a healthy portion of the evening the score was deadlocked at 4-4.

The Lions broke a scoreless tie in the visitors' half of the fifth with three runs. Bruce Gorton tripled, then John Lopez bunted him home. He was safe at second when the throw went into the outfield. Tom Rezzutti scored him with a single and went to second when his hit was misplayed.

The game was replayed a day later, June 4, because Hurvitz and Gamble had each thrown over 100 pitches a day earlier. South coach Neil McPhee was forced to put regular shortstop Emmons Levine on the mound. Levine had hurled only one inning all season.

The replay was Newton all the way. The Tigers worked over four Lion pitchers for 12 runs on nine hits, nine walks, and two hit-batters.

Newton put the game out of reach early with a three-run first, three-run second, a lone third, and five more in the fourth.

Rezzutti and Stuart accounted for two hits apiece for South, but the Lion run came off the bat of Jim Gamble - a 450-foot smash that landed on the cinder track in right field.

Newton South ended its season with a 13-6 mark.

YMCAs Sports Awards Given At Recent Annual Banquet

The Young Men's Christian Association of Newton held its annual Sports Award Banquet on Thursday, May 22, 1969, at the Cottage Crest Restaurant in Waltham. There were one hundred and thirteen men present for the affair.

The guess speaker was television personality Bill Coleman, whose unique wit captivated the gathering.

The banquet was the culmination of a long, hard season of handball and squash. It gave the Newton Y.M.C.A. the opportunity of honoring the participants by presenting trophies to the outstanding players.

More importantly, however, the evening had a greater significance, since the Annual James McAuliffe Sportsmanship Award was presented for the first time.

This award was created by thoughtful friends to honor the memory of James McAuliffe, a former M.D.C. policeman and long-time member of the Newton Y.M.C.A. He died suddenly at the Newton Y.M.C.A. His son, Jay McAuliffe, was present to award the trophy to the man who best displayed the qualities of a good sportsman throughout the year. The winner for 1969 was William A. Whitfield.

The other men who received awards that evening were:

HANDBALL — Class A Singles: 1. Lou Gayzagan, 2. Don Champagne, 3. Sam Garafalo, Class A Doubles: 1. Gayzagan and MacDonald, 2. Hayes and Maloney, Class B

Singles: 1. Bill Miller, 2. Joel Baseman, Class B Doubles: 1. Ganley and Whitfield, 2. Joe Torchia and Jim Brennan, Class C Singles: 1. Bill Lurie, 2. Ed Yabaccio, 3. Vincent DiNatale, Class C Doubles: 1. Richard Brogalino and John DiRenzo, 2. Alan Bufford and Saul Beaumont.

Dr. Gores At Lasell College . . .

"College Degree No Passport To Suburbia," Speaker Warns

A college degree today should not be viewed as "a passport to suburbia, to a husband, children, a station wagon and a suburban hedge behind which you can hide and watch the rest of the world go by." Harold B. Gores told 303 graduating seniors at Lasell Junior College today. Dr. Gores, formerly Superintendant of Schools In Newton, is now President of the Educational Facilities Laboratories, New York, an agency of the Ford Foundation.

"Get involved," he urged. "Only you, from outer suburban space, can make the difference, can make the central city a good place for good people to live. If you care about America, you've got to care about West Roxbury, Harlem, Bedford-Stuyvesant and South Chicago."

Dr. Gores was principal speaker at Lasell's 114th annual Commencement exercises held outdoors under a tent on the college recreation field. Some 2000 students, parents, alumnus and friends attended.

"America's future," he continued, "is being fought out in our central cities whose only salvation is the suburbs. Our central cities cannot save themselves by themselves. It is in the suburbs that the leadership and the money resides."

"Unless the suburbs volunteer to help the central city, not with money alone but with human concern, the cities go down and with them go the rest of us. The metropolitan community is organic and it cannot be of good health with a bad heart."

Degrees were presented to the largest graduating class in Lasell's history by Miss June Babcock, Dean of the College and Acting President, with the help of Mrs. John Van Etten, Senior Advisor.

The Chairman of Lasell's Board of Trustees, Wilder N. Smith, presided at the ceremonies while Invocation and Benediction were pronounced by Dr. Winslow F. Beckwith, Chairman of Lasell's Department of Religion and Philosophy.

Three senior students were awarded the coveted Lasell Jacket as "ideal Lasell girls," an honor based on nomination from the students themselves. They were: Martha Clapp of Timonium, Maryland; Cynthia Rinklin of Babylon, New York; Janet Sheffer of Orelan, Pa.

resigned from the School Board because he is moving out of Newton.

He served for four years as a School Board member from Ward 6.

Mrs. Mintz has been a member of the School Committee for seven years. She was first appointed to fill a vacancy on the Board in 1962 and was elected in 1963, 1965 and 1967.

In addition to her service on the School Committee, Mrs. Mintz is a member of the Board of Directors of Newton Junior College, METCO, and the National Committee for the Support of Public Schools.

Active in civic affairs, she has served as vice president of the Claflin School PTA, vice president of the Newton PTA Council and on the Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters and the Newton Community Center.

In commenting on her retirement, Mrs. Mintz said:

"The years of service to Newton and its public schools have been personally very rewarding.

The association with colleagues, professional educators, and interested citizens have provided opportunities for insight and learning around the problems confronting public education today.

"Two areas which will continue to preempt much time and effort on the part of the School Committee, professional educators, and citizens revolve around those problems having to do with rising school costs and public policy making.

"The increasing costs of financing public schools will impose the necessity of renewed efforts to change and modify the tax base on which public education is dependent for its support."

"The schools can not continue indefinitely to be tied to revenue from the property tax, particularly in Newton where very limited growth in total assessed valuation can be expected in the future. Both federal and state support must be increased."

"The increased participation of citizen groups, teacher organizations and students in questions of public policy are creating new challenges for school boards across the country.

"In Newton, not only is greater communication important, but new processes must be developed that involve in significant ways larger segments of the community in the decision making process."

"Newton with its long commitment to high standards and its wealth of interested and talented citizens has the resources to respond to these challenges in positive and creative ways," Mrs. Mintz declared.

New Trials Decreed In Yanes Slaying

New trials have been granted four young men serving life in Walpole State Prison for the 1966 slaying of Morris J. Yanes of Newton.

The U.S. Supreme Court set aside the conviction of one man who was named in the confession of a co-defendant.

The state court said the new requirement "illustrates the complexities which now attend the prosecution of those allied in a criminal enterprise, and the burdens which it imposes on the courts and prosecuting authorities alike."

The four at Walpole are David C. Carita, Sabation A. Fondanova, Francis B. Lynch and Paul J. Wise. They were convicted of the murder of Yanes during a holdup Feb. 3, 1966. Yanes, a clerk in a Dorchester liquor store, engaged in a gun battle with one of the holdup men and was killed.

During the trial, the girl friend of one of the defendants said Fondanova told her Carita was the one who fired the fatal shot.

The high court opinion said that a decision of the U.S. Supreme Court on May 20, 1968, "compels us to hold that

Meadowbrook News

By JANICE E. KAPLAN

The school year is now announced as winners: Kenny Brayman, president; Bob Meadowbrook has activities planned to the end. The senior drawing will be performed tomorrow (Friday, June 13). It is written, directed, and presented entirely by ninth grade students. The musical

"How To Succeed In Meadowbrook Without Really Trying". It is an excellent play which many students have worked very hard on.

A new constitution for Meadowbrook was recently passed by the students. Steve Karol and Margie Lipson headed a committee which planned the constitution. It includes a Senate from each of the four divisions, and one main federation.

The federation will be similar to the present council in that it is the main student governing body of the school. It will have supreme power over all the committees.

Elections have taken place for next year's federation officers. After a close race the following students were an-

John D. Young, a member of the Newton Lower Falls Development Study Committee seemed to echo the sentiments of most of those present. He said, "let private enterprise do something with the property that does not cost the taxpayers any money."

John F. Lovely of Waverly Pl., who also favored the rezoning petition, said he owns two parcels and that his daughter and son-in-law own one on the easterly side of the land in question. They also intend to submit a petition to rezone their property from residential to business, he said.

Sixteen property owners from the area raised their hands in favor of the rezoning request by Roach. None were opposed.

Roach claims that he has been offered $4 a foot for the property for which he says the Redevelopment Authority paid him less than $1 a square foot.

A petition by Robert L. Dwyer and Newton Buick Co.

for a change of zone and permission to park customers from Framingham (shopping center) to Boston Commons. The total distance being twenty-two miles. Students got sponsors who pledged anywhere from five cents to dollars for each mile walked. The group earned over 25,000 dollars! All students who participated found it to be an exciting and enjoyable experience.

Next year's cheerleaders have been chosen. All girls who wished to try out for cheerleading attended practices where they learned two cheers, jumps, and all that is expected of cheerleaders. There were a great many qualified girls, but only ten could be picked. Congratulations go to Mary Baraban, Ellen Bernstein, Susie Cohen, Amy Feldman, Margie Frank, Debbie Friedlander, Lori Goldberg, Emily Kirschen, Ruth Salkovitz, and Susie Sternberg.

School assemblies are often boring, but not anymore at Meadowbrook. There is now a group of "Assembly Girls". They dance and sing at the assemblies and help in every way to entertain. Richard Levine started the group this year, and because of its success it will be continued in the future.

House trips this year were many and varied. About two hundred fifty students spent one day at Martha's Vineyard. Two houses enjoyed a weekend at a farm in New Hampshire. Other trips ranged from a five mile nature walk to spending a day in playing baseball. Several individual pictures were taken by Meadowbrook students. The editor-in-chief was Nancy Israel.

The ninth grade group picture was recently taken. It will be available soon. The French classes went off to practice their French in Canada. Money for most of exciting year at the trips was earned by the Meadowbrook. Great thanks students through sales.

Meadowbrook's literary who have contributed to all magazine, Horizons, is now on the fun.

Temple Reyim President Is Honored Here For Devotion

H. John Silver, president of Temple Reyim, West Newton, was presented a scroll by Jacob Stein, Chairman of the National Enrollment Plan, in tribute to his "devoted leadership to his synagogue and dedicated service in behalf of the American Jewish Community."

Presentation was made at the Synagogue Leadership Dinner at Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, at which presidents and leaders of Conservative Synagogues in New England assembled to discuss the many far-reaching educational programs of the Seminary.

Most of the presidents were leaders of congregations affiliated with the Seminary's National Enrollment Plan, in which congregation members contribute to maintain and expand the Seminary's services and programs.

Highlighting the dinner were the remarks of Jacob Stein on ferment among the nations' youth and the role that Judaism and the Seminary play in providing a faith relevant for today's troubled times.

A correlative passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, explains: "The divine Mind that made man maintains His own image and likeness."

Raises Most Money for Charity

Warren Jr. High 7th Grade Division Wins

Division I-11 of Warren Jr. High in West Newton raised the most money for charity in a contest for the second time this year. Last winter they raised money to help an inner-city school by selling student-designed Christmas and Hannukah cards. In their most recent winning effort the division exceeded their previous total of $310.00 by $470.00, collecting some $780.00. $500.00 of this money went to the Biafran Relief Fund and the remaining $280.00 to the St. Francis DeSales School in Roxbury.

The contest was sponsored by the student council under the leadership of James Walline, its faculty advisor, and was entitled the Ugly Man Contest. All divisions in the school competed against one another to see which one could raise the most money for their own favorite charity. Some of the means which I-11 utilized to raise money were washing cars, selling candy, a "white elephant" sale, two game booths, a bake sale, soliciting contributions, and sale of a student-initiated guide to teachers' summer vacation addresses.

Determining an "ugly man" was one of the activities engaged in by the students during the school fair on May 17th. At the fair (the purpose of which was to help divisions raise money), the ugliest made up student and his makeup committee were voted on and are to share in the winners' prize — a day at Fenway Park with the Boston Red Sox.

The faculty advisor for Division I-11 was Don Shelton, one of Warren's art teachers. I-11 thanks Mr. Shelton for his enthusiasm and encouragement throughout the contest. "We couldn't have done it without him!" say the members of the class.

Fifty Attend First Meeting By Newton Citizens For Clean Air

More than 50 interested Newton citizens attended the first public meeting of Newton Citizens for Clean Air recently at Grace Church in Newton Corner. They represented clubs, civic agencies and organizations throughout the city.

Frank A. Howard, M.D., physician, Instructor in Medicine at Harvard University Medical School and member of the Concerned Scientists of M.I.T. Miss Laura McMurray observer for the Committee for a Better Environment of Harvard University.

Mrs. William L. Kierstead of Newton Centre, co-founder with Dr. Melvin First, associate professor at the Harvard School of Public Health, chaired the meeting.

Dr. First gave a short illustrated talk on the needs for a clean air group in Newton, and demonstrated that open air burning by homeowners a significant contribution to air pollution, particularly in the immediate neighborhood.

James Dallas, Director of Air Use Management of the State Dept. of Public Health, spoke on the function of his department in collecting data on the meteorological and topographic features of the region and its sources of air pollution on a regional basis.

He cited a lack of enforcement capability as the primary reason for the lack of a statewide ban on domestic open air burning; and urged that local communities address themselves to this problem. Open air burning by residents in private dwellings is the only source of pollution still under local jurisdiction.

Mrs. Kierstead read the minutes of the Newton Citizens for Clean Air meeting of April 23, which helped serve as a basis for the discussion and question period which followed.

Lt. William Fitzsimmons, Chief of Fire Prevention of the Newton Fire Department, answered questions concerning the local ordinances. He pointed out that enforcement of local bans on open air burning has not worked in the past and are unenforceable.

A slate of officers and a board of advisers were then elected and charged with drawing up a constitution and by-laws and with promulgating an action program.

Mrs. Kierstead was elected chairman; Mrs. Lois Pines of Waban, vice-chairman; Mrs. Stuart Toope, of Newton Centre, treasurer, and Miss Natalie Mays, teacher at Mason Rice school, secretary. A board of seven advisers was elected as follows:

John J. Tyler, M.D., Chief

Bishop

"As a Christian churchman I think the church is the agent of reconciliation. The church must bring together people of all sorts and be the means by which they will understand each other and be able to live with each other.

"My prime concern," the Bishop Designate said, "is that the church understand its role in modern society, that it has to be prepared to change and to adapt to new conditions along with other institutions and, therefore, it has to understand the need for education on the part of all classes of people in order that all will be prepared in this technological age. This, of course, involves human rights, our approach to young people."

"In other words," Dr. Burgess said, "I think the church must be prepared to re-examine its structure, program, and purpose in the light of its gospel."

Dr. Burgess has been close to youth as a professor and a chaplain at Howard University as well as a teacher at Harvard. Of youth, he said:

"I think we must be prepared to receive a tremendous contribution on the part of the younger generation. We cannot afford to stand in judgment upon it. I think they understand their times much more clearly than the older people do, and they must have a rightful place in the councils of the church."

Regarding the situation wherein some Negroes have spurned integration, Dr. Burgess said:

"I am not a black separatist. I do think that black people must be given an opportunity to develop their own sense of worth and dignity in a society that has denied them this change."

To be a complete separatist is not only contrary to all historical experience, but I believe it is contrary to the Christian gospel, and this is why I have been opposed to segregation. I could never agree to a similar segregation by a black society."

Dr. Burgess received his A.B. degree from the University of Michigan in 1930, his M.A. in 1931, and D.D. from Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge. He has received four honorary doctorates.

He was ordained to the Episcopal ministry in 1934, and served as vicar in Michigan and Ohio from 1934 to 1946. He was canon at Washington Cathedral from 1951 to 1956.

He became archdeacon of Boston and superintendent of the Episcopal City Mission in 1956 and served in these positions until 1962. At that time he was elected to the position of suffragan.

He is the author of "Life of Bravido Horns, Bishop of Liberia," and is working on a book, "Many Shades of Black."

He has served on numerous committees, including: the Massachusetts Advisory Committee of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, the ad hoc Committee on Racial Imbalance of the Massachusetts State Department of Education, and the executive council of the department of Christian Social Relations of the Episcopal Church.

He was chairman of the Joint Advisory Committee and the Joint Commission of Human Affairs, executive council, Episcopal Church, and first vice-president of the Massachusetts Council of Churches.

Two Newtonites Win Top Prizes At Harvard

Two students from Newton are among 131 top scholars who have the nation's oldest scholastic awards — the prized "Detur" of Harvard College.

The two Newtonites who won the high academic prizes are both members of the Harvard College Class of 1971. They have just completed their sophomore year and next September will be juniors.

They are Andrew Abraham Myerson of 25 Larch road, Newton, and Eliot Hillel Nierman of 83 Judith road, Newton.

Andrew Myerson is a graduate of Belmont Hill School and is majoring in the field of visual and environmental studies.

Eliot Nierman is a graduate of Newton High School and is majoring in physics.

The Detur prize — a book award — is provided by the Charity of Edward Hopkins, a fund that has been in existence since 1658. It honors distinguished application to studies" and its name comes from the Latin "Detur Digitorum" meaning "to the more worthy let it be given."

The prize is awarded to students who have made all A's or seven A's and one B in class work, but a student may win it only once.

Edward Hopkins was a London merchant who came to America in 1637, where he served several terms as Governor of the Connecticut Colony. Since the award was established, the Detur has been given to such men as Henry David Thoreau, James Russell Lowell, Robert Frost, Walter Lippman, and Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes.

The awards are made during the late spring of each year by the Masters of the Harvard Houses.

Housing Conference Reports Need For Quick Local Action

"Newton has an obligation to take speedy, effective action to meet the City's critical need for low and moderate income housing", was the conclusion reached by the participants in last month's Newton Housing Conference.

Almost 300 people of various occupations, income levels, and age groups attended the all-day meeting. After a morning bus tour, the Conference heard an address by Mr. Chester Hartman, Assistant Professor of City Planning at Harvard.

Mr. Hartman stressed the challenge confronting us - how the affluent suburb is to meet its responsibilities in the solution of urban problems. He pointed out that what Newton does in this regard can serve as a model throughout the Greater Boston area.

Mr. Hartman concluded by complimenting Newton. "To my knowledge", he said, "no other suburb yet seems to have been able to attract such a large number of people to a conference like this with such apparent seriousness."

The afternoon session was devoted to small group discussion. Reports from the 15 discussion groups have now been analyzed by the conference committee led by Mrs. John Bliss and clearly indicate strong support for the following conclusions:

1. Newton needs at least 400 housing units for low and moderate income families.

2. Such housing must be provided for those who live or work in Newton (especially young marrieds, the elderly, and city employees) and a certain percentage should be reserved for residents of the core city.

3. The residence requirements for eligibility for low income housing should be reviewed. The present 15 year requirement established by the Newton Housing Authority should be repealed, but some lesser requirement is probably necessary for housing for the elderly. Some priority should be given to Newton families, but low and moderate income housing in our city should be open to others as well.

4. Many sites in different parts of the city should be developed at the same time to minimize protests by neighborhood groups. Developments should be small, not more than 50 units - to avoid creating new ghettos.

5. New housing developments should be planned to accommodate a mixed socio-economic group - some apartments for high income families should be provided as well as those for low and moderate income families.

6. The Mayor and the Aldermen must be in the forefront of the push for housing for low and moderate income families.

7. The Newton Housing Authority is moving too slowly. A more vigorous approach is needed in regard to leased housing. The Housing Authority should be strengthened by including broader-based representation, and a well-qualified staff is essential. A Citizens Advisory Committee should be formed and the Newton Housing Authority should be urged to draw up a plan for action.

8. The public and private sectors must cooperate in developing low and moderate income housing. The City should encourage private developers to do as much as possible by making sites easily available to them.

9. Support was urged for the Newton Community Development Foundation.

10. Newton's zoning laws and building code should be reviewed to assess their effect on new construction and the rehabilitation of existing housing.

11. There is a need for an organization to coordinate activities of all groups concerned about Newton's housing needs. Citizen education is vital. PTA's and neighborhood groups should be involved.

12. Newton has an obligation to take speedy, effective action to meet the City's critical need for low and moderate income housing.

The Conference was sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Newton and the Newton Community Relations Commission with the cooperation of the Housing Coordinating Committee of the City of Newton, the Newton Chamber of Commerce, the Newton Committee for Fair Housing and Equal Rights, the Newton Community Council, and the Newton Community Development Foundation. Representatives from these groups have been planning follow-up action and have prepared a detailed report which will be sent to all conference participants.

Girls Scouts In Hike, Visit At Andover Forest

Junior Girl Scout Troop 614 (Burr School, Auburndale) of Bay Path Colonial Council went to Harold W. Parker State Forest in Andover recently for an all day hike. This was one of the requirements for the Gypsy Badge for which the troop is working.

A week before the hike, Troop Leader Mrs. Harold Mahon invited Sarah Kendall of Cadette Troop 596 to a troop meeting to instruct the girls in the proper use of the jackknife, compass reading, and knot tying.

After being left off at the Ranger's Cabin, the girls hiked to a halfway spot where they ate their nosebag lunches. Along the way they stopped to identify the wild flowers.

They then proceeded to their "campsite" where they played a wide game. The game was organized by the sixth grade Scouts to help the fourth and fifth graders to improve their proficiency in compass reading, knife craft, and lashing.

At Station 1 where Susan Kell and Laurie Bartley were in charge the girls were required to make friendship sticks. At Station 2 Amy Teixeira and Judy Wyman showed the girls how to make picture frames with lashing. At Station 3 Debbie Gartland introduced the girls to the Goddess of Nature (Elizabeth Robertson), who required them to make gifts for her, such as leaf collages, pinecone dolls, etc.

After a supper cooked on two campfires the troops held a Scouts' Owa at Sunset. The theme was Conservation. Participating parents were: Assistant Leader, Mrs. Dutton Van Alstine and Mr. Van Alstine; Mr. and Mrs. Willem Bussink, Mrs. Sylvia Wyman, and Mr. Mahon.

NEARLY 200 RED INFILTRATORS KILLED BY ALLIED FORCES

ALLIED TROOPS, backed by air, artillery and naval fire, caught large groups of North Vietnamese forces infiltrating into South Vietnam and killed nearly 200 Communists in heavy fighting below the DMZ, military spokesmen said Wednesday in Saigon. The fighting Tuesday and early Wednesday cost American units alone at least 28 dead and 46 wounded, as the allies threw every available means of support in their arsenal into the battle. No Saigon casualties were announced.

U.S. NEGOTIATORS BELIEVE TIME RUNNING OUT FOR REDS

U.S. NEGOTIATORS at the Vietnam peace conference in Paris believe time is running out for the Communists and they will gradually come around to serious peace negotiations if the allies are patient, official American sources said Wednesday. American negotiators are convinced that the Communists would prefer to reach a peace settlement with the United States rather than find themselves face-to-face with a strengthened and fiercely anti-Communist Saigon government, should the United States disengage from the conflict. Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. negotiator, was not expected to return from his vacation at his Beverly, Mass., home in time for the Thursday meeting.

ISRAEL STAGES HEAVY AIR RAID ON JORDAN VALLEY

ISRAEL staged one of its most intensive air raids on Jordan since the end of the 1967 Middle East War Wednesday, bombing and strafing Jordan Valley targets for more than six hours near the spot where Arab artillery killed an American tourist Tuesday. Civilian life came to a complete halt in the target area ranging from the north coast of the Dead Sea to 34 miles north of it. The Jordanian Army moved fresh troops and supplies up to that front.

2 U.S. OFFICERS PROVIDE CLUES TO ERRORS IN EVANS' COURSE

TWO OFFICERS of the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans Wednesday supported Australian testimony at a naval inquiry in Subic Bay, Philippines, on the course the carrier Melbourne was following before the fatal collision. They also provided clues to why the Evans bridge mistook that course. The board investigating the June 3 disaster that took 74 American lives also heard authoritative testimony that the two ships could have suffered communications difficulties just before impact. Lt. (jg) Donald Lee Murphy, 23, of New London, Conn., said he recalled that the Melbourne had used the course of "180 or 185 degrees." Murphy, who was in charge of the combat information center, said he believed the formation base course had returned to 220 degrees by the time he turned over the watch. Lt. (jg) James A. Hopson of Kansas City, Kans., testified last week that he plotted the maneuver that led to the collision on the assumption base course was 185 degrees.

N.Y. MAYOR LINDSAY VOWS TO TURN PRIMARY DEFEAT INTO VICTORY

MAYOR John V. Lindsay of New York vowed Wednesday to turn his defeat in the GOP mayoralty primary into victory next November by forming a new coalition party of progressive-minded voters to defeat the conservative Republican and Democratic candidates. Optimists in the liberal mayor's camp said the white backlash, "law and order" vote will be divided by Tuesday's primary winners, Republican John J. Marchi and Democrat Mario A. Procaccino, who beat four candidates for the Democratic nomination, including former Mayor Robert F. Wagner. This, the optimists said, would give Lindsay a chance to win the backing of the Liberal Party and the new Urban Party he plans to create.

SDS DELEGATES IN CHICAGO VOTE TO EXCLUDE NEWSMEN

DELEGATES to the seventh annual national convention of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) voted Wednesday to exclude all newsmen except representatives of the "revolutionary press" from their five-day meeting in Chicago.

DIRKSEN ACCUSED BY GOP SENATOR OF BLOCKING APPOINTMENT

SENATE Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen was accused by GOP Sen. Charles E. Goodell Wednesday of exercising a one-man veto of President Nixon's choice of Dr. John H. Knowles as assistant secretary for Health and Scientific Affairs in the Health, Education and Welfare Department. In a rare attack on the Senate floor by a member of his own party, Sen. Goodell challenged Dirksen to end his opposition to the appointment and "to allow the Senate to work its will." Goodell said opposition to the appointment by Dirksen and the American Medical Association has held it up for 153 days. Dr. Knowles, 42, is director of Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. Dirksen contends he is "too liberal" in medical matters.

HOOVER AIDE SAYS FBI WIRETAP OF DR. KING OKAYED BY RFK

A TOP AIDE of J. Edgar Hoover said Wednesday that the FBI's wiretap on the telephone of the late Martin Luther King had been authorized in writing by Robert F. Kennedy as attorney general. Clyde A. Tolson, associate FBI director, made the assertion in disputing a charge that the wiretap violated legal and presidential restrictions which limited FBI wiretaps to persons approved by the attorney general and involving only "national security" investigations. Tolson said the King wiretap met both requirements.

ASTRONAUTS REHEARSE MAN'S FIRST WALK ON MOON

IN A STEP-BY-STEP simulation Wednesday at Cape Kennedy, Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin A. Aldrin rehearsed man's first walk on the moon and jokingly reported finding diamonds and rubies there. The two moon explorers set for launch with Michael Collins July 16, spent two and one-half hours tramping around in a moonport building performing their final full-scale simulation of lunar surface activities. They wore spacesuits pressurized with backpacks, climbed around a lunar module mockup and operated test duplicates of the three lunar surface experiments they will set up on the moon.

UMASS. PRESIDENT JOHN W. LEDERLE RESIGNS

THE PRESIDENT of the University of Massachusetts at Amherst has resigned. Dr. John W. Lederle said in a letter to the chairman of the UMass trustees, Joseph P. Healy of Arlington, the resignation is effective at the end of the 1969-70 academic year. In the letter, the president said he had set 10 years as the maximum length of his tenure and that he believed a president's contributions come in those 10 years. Lederle, 57, was director of the Institute of Public Administration at the University of Michigan before becoming head of UMass in 1960. He planned to remain at Amherst as a professor of political science. Lederle has been fighting budget cuts for the university but it was not known what role, if any, those cuts played in his resignation.

JUDGE ORDERS YOUTH TO SERVE TERM FOR DRAFT Evasion

A FEDERAL JUDGE in Boston Wednesday refused to allow a conscientious objector to change his guilty plea and ordered the youth to serve a two-year prison term for failing to report for induction into the armed forces. U.S. Dist. Judge W. Arthur Garrity Jr. denied an appeal by counsel for David J. Goldberg, 24, of Brookline. The youth pleaded guilty Monday and was sentenced for two years in federal prison, but his lawyer, Norman C. Ross, filed a motion to permit Goldberg to withdraw his plea. The judge denied the motion and ordered the youth to serve time in the Penitentiary in Danbury, Conn.

See Slight Dropout of Students

Crisis Averted Over Our Lady's Hike In Tuition

A crisis at Our Lady's Help of Christians High School in Newton has been virtually eliminated.

A danger of a big dropout from Our Lady's grammar school because of an increase in tuition fees has been lessened.

However, the situation at Our Lady's Help of Christians high and grammar schools in the Newtonville-Newton Corner area pointed up the fact that Newton's tax rate would skyrocket if the city's public schools were suddenly forced to enroll the children now attending parochial schools.

In fact, Newton's public schools would be inadequate to accommodate all the children now attending parochial grammar and high schools in the city.

Some boys and girls apparently will transfer next fall from Our Lady's grammar school to the already crowded public schools in that section of Newton, but

BLOODMOBILE AT CITY HALL ON JUNE 25TH

GRADUATION—(See Pg. 12)

The Newton Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at City Hall, 100 Commonwealth Avenue, Newton Centre, from 12:45 until 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, June 25th.

The summer vacation season is practically upon us. With vacation time comes unforeseen accidents on the highways, on the water and oft times in the air. Red Cross hopes that these accidents do not happen, but if they do, then blood is needed.

Massachusetts hospitals need 1000 pints of blood a day, and the summer season is no exception. In fact more than that is needed at times.

If eight weeks has elapsed since a person has donated blood, he is eligible to give again. Red Cross hopes that donors will bear this in mind and give at least five times a year.

Realizing the critical need for blood, Mayor Monte Basbas urges all city employees to donate and support this very important bloodmobile.

Sargent's Election Chances Hurt By Graduation Speaker

The chancellor of the University of Massachusetts at Boston delivered one of the most unusual commencement addresses this writer has ever heard or read.

He put a blast on Governor Francis W. Sargent which might just cost Mr. Sargent election to the Governorship next year.

The president of the Student Council, James Smith, 22, of Lynn, also fired a searing volley at Governor Sargent, declaring that the Governor has never visited UMass at Boston even though it is only a short distance from the State House and chiding Mr. Sargent for attending the Harvard Commencement rather than the UMass ceremonies.

Robert E. Hilton, the woman's husband, was in Mad- den when his wife disappeared, making arrangements for the forthcoming cross-country trip.

He said his wife was a good mother and had never before left the children alone. His only thought was that his wife might have been depressed over the impending journey to Oregon.

He said there is no reason to think that foul play might be involved.

Hilton said his wife was dressed in a pink two-piece suit and was carrying a shoulder bag. She wears prescription glasses and has her short hair frosted grey at the tips. She is about 5 feet, 9 inches tall and weighs about 130 pounds. She took nothing with her but a shoulder bag.

Newton police have distributed her picture and description throughout the country but, so far, there hasn't been any response.

Retiring Teachers At Spaulding Feted For Distinguished Service

Mrs. Marjorie Acomb and Miss Helen Macgregor, two Spaulding School first-grade teachers who are retiring at the end of this school year, were honored recently by hundreds of parents, teachers and children at a tea sponsored by the Spaulding PTA, in appreciation of the years of dedication and the depth of understanding they have given to the children.

Because of their many years as first-grade teachers, their warmth and devotion have touched the lives of almost every child passing through Spaulding School. Their retirement, regarded not only as a great professional loss but also as a personal one as well, was the occasion for many gifts and tokens of esteem and appreciation.

Miss Macgregor began her career in 1930, teaching kindergarten in Watertown. She continued teaching third and fourth grade there until 1951, when she left for New Canaan, Connecticut, where she taught first and third grades. In 1960 she returned to Newton, where she lives, and has been teaching first and third grades at Spaulding since then.

Mrs. Acomb's 39½ years of teaching began in Presque Isle, Maine, Concord and Belmont, before she came to Newton in 1935. While in Newton, she taught at Mason-Rice, Carr and Horace Mann Schools. She was a member of the original faculty joining the Spaulding School when it opened in 1954, teaching first the kindergarten and continuing since then as first-grade teacher.

Mrs. Acomb is the wife of the late Allan Acomb, who for 17 years served as principal of Underwood School and was later appointed to the Newton School Department, where he was in charge of appointing personnel at Active in community affairs, he worked for many years in the annual Red Feather campaigns, becoming assistant residential chairman. He is a former director of the Newton Taxpayers Association and a former member of the Republican City Committee.

A director since its inception, he served for a year and a half as President of the Newton Mental Health Asso. and was appointed by ex-Governor Volpe to the Newton-Wellesley-Weston Mental Health and Retardation Area Board, to which he subsequently was reappointed and now serves as Treasurer.

He was appointed in 1968 by the Secretary of Commerce to the National Defense Executive Reserve.

He is married to the former Edith Crouse and they have five children. Mrs. Hawkridge has been a board member of the Angier PTA and has been active in the Red Cross blood bank program and the Florence Crittenton League.

In discussing his candidacy, Mr. Hawkridge stated: "With a new superintendent just joining the system and with the problems that have been developing in the areas of overcrowded schools, the secondary schools, the school building program and community involvement in the planning for our public schools, and with two members leaving the committee I feel that I should stand for another term to make my 12 years of experience available for the solution of these problems."

"Despite the loss of State aid, the costs of inflation, and the pressures on the School Committee, I feel that we cannot abandon essential programs."

"Particularly, we cannot lose sight of the basic aim of our school system which must be to give to every child the maximum in individual attention and specialized programs that we can. To the degree that we can afford it, we must expand in these areas while hopefully cutting back in other areas no longer needed."

"My business experience and my twelve years on the School Committee will permit me to make a major contribution over the next two years," Committeeman Hawkridge concluded.

She declares that she is "deeply interested in maintaining and promoting excellence in the Newton school system" and that she recognizes the "growing burden education places on the local tax dollars and the responsibility of School Committee members to strive for maximum efficiency."

At the same time Mrs. Rosenblum said she "looks upon education as Newton's most important product."

Active in PTA, and other civic organizations, Mrs. Rosenblum asserted that many people are not aware that "cheaper schools actually cost the taxpayers more than high-quality education through the hidden costs of higher employment, drop-outs, and delinquency found in many communities with poor education systems."

"Newton homes are worth more," she asserted, "because Newton has invested in good schools."

"There is an urgent need in Newton for improved communication between the community and the schools," Mrs. Rosenblum stated. "Communication means more than just defending your own position, it calls for a substantial amount of understanding, as well. There must be an honest and serious effort by people engaging in any dialogue to listen and to try to understand the other points of view."

School Committee members have to make an effort to understand the pressures on other city officials. Other city officials have to understand the pressures on the School Committee to provide an increasing variety of services to students. Ways must be found for parents and teachers to recognize their common goals and contribute their differing perspectives."

With regard to the need for communication, Mrs. Rosenblum stressed the need to reach the non-parent residing in Newton. "These home owners," she declared, "pay approximately two-thirds of our city's investment in education and, in the past, have been given little opportunity to find out what is being done, how it is being done and why it is being done. I am going to do everything I can to bring them the story of education in Newton and solicit their advice and their concerns."

Mrs. Rosenblum said the perennial problem of keeping good teachers in the classroom concerns her. "After investing in the training and maturation of young teachers in the Newton school system, true economy requires that we pay them enough to keep them in Newton and in the classroom. It is also important to retain a system of financial reward for the gifted teacher."

Newton loses many creative and talented teachers because our schools are still hampered by lack of space, facilities and adequate staff. Newton teachers must have the opportunity to respond to their students' needs," she asserted.

Having just completed two years service on the P.T.A. Council's School Buildings Committee, Mrs. Rosenblum said she is familiar with the backlog of unmet school building needs in Newton. She said she believes School Committee members should take the lead in evaluating space requirements and in developing a long range plan for replacement and rehabilitation of buildings on a priority basis.

To meet the challenge of preparing students for varying adult roles in these complex times, Mrs. Rosenblum stresses, the Newton school system should increase its organizational flexibility. The high degree of local autonomy practiced in the Newton schools has sometimes created inequities among the schools, she says, and has made more difficult the matching of student needs to available resources.

Mrs. Rosenblum advocates shared use of resources, development of regional, cooperative programs, and consideration of an open enrollment plan as partial solutions to these problems.

The administration of a large school system today, she is convinced, faces far different challenges than at any time in the past. "It's a brand new ball game," Mrs. Rosenblum insists. "And the emphasis in the future will have to be on action rather than reaction. And this, in turn, means the need for anticipation which recognizes problems when they are small and manageable instead of waiting until they are full-blown and capable of creating divisiveness and bitterness."

Her professional experience includes several years as a staff member of the Judge Baker Guidance Center, a children's mental health clinic in Boston. More recently, Mrs. Rosenblum worked on the Newton-Baker Project, a joint research effort of the Judge Baker clinic and the Newton schools.

During the past year she has been employed as part-time social work coordinator for the Metco program in Newton. This experience has given her the opportunity to become acquainted with many of Newton's schools, she states.

Mrs. Rosenblum has also been involved in numerous

She has been a Cub Scout Den Mother and a member of the Public Information Committee of the Newton-Wellesley-Weston Area Mental Health Board.

Faculty Member At Sacred Heart College Is Honored

A prominent physicist and faculty member at Newton College of the Sacred Heart on Monday night June 16 received the 1969 Achievement Award of the American Association of University Women (AAUW).

Dr. Dorothy W. Weeks, Wellesley, accepted the coveted award at a recognition dinner attended by 25,000 delegates to the biennial national convention of the Association at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

The $3,000 award, established in 1943, is presented annually to distinguished women in recognition of their achievements in research. Past recipients include the late biologist Rachel Carson, author of the best-sellers "The Sea Around Us" and "The Silent Spring."

In presenting the 1969 award, Dr. Agnes Allen, Flagstaff, Ariz., chairman of the AAUW Fellowship Program Committee, cited Dr. Weeks for "her productive and versatile career . . . for her humanitarian activities . . . and intellectual incentive and vision."

A spectroscopist at the Harvard College Observatory, Dr. Weeks is currently doing research on the Solar Satellite Project that will launch a solar laboratory into orbit this summer. Since 1966, she has also lectured in physics at Newton College where she is now establishing a major in physics.

After retiring as professor of physics and chairman of the department at Wilson College, Chambersburg, Penna., in 1956, Dr. Weeks coordinated an eight-year research program on radiological shielding for the Ordnance Materials Research Office at the Watertown Arsenal.

She has also served as a consultant to the National Science Foundation and during World War II, was a technical aide to the Office of Scientific Research and Development, Washington, D.C.

A Guggenheim Fellow, Dr. Weeks has also held research grants from the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the American Philosophical Society, and the Research Corporation, New York. A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Wellesley College, she earned two master of science degrees — one at MIT and one at Simmons College — and a doctor of philosophy degree at MIT.

His wife, the former Judith Cathy Arnold of Waban is a graduate of Wellesley College, Class of 1963 and is a member of the Class of 1970 at Harvard Law School. The Cowins have one daughter, April Ruth, age two.

Mr. Cowin is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Roxbury Multi-Service Center and of the Executive Board of the Anti-Defamation League. He is a member of the Boston Home Rule Commission.

The Department of Public Utilities regulates the gas, water, electric and telephone companies, intra-state railroads, bus companies and commercial motor vehicles.

The Department also oversees the registration and issuance of securities sold within the Commonwealth.

Mr. Cowin was formerly a resident of Brookline where he served as a member of the Brookline Town Meeting and as the State-appointed member of the Brookline Housing Authority. He is the son of the Brookline Town Counsel, Phillip Cowin.

Editorial . . .The Inflation Crunch

It is one thing for the experts, the economists and the politicians, as well as a lot of businessmen, to discuss in a rather detached manner how much inflation is tolerable.

In reality, what is being discussed is how much the purchasing power of the dollar can be reduced each year without upsetting the apple cart.

As far as those living in the most productive time of their lives, a drop of a few percentage points in the value of money can be absorbed or made up in higher earnings. But for a growing body of citizens an annual decline in the value of money can be a one-way street to destitution.

There is no escape for those who live on fixed incomes — retired persons and others, who for one reason or another, must make do with a fixed number of dollars.

These people are in the minority. But, they are citizens of the United States, and they deserve the same consideration as those for whom so much effort is being put forth in the name of equal right and equal opportunities.

The dollars they hold are government promises that can be exchanged for necessities. Inflation, regardless of its rates, is a repudiation of those promises.

Our Protective Shield

One of the most articulate commentaries on the broad principles involved in the "military-industrial complex" issue came recently from Sen. Barry Goldwater, of Arizona, during an address in the Senate.

Among other things, he said "... we urgently require both a big defense establishment and a big industrial capacity. Both are essential to our safety and to the preservation of freedom . . .

"I am reminded of the problem which confronted our nation in the early days of World War II . . . Freedom was being trampled throughout all of Europe. Suddenly the United States found itself forced to fill the role of the 'arsenal of democracy' . . . And how did we perform this miracle?

"Well, I will tell you that we performed it with the help of an industrial giant called an integrated steel industry . . . When the Russian Sputnik went up, this nation was deeply concerned. And that concern had to do with our inability at that time to duplicate the Soviet feat.

"Now that we have the industrial capacity to equal the Russians in space or in matters related to defense, there seems to be a nationwide effort to make us feel guilty . . . Rather than deplored the existence of a military-industrial complex, I say we should thank Heavens for it.

"That complex gives us our protective shield. It is the bubble under which our nation thrives and prospers. It is the armor which, unfortunately, is required in a world divided."

The debate over the relationship between industry and the military is a healthy thing. It is a sign that the historic reticence of Americans to accept military dominance is still very much alive.

Regardless of differing views on the proposed anti-ballistic-missile program, current discussions of the military-industrial complex should lead to a better perspective and understanding of an issue that will be with us for a long time to come.

Tuition . . .

boosting the tuition fees at both the grammar and high schools operated by his church.

He did so after a committee he appointed approved the plan.

Tuition charges at Our Lady's grammar school have been increased from $50 to $100 per pupil.

The maximum charge per family will be $200 which will be the amount paid by a family with more than two children attending the school.

The cost of attending Our Lady's High School has been hiked from $80 to $160 for a pupil living in the parish and from $110 to $250 for children outside the parish.

For a time it appeared that the higher cost of attending Our Lady's grammar and high schools would cause a big shift of pupils to the already crowded elementary schools in that area and to the public high school.

Indications at press time were that there will be some switch of pupils from Our Lady's she declared.

LETTERSF. F. D. S. Speaks

Editor,
The Graphic:

I am the chairman of a group of dog owners and dog lovers. The group is called the F.F.D.S. (Freedom For Dogs Society).

We are for a modification of the present 24-hour leash law in Newton. We propose an 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. leash law, so from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. dogs will be free. This keeps dogs tied during school hours and away from the maidmen, etc.

I read the letter from Mrs. Evelyn Pipton Fishbein. I thought this letter (which seemed senseless) was a complete contradiction in itself. She stated "how frustrating for people who believe in and trust our democratic processes to hear the political pressure from a minority of Newton residents." Don't you think we are doing this by democratic means, we worked hard for signatures. Although we are a minority (but growing) why can't a minority have a voice in a democratic society. We have about 1000 names and that is no small minority. I trust the good people of Newton and our Aldermen to make a fair decision, which would be one-half of the leash law for the people and some freedom for man's best friend.

Please attend the meeting Tuesday (June 24) at 7:45 p.m. at Newton High School and help support the modification of the leash law.

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

As general chairman of the 1969 Easter Seal campaign and on behalf of crippled children and adults in Massachusetts, I want to thank you for your generous public service help to the drive. All returns are not in, but indications are that this appeal, before year's end on August 31, will be the most successful in the Society's 25-year history, not only in terms of contributions received but also in the number of volunteers participating.

As you know, the Society provides needed services in areas of the state where rehabilitation previously was not available. That the Society can help so many of our physically disabled residents in this way - 3,355 last year depends largely on contributions from the public.

My personal appreciation for bringing to the attention of the public the needs of the crippled and for supporting our appeal.

Commends Police

Editor of The Graphic:

The following letter was sent to Newton Chief of Police William F. Quinn commanding the prompt and efficient action of his department in a recent emergency.

Chief William F. Quinn
Newton Police Department
W. Newton, Massachusetts
Dear Sir:

I wish to commend you and your men for the efficient, life-saving, professional way they conducted themselves on June 12, 1969.

I was just leaving the barbershop on Route 9 at Langley Road, when a three-car collision occurred, and took it upon myself to call your department for help. I requested that they send two ambulances, for I could see that more than one person had been injured. I then timed the arrival of your units. Two wagons responded simultaneously in exactly two minutes from the time I put the call through.

Your men handled the situation with such efficiency and professionalism that it made me feel proud of my police force. If I can ever be of service to you and your men please feel free to call on me at any time. Gratefully yours, Norman C. Aronson Newton Centre.

Love of Country

Editor of The Graphic:

The events of nearly two centuries of nationhood have taught us that it is not enough to attain liberty. In order for it to be kept alive, liberty must be protected by faith, and maintained without vigilance, nourished by faith, and maintained without compromise.

These responsibilities require the exercise of, not lip service to, patriotism.

Most important, however, is the recognition that the essence of true patriotism is to express unashamedly our love of our country.

Give it a good try on July 4, 1969.

You may not be able to on July 4, 1970.

Vincent J. Tuscher, Newtonville.

Americans spend about $3 billion a year for food and beverages served away from home.

RUNNING AWAY!

the two offices in her first campaign since she ran for Mayor in 1967, is considered certain.

She has been extremely active in advance of her political comeback. At the Dorchester Day parade, for example, she walked the entire four-mile route in a blazing sun.

No matter which of the two offices she seeks, it can safely be assumed that Mrs. Hicks will win a seat.

Although she has made several recent appearances at School Committee meetings, it seems to this writer that Mrs. Hicks is more likely to be a candidate for the City Council.

Youths Without A Country Listed As War Casualties

There are a number of tragic aspects to the war in Vietnam apart from the fact that we ever got involved in the first place.

Saddest of all, of course, is the heavy casualty list of brave young men who died in Vietnam or suffered wounds which crippled them for the remainder of their lives.

It's a painful, numbing thing to meet the mother or father of a boy who has been killed in Vietnam. You flounder around for an expression of sympathy, but there just aren't any right words.

It was only three years ago that Senators, who are now doves, were telling us that if we didn't stop the Communists in Vietnam we'd be forced to fight them in Australia.

Now the same Senators are demanding that military actions in Vietnam be limited to those which would bring closer the end of the war.

In the span of those three years in which public sentiment concerning the war in Vietnam has undergone so drastic a change, the number of youths who have sought sanctuary in Canada to avoid the draft has increased in shocking fashion.

As matters presently stand, those young men have forsaken their country for all time. They turned their backs on it, and they can never return to it. They, too, are casualties of a strange war.

Boy With Long Hair Booed At High School Graduation

In one community parents attending a high school graduation booed and hissed a boy with long hair as he walked to the stage to get his diploma.

That, of course, was unfortunate. It represented bad manners. It was cruel. It was a divisive and disruptive action which was certain to cause ill feeling among the graduating seniors.

The boy presumably had the right to wear his hair long unless the school had a rule to the contrary. The one he was hurting most was himself.

Boys seeking jobs for the summer would be well advised to have a bath, a shave and a haircut before they go looking for work. Youths with long hair and beards are usually wasting their time when they try to sell themselves to personnel managers.

But the boos and hisses by heedless parents in that high school auditorium were a symptom of our times.

They reflected the mounting concern of the parents for the dangerous days in which their sons and daughters live, with even children of junior high school age becoming addicted to narcotic drugs.

They mirrored the fear that even one boy with long hair in some way might be a poor influence upon his classmates.

Those boos and hisses were regrettable. But they were understandable.

Mayor White Seeks Help From Nixon Administration

Boston's Mayor Kevin H. White handled himself in excellent fashion when he appeared on the TV program, "Meet the Press."

But he hit an extremely somber note with his assertion that every American city is on the verge of bankruptcy.

White undoubtedly had in mind that the tax rate in his own city will soar this year to the record height of $140 or even higher.

That, of course, comes very close to being a confiscatory rate — one that is greater than the average property-owner can afford to pay.

Yet, there is little that White can do to prevent the tax rate from climbing to that height.

In some cities a Mayor and City Council can enact new taxes or increase old ones.

In Massachusetts, however, that power belongs only to the State Legislature and Governor. So mounting municipal expenditures only serve to force up the real estate tax rate.

What White obviously was striving to do was to dramatize the plight of the cities and their need for financial help from the federal government.

White criticized President Nixon for not sponsoring a tax sharing program with the cities and for channeling available funds to the states rather than the cities.

Mayor Jerome Cavanagh quoted Vice President Agnew as saying that this was being done because most of the Mayors are Democrats and most of the Governors are Republicans.

More Troop Withdrawals Planned By Pres. Nixon

Persons close to President Nixon say that he will withdraw another 25,000 troops from Vietnam in the fall.

They report that Mr. Nixon is planning on pulling out as many as another 100,000 men in a series of withdrawals next year.

However, this will depend on the ability of the South Vietnamese to take over a steadily increasing portion of the war.

So far there has been no indication whatever that North Vietnam intends to lower the level of the fighting or that it will cooperate in any way toward the achievement of a negotiated peace.

Louise Day Hicks Will Make Her Move Within Next Week

Some time within the next week Mrs. Louise Day Hicks will announce her candidacy for either the Boston City Council or School Committee.

Observers of Boston's political scene are about evenly divided in predicting the direction in which she will move. Mrs. Hicks to date has given no clue as to her political plans, and she has caused a lively guessing game.

That she definitely will be a candidate for one of achieving a negotiated peace.

Play up your window seat with an attractive, imaginative treatment. Since a bay is a natural focal point, make the most of it! Treat the top with a pleated valance and draped tie-backs of colorful, rich fabric. Use wooden shutters, either painted to follow color scheme or stained. The window seat itself can be upholstered in the same matching material as the drapes. Add fringed toss pillows and you have comfort galore!

Fete Board Members For Top Effort In Asthma Campaigns

Board members of Golden Key Chapter of CARIH were feted yesterday at a wind-up luncheon at the Highlands Restaurant in Newton.

Mrs. Harry Finn, of Newton, outgoing president, gave a brief re-cap of the year's accomplishments.

First to be noted was Golden Key's Fall Buffet Luncheon and Card Party at Chestnut Hill Country Club. At this bang-up affair, CARIH's many members and friends spent a delightful afternoon partaking of a luncheon, played their favorite card game and enjoyed the added pleasure of shopping CARIH Jewelry Boutique.

Mrs. Finn announced that through the sale of CARIH Jewelry this year alone thousands of dollars were raised for the funding of the care and treatment of the hundreds of children today being hospitalized at the Children's Asthma Research Institute and Hospital (CARIH) in Denver, Colo.

Further reported as particularly productive were the special Jewelry Booths set up at Newton's Stop & Shop and Star Markets, where interested shoppers were privileged to buy "Rings & Collectibles" preceded by a pleasant Sherry Hour, held at Newton's Chestnut Hill Country Club.

Cited for these accomplishments were Boutique Chairman, Mrs. Goodall Shapiro and her able co-chairmen, Mrs. Sidney L. Cohen and Mrs. Robert Jaffe. Special mention was made of Golden Key's efforts during National Carib Asthma Week, arranged by Mrs. Alfred Greenfield, public relations chairman, when for the first time a full page display ad was run in our local papers and a first in TV coverage was given by Channel 38 in showing the CARIH film, "Giant on My Chest."

Lastly, brief mention was made of Golden Key Chapter annual open meeting in May with its unique program of an auction of "Antiques & Collectibles" preceded by a pleasant Sherry Hour, held at Newton's Chestnut Hill Country Club.

As her final gesture, as

ward Sugerman, under whose capable leadership a most productive year ahead is being planned.

Solon Advises Folks Eligible For Medicare

In response to a number of inquiries, Representative Theodore D. Mann today issued a statement urging those eligible for Medicare to familiarize themselves in advance of need with the benefits to which they are entitled.

He recommended that closer contact be maintained by senior citizens with administrators of the Social Security Program so that their medical bills will be properly processed for payment when the need arises.

Rep. Mann stated that he is being called on with increasing frequency by those who find themselves unable to handle the details involved in the submission of bills for medical services.

Mann is hopeful that the problems of administering the program will be ironed out as experience is gained.

He pointed out that approximately 490,000 (four hundred ninety thousand) persons are eligible for Medicare in Massachusetts and that the numbers alone present enormous problems in a relatively new program. Much remains, he noted, to be done to perfect administrative practices, particularly in fuller use of existing facilities and in securing personnel.

"I am aware," Rep. Mann said, "that the problems are under study by government, business, the medical,

and hospital groups in the attempt to devise better techniques.

This is to be commented. However, now with the advent of Medicaid which brings in over 400,000 additional persons under the Health programs, these efforts must be intensified so that

Hospital and Medical service will be of the highest possible standard and within the framework of a responsibility fiscal policy."

that in an economy effort this year the School Committee in passing the 1969 budget allowed no new positions and did not expand many important programs. She said, therefore, that it would be inconsistent to go along with the orchestra's total request.

Chairman Manuel Beckwith expressed a similar opinion. This should really be a community supported rather than an education supported effort, he asserted.

"Fire Never Takes A Vacation" Chief Reminds Local Residents

"Fire never takes a which could include fire hazards unless proper precautions are taken." Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr., of the Newton Fire Department, reminded Chief Perkins offered the local residents today.

It won't be long before school doors close for the minimum in some summer and where families summertime activities: naturally get involved in OPEN FIRES — weather warm weather activities for cookouts, warmth or just plain atmosphere, handle matches carefully and keep them out of reach of small children. If you use kerosene or similar commercial fire starters, apply the liquid sparingly before the fire is first started. Never use gasoline, paint thinner or similar flammable liquids to start a fire, and never add any liquid starter to freshen a fire once it has been lighted.

VACATION LIVING QUARTERS — follow the same procedure you should have for escape planning from your year 'round home. This means going over the cottage for possible fire hazards. Clean up any hazards you find.

Sunday Services At 1st Church of Christ Scientist

Sunday services at the First Church of Christ Scientist at 391 Walnut St., Newtonville, will begin at 10:45 a.m. All are invited.

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of this week's Bible Lesson-Sermon which will be heard Sunday in all Christian Science churches.

In the Responsive Reading, taken from Job, one verse asks: "Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth?"

A correlative passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy reads: "The universe, like man, is to be interpreted by Science from its divine Principle, God, and then it can be understood; but when explained on the basis of physical sense and represented as subject to growth, maturity, and decay, the universe, like man, is, and must continue to be, an enigma."

City Acquires 30 Acres Of Conservation, Flood Lands

Mayor Monte G. Basbas recently signed a deed on behalf of the City of Newton by which the City exercised an option agreement to acquire 30 acres of conservation and flood plain land along the Charles River from Newton at 128 Realty Trust administered by Messrs. Isadore Wasserman and Edwin Howard, Trustees.

This event is jointly sponsored by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, The New England Rose Society, Inc., and the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc., and is open free to the public from 12:30 to 9 p.m.

Traffic Law

First motor traffic law was enacted in Connecticut in 1901.

Much of the parcel is low, swampy and underdevelopable under present conditions, but it does provide a flood plain during periods of high water in the Charles River and will serve as conservation and open space for the city.

Mayor Basbas emphasized the importance of this action by pointing out that it is the result of the coordination between the city and private interests in developing an optimum use of land for both industrial purposes and open space or public conservation purposes.

"The city is the beneficiary through the creation of new long-range taxiable values and the preservation of strategic areas for public purposes," concluded the Mayor.

In 190 the former owners, Mass-Maloney Trust, transferred the tract to Sylvania for use as a science research park. The city rezoned 153 acres (including the 30 acres) along the Charles River for residential to limited manufacturing, retaining all frontage land on Nahanton street in residential (27 acres) except for an access drive way to the manufacturing acreage.

A small 3-acre parcel at the south end was deeded to the Oak Hill Trustees for neighborhood use. A series of court cases contesting the zoning and a later change in Sylvania's corporate ownership and policies resulted in delays of the development.

In 1966 Sylvania abandoned its plans and the property was sold to the present owners, Newton at 128 Realty Trust.

Lee Loumos Says:

Next to air conditioning, one of the best values in today's inflated economy is a dehumidifier. The cost is generally less than what you would spend on a night "on the town," and its usefulness continues indefinitely. Putting one in your basement will first of all protect your expensive tools and equipment from rusting—paint or wallpaper from peeling—panelled walls or doors from warping and so forth ad infinitum. Most models are equipped with automatic humidistats and shut-offs, and if you install one over a drain you never have to attend it to automatically control the humidity in your basement, playrooms or shop within proper levels. If you don't have one, you are doing without one of the most useful appliances available today. And, right now when the heating system is down for the season is the time to get one. We have them and will accept your phone order.

Carr School PTA Elects New Officers and Board

Carr School Principal Joseph A. Gattuso and 1968-69 P.T.A. President Eugene Salem have jointly announced the 1969-70 Carr School (Newtonville) P.T.A. officers and board: Co-Presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Goldenberg, 37 Pratt drive, West Newton; vice president, Joseph Farina, 363 Crafts street, Newtonville; executive secretary, Philip Jasset, 96 Nevada street, Newtonville; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bela Nagy, 582 California street, Newtonville.

tract envisioned a one-owner, single purpose, completely integrated complex of structures for administrative, marketing, engineering and product assembly functions.

The design of the site allowed for adequate parking, yet left about 60 percent of the land in its natural state.

Upon the sale of the land the one-owner concept was revised to an industrial park concept of multiple ownership largely because of the difficulty in marketing the large tract for the original purpose.

The revised design of the site continued many of the characteristics of the original layout.

At the time Sylvania acquired the land the former owners, Mass-Maloney Trust, agreed to include in the sole proceedings an option agreement to the city with the right to purchase at any time the 30-acre site for a nominal amount.

This agreement was continued through various sales and was recently exercised by the city. The agreement permitted the city to negotiate design controls over the development of the 123 acres to achieve a project which is appropriately fitted into the site and its neighborhood.

Throughout the deliberations on the development controls and zoning of this tract many city departments and agencies played important roles in assisting the Board of Aldermen prior to its approval of the zoning changes and the protective deed provisions in the option agreements.

The Oak Hill Improvement Association also contributed many suggestions which were incorporated into the final arrangements.

Neil McPhee Impressive In Debut As NSH Coach

By LEWIS FREEDMAN

Neil McPhee made an impressive debut as Newton South High baseball coach this spring, guiding his charges to a 13-6 record, the runner-up spot in the Suburban League, and the quarterfinals of the EMass Schoolboy Tournament.

A former major league prospect, who spent a few years in the Minnesota Twins organization, McPhee made sure his players were well-versed in the finer aspects of the game.

The 1969 Newton South Lions were reminiscent of some of the recent American League Chicago White Sox teams.

It was a team whose strength was pitching. The Lions were always more than wide-awake on the basepaths and never failed to take advantage of an opportunity to steal.

Coach McPhee instilled poise in his athletes. Quite easily, the 13-6 record could have been reversed, as South, termed early in the season, "The Cardiac Kids," were the victors in eight one-run ball-games.

This year's club was masterful at the hit-and-run, always made the big play in the field and more than once won a ballgame with a bunt. Captain Tom Rezzuti did it all for South this spring. He led the club in nearly every department. Tommy slashed

Coach Ferguson Among Nation's 8 Top Mentors

Baseball coach Howard L. Ferguson of Newton High, whose team climbed to the group of responsible Newton residents dedicated to organized football for the youth of Newton. The program provides the best equipment and the most experienced coaching staff available.

It is the belief in the N.A.A. that football is not only a sport consisting of a team effort but develops sportsmanship, character, and friendship that are essential in this community.

N.A.A. football is organized for boys with scholastic marks of average or above between the ages of 8 through 13, who do not exceed 115 lbs. in weight and have a desire to play football.

It is the intention of the league to field a team anywhere in Newton where the local response warrants a team to be formed. If additional information is required concerning regis-stration, please contact Gerald J. Leone at 527-5869 after 6 p.m.

Newton Hi Bows To Springfield For State Championship, 7-0

By JEFF GROSSMAN

What started three months ago in the chummy confines of the drill shed ended last Saturday at Fraser Field in Lynn as the Newton High School baseball team bowed to Springfield Tech 7 to 0 in the battle for the State Championship.

For Tech it was their 37th consecutive victory and their second straight State Championship; for Newton it ended an otherwise great season in which the Tigers captured Suburban and Eastern Massachusetts laurels.

The key to Saturdays' game for three runs in the second just couldn't get moving with quite simply was the pitching of Al Tretreault, who reportedly is close to signing with the New York Yankees. The strong lefthander kept Newton out of the hit column through 6½ innings and gave up four hits in all as the intense humidity got to him in the late stages. In ali Tretreault struck out 14 and experienced difficulty in only one inning, the seventh.

With one out, Newton Capt. Ron Arcene, an all-scholastic choice, walked. Bob Wargin and John Marcus singled to load the bases. Tretreault struck out Ernie Asaff and got Chuck Pendergast to ground out to end the threat.

Ward 7 Democrats Have Busy Meeting; Elect New Officers

At its June meeting at Grace Episcopal Church the Newton Ward Seven Democratic Committee elected officers, elected two new members to replace retired members, heard political candidates, heard a report of the Newton Corner Footbridge Committee, and commanded the Newton Board of Aldermen for opposing construction of a filling station on the Massachusetts Turnpike near Myrtle Baptist Church.

Harry H. Crosby was re-elected chairman. Other officers, all re-elected, include Mrs. Lillian Ambrosino, vice chairman; Mrs. Sarah Brooks, recording secretary; Mrs. Anne Fitzpatrick, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Kim Hopper, treasurer. Mrs. Elinor Persky was re-appointed publicity chairman.

Dr. Gavin Leeman and Mrs. Kim Hopper were elected full members to replace Paul F. O'Brien and Richard Stearns who became associate members. Dr. Leeman, in association with Harry Crosby and Jerome Medaille recently served as chairman of the committee on by-laws.

Although the approaching city elections are non-partisan, the Ward Seven Committee always welcomes the opportunity to hear candidates. Mrs. Elinor Rosenblum, who is considering running for School Committeeman for Ward Two, discussed the reasons she may run. The seat is being vacated by Mrs. Norma Mintz. William Carmen and George Lowell announced that they probably will run for the Board of Aldermen but have not yet decided which position.

Mrs. Lillian Ambrosino reported that little action has been taken by the city administration to provide a way for pedestrians to walk across Centre Street or across the Turnpike at Newton Corner. The Ward Seven Committee has been campaigning for months to secure adequate traffic lights and walking space, needed particularly for elderly people to go to the Post Office and small children to get to nearby schools and churches.

As a final action, the Committee passed a resolution commending the Newton Board of Aldermen for opposing the use of Turnpike land to make an all-night restaurant and filling station within a few feet of Myrtle Baptist Church.

The facility would violate zoning ordinances and restrictions for storage of explosive materials in residential areas. It would block the church's proposed building program. State Representatives Irving Fishman and H. James Shea, Jr., said that a late-filed bill might be passed by the State Legislature to remove the land from Turnpike control. The committee expressed its sympathy for the church and are offering their help in the fight.

Members of the committee expressed regret that the Mayor of Newton has not supported the church.

The next meeting of the Ward Seven Committee will be on Tuesday, July 8, at Grace Episcopal Church. Any prospective candidate who is interested in speaking to the group should phone Mrs. Lillian Ambrosino, 527-6469.

Her mother and father operate a Boston and Arlington store. Brother Michael, a seventeen-year-old student at Huntington Prep, takes an active interest in the family business as well.

Carolyn has worked extensively with her father, doing quite a bit of buying and selling for the stores. "I know it (business)," she says. "I grew up in it. You have to be right for it."

When asked what she thinks is the role of women in business today she replied, "The same as the role of any man. The potential is the same. But women haven't realized it."

Carolyn seems to have realized it, though. Her hobbies are the stock market and real estate. She took a course in real estate the summer of 1968 at Boston College, where she again was the only girl in the class. Then she passed her brokerage exam.

But she hasn't had much time to put her real estate license to work yet. She's been too busy getting her MBA.

Carolyn Levosky is through taking courses for a while. Since graduating from Newton South High School in 1964, she has spent every year and almost every summer taking courses.

During the summer of 1966, while a student at the University of Massachusetts, she went to Bologna, Italy, where she studied Italian Renaissance and political science.

PLANNING JUNE 27th BENEFIT — Newton women planning a Champagne Garden Party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Sears for the benefit of the Newton Mental Health Association on Friday, June 27 featuring members of the Boston Ballet are, left to right: Mrs. Ernest Grable, Mrs. Larry Sussman, Mrs. Harold M. Goldstein and Mrs. Cecil S. Rose. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Alton Cherney, Mrs. William R. Ebersol, Mrs. Bernard Finn, Chairman, Mrs. George Gibson, Mrs. Milton Green, Mrs. Louis H. Kleibrov, Mrs. Louis P. Lemay, Jr., Mrs. John Reichard, Mrs. Simon M. Roberts, Mrs. Richard W. Sears, Mrs. David Silverman, Mrs. David Skinner, Mrs. Nathaniel Slavin, Dr. Nancy Sione, Mrs. Manuel S. Taylor, and Mrs. Kenneth Welch.

With all the extra time spent in school with straight academic subjects, she hasn't had much chance to relax or goof off. She still plays the piano occasionally, and goes horsebackriding. But her golf average is not public information.

Carolyn doesn't join clubs and organizations just for the sake of joining. In high school she was in the National Honor Society, and at the University of Massachusetts she worked for a short time with the student newspaper, The Collegian.

But when you consider that she took her four-year B.A. program and shortened it into three, it stands to reason that she had little time to spend away from the books.

But now, with an MBA in hand, Carolyn will be able to tackle some of those things in business that she's been wanting to get a crack at. And she wasn't wasting any time.

She received her degree June 15. June 16 she began work as a store manager trainee for Stop and Shop. She will be the second woman in the trainee program.

When asked how she feels about entering the business world on her own, she replied, "I'd like to see more women in business. The difference in salary for a woman between the B.A. and the MBA is substantial. So is the type of work."

Carolyn Levosky is the first woman graduate of Babson Institute. "A symbol because others think that way. I don't," she hastily adds.

She may even have been a little embarrassed but proud, too, when she walked onto the stage to receive her degree and shook hands with President Kneble.

But then, there's reason for it. She's one in 250, or more appropriately, one in 7000.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Phoenix attracts 12 million vacationers a year and they spend more than $500 million, making tourism rank only behind manufacturing in volume and the state's third largest income producer.

Arrangements for the volunteer painting were made by Charles A. Kent of Newton, Robert M. Adam and Joseph Kuhn. In appreciation of the work performed by the men, the noon day meal was prepared by the Girl Scout personnel, and each man was also given a box of Girl Scout cookies.

In addition to his studies, Mr. Katz is employed at the Washington Park Pharmacy in Newtonville.

Parnell Takes Fifth Place In All-Class Meet

Senior Nicky Parnell uncorked his best jump of the outdoor season at the most opportune moment, leaping over the 6-2 mark, to capture fifth place in the state all-class meet, last Saturday at White Plains, Roxbury.

Parnell got his place by virtue of fewer misses at heights along the way. The winning height of 6-6 was cleared by the first two placers, Cyd Zeigler of Harvard and Bill Hackler of Nashoba.

Previous to the all-state meet, Parnell's best jump of the season, 6-0, had been the top score before in the Class A meet, enroute to his second place finish behind Waltham's Bob Gledhill. However, he had jumped 6-4 and 6-2 on two different occasions indoors and also cleared 6-2 just before the start of the outdoor season in the Class A relays.

In the all-class meet, Parnell edged out Gledhill for the first time since their sophomore year, at the Weymouth Invitational Schoolboy Meet.

Parnell's fifth place finish classifies him as an alternate for the New England Schoolboy tract meet, with four representatives from each of the six states competing.

Promote 5 To Professorships At the Harvard Medical School

Four Newton residents, and a fifth who was born here but now resides in Cambridge, have been promoted to full professorships on the Faculty of Medicine at Harvard, according to an announcement by Dean Robert H. Elbert of the Harvard Medical School.

The effective date of the new professorships is July 1, and their titles are:

Roger W. Jeanloz, Ph.D., Professor of Biological Chemistry;

Sidney H. Ingbar, M.D., Professor of Medicine;

Charles C. Richardson, M.D., Professor of Biological Chemistry;

Jerome Gross, M.D., Professor of Medicine;

Jonathan R. Beckwith, Ph.D., a native of Newton, Professor of Bacteriology and Immunology.

Dr. Jeanloz, an organic chemist who is held in high regard as a research investigator and scholar has made significant contributions to the understanding of carbohydrate and protein chemistry.

His early interest in biological and biochemical problems led him to the chemical study of complex biological substances — among them the polysaccharides of connective tissue — a field to which he and his colleagues have made important contributions.

Among these was the early finding that the differences between three polysaccharides of connective tissue (hyaluronic acid, chondroitin 4-sulfate, and dermatan sulfate) do not reside in the type of linkage of their building blocks, but in the nature of those building blocks. The many syntheses necessary to a portion of the research have aided other laboratories in their studies of the chemical structure of brain glycolipids, of the biologically active oligosaccharides of human milk, of the enzymatic degradation products of connective tissue polysaccharides, and of bacterial antigenic polysaccharides.

The present research in this field is centered on the relationship between the collagen fibers and the polysaccharides of connective tissue, in an attempt to establish the nature of the linkage between these components in the tissue.

In the late 1950s, Dr. Jeanloz turned to the study of the carbohydrate portion of glycoprotein, having as his main objective the establishment of the sequence of monosaccharide units in the carbohydrate part and the mode of liaison between the carbohydrate and protein portions.

Research in this field, especially in relation to the glycoprotein and glycolipid antigens at the surface of normal and cancer cells, continues to be of paramount concern in his laboratory.

In the view of both students and colleagues, Dr. Ingbar is one of very few who unifies, in one person, the triad of medicine — patient care, teaching and research.

His major area of research interest has been the biochemistry, physiology and pathophysiology of the thyroid gland and its hormones. With his associates he has investigated nearly every major aspect of thyroid hormone metabolism.

These investigations have involved: 1) The mechanism of thyroid hormone synthesis and relation to thyroïd intermediary metabolism; 2) Thyroid autoregulation involving the intricate mechanism of response to variations in iodine intake and thyroïd organic iodine content; 3) Thyroid hormone transport and metabolism in man; and, 4) Mineral metabolism and bone disease.

These investigations carried over a period of several years, have resulted in a number of original discoveries by Dr. Ingbar and his associates. In their current work they have introduced the use of a number of inorganic phosphate supplements for use in the treatment of hypercalcemia, senile and steroid osteoporosis, Paget's disease, multiple myeloma and renal tubular acidosis associated with immunobilization.

Born in Berne, Switzerland (November 3, 1917), Dr. Jeanloz received the D.Sc. degree from the University of Geneva in 1943. He came to the United States in 1947 as a Research Fellow at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md.; in 1948 he served as Senior Member of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology and Head of the Laboratory of Biochemistry there. He joined the staff of Harvard Medical School in 1951 as Research Associate in Biochemistry. He was appointed Associate Professor of Biological Services and served as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Army Medical Corps, Department of Biophysics before joining the teaching staff of the Harvard Medical School in 1953. In 1956-57 he was a Visiting Worker in the National Institute for Medical Research, London, England.

Currently, Dr. Ingbar is Program Director, Harvard Clinical Research Center, Associate Director, Thorndike Memorial Laboratory and Physician-in-Charge, Outpatient Endocrine Clinic, M.D. degree in 1960 from Duke University. Currently teacher, Dr. Gross has given Dr. Richardson holds a Career Development Award for the past 11 years at Massachusetts General Hospital, a voluntary course in these professional organizations: American Society of Biological Chemists, Phi Beta Kappa, the medical honorary society Alpha Omega Alpha, and is the recipient of the 1968 American Chemical Society Award in Biological Chemistry. Born in New York City (Feb. 25, 1917), Dr. Gross received the B.S. degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1939 and the M.D. degree from the New Chemistry sponsored by Eli Lilly and Company. He is a member of the National Honor Society, Pi Mu Epsilon.

He is a member of the American Society of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology, and is the recipient of the 1968 American Heart Association.

Born in New York City (Feb. 25, 1917), Dr. Gross received the B.S. degree from the New Chemistry sponsored by Eli Lilly and Company. He is a member of the National Honor Society, Pi Mu Epsilon.

In addition to instructing the first year students at the Harvard Medical School, Dr. Richardson teaches a graduate course on the bionomics of nucleic acids.

He is a Special Consultant on Dental Research Centers for the National Institute for Dental Research, National Institutes of Health, and a member of the NIH Molecular Biology Study Section.

Largely composed of intercellular materials, the connective tissue of the body — bone, cartilage, tendon, dense fibrous and loose fibrous tissues — all contain a protein called collagen, a substance responsible for "holding together" many of the tissues of the body. It is the structure of collagen and its biochemical properties that occupied much of the early research investigations of Jerome Gross.

His studies indicated that collagen fibers are formed by the spontaneous coming together of materials secreted by cells of fibrous tissues.

Among other contributions in the area of collagen research he has shown that the protein, once laid down, becomes increasingly insoluble, indicating a possible relationship between this process and biological aging.

Further, he has succeeded in demonstrating the presence of a substance that breaks down the protein (collagenase) and contributes to the removal of materials in the remodeling process characteristic of the development of the protein.

One disease, lathyrism, characterized by skeletal and vascular deformities, has been traced by Dr. Gross to a defect in the cross linking of collagen.

More recently Dr. Gross' research has been increasingly concerned with problems of development biology. His colleagues and contemporaries rank him as one of the foremost investigators, spanning the gap between the embryologists and biochemists and geneticists, the Nobel Laureate Dr.

Shea Calls For Surtax Proposal Be Resubmitted

Representative H. James Shea, Jr., of Newton yesterday called upon Governor Francis W. Sargent to resubmit his 14 per cent State income surtax proposal to the Legislature.

In an open letter to Mr. Sargent, Shea praised the Governor's original tax program as the most equitable way to meet the State's bills without emasculating the Local Aid Fund and grossly underappropriating educational and social service programs.

In favoring an income surtax over an increase in the sales tax, Shea categorized the sales tax as "regressive and inelastic."

He declared that his recent votes for Governor Sargent's tax bill was "the responsible course for any legislator".

Shea asserted that the full funding of the Local Aid Program provided by Governor Sargent's original tax proposal would make possible a savings of about $4.70 on Newton's tax rate.

Newtonite Directs Cancer Project at St. Margaret's

Sister Beatrice, administrator of St. Margaret's Hospital directed toward determining a pattern of cellular break-down.

It has been discovered that certain cells normally contain a connective tissue component called elastin. This fibrous substance is located around the perimeter of the cell and its basic purpose is to contain the semi-liquid contents of the inner cell. Research suggests that when the healthy cell is invaded by cancer, it is these fibrous elastin components that are first seized.

The vehicle of cancer appears to be the enzyme, a substance which may induce change in another substance without changing itself. It appears that the enzymes responsible for the spreading of cancer are found in the normal cell, but in considerably smaller amounts.

Current research efforts are directed toward identifying the enzymes that are related to malignancy, and determining the causes of the increased amount of enzyme in the cancerous cell as well as the method by which the enzyme attacks the elastin fiber of the healthy cell.

An investigation of malignancy is only one aspect of the cancer research currently in progress at St. Margaret's Hospital which receives approximately $100,000 annually for cancer-related research. It is hoped that efforts may significantly contribute toward conquering cancer, a disease that, according to the American Cancer Society, killed an estimated 320,000 Americans last year alone.

Leverett Saltonstall, former Senior Senator of Massachusetts, addressed the Newton Kiwanis Club on June 18th at Valle's Restaurant in Chestnut Hill. His subject was entitled "Present Problems and What Do They Affect Our Future."

Seek Tall Man In Kidnap And Diamond Theft

Newton police have teletyped a request to authorities in the Northeast to be on the lookout for a tall, heavy-set man wanted in connection with the alleged kidnapping of a Newton jewelry store manager and theft of diamond rings valued between $10,000 and $12,000.

According to New Jersey state police, George D. Bethany, 44, manager of a jewelry store in the Chestnut Hill Shopping Center, was found wandering on the N.J. Turnpike. He is reported to have said he was forced at gunpoint into the trunk of the car and released in New Jersey, handcuffed to a highway sign.

Bethany reportedly accompanied the man with a display of diamonds on the pretext of buying an engagement ring, but his fiancee was unable to come to the store because of injuries suffered in an auto accident.

Tributes To Earle Wood, Ex Alderman

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Church of the Messiah in Auburndale for Earle D. Wood, former Newton civic leader who died Thursday (June 13) at Monadnock Hospital in Peterboro, N.H. He was 69, and retired several years ago when he moved to New Ipswich, N.H.

For many years Mr. Wood was chairman of the Newton Finance Commission and vice chairman of the Newton Board of Aldermen.

Upon learning of Mr. Wood's death, Mayor Monte Basbas said "Former Alderman Wood was one of the most capable Aldermen the City has had and was completely dedicated to his community responsibilities, including a great interest in the Jackson Homestead." Mr. Wood was a director of the Homestead, and also was the senior Warden of the Church of the Messiah.

Surviving are his widow,

Mrs. Eleanor (Davenport)

Wood; a son, Willard D.

Wood of Lexington; a sister, three grandchildren.

Mr. Wood formerly was treasurer of the old Columbia

Cooperative Bank of Cambridge; partner of the Wood-

Evans Insurance Agency and director of the Chapman Wood

Insurance Agency Inc.

Former Mayor Donald L.

Gibbs said Mr. Wood was "very dedicated to the City of Newton. His integrity and knowledge of the city were beyond mention. I had great respect for Earle, for his judgment and interest in the city."

Another former mayor,

Howard Whitmore, Metropolitan District Commissioner said:

"Serving as an unpaid advised official for 14 years, Mr.

Wood provided guidance and advice as chairman of the Board of Aldermen's finance committee for two mayors.

His true and devoted public service is a shining example for others to follow."

Wendell R. Bauckman, president of the Board of Aldermen, said "Mr. Wood was one of the greatest Newtonians served."

He emphasized, however, that the City must think in

Annual Flower Communion Service Held Here Sunday

Once again flowers carried Hopkins, Mrs. Friedman, Newtonville; Mrs. Floyd Gilles, Waban; Thomas Hagan, Newton Highlands; Mrs. James Joliff, Newton Centre; Mrs. Arthur Lein, W. Newton; Ronald Morey, Newton Centre; Mrs. Edward Pieters, Waban; Mrs. Gerald Golden, Chestnut Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Fred King, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Sylvie Lessa, Waban; Dr. and Mrs. MacHattie, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Richard Lowell, W. Newton; Mrs. Kenneth Matheson, Auburndale; Mrs. George May, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Calvin Perry, Newton Centre; Dr. John Porter, Newton Centre; Mrs. Gerald Rose, W. Newton; Dr. Gerald Rothchild, Newton Centre; Mrs. Robert Royster, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Erwin Salzer, W. Newton; Mrs. Martin Sander, W. Newton; Mrs. Julia Silberg, Auburndale; George Stephen, W. Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Newton Teixeira; Donald Ulin, Newton Centre; and Mr. and Mrs. Dutton VanAlstine, Auburndale.

In this kind of teaching, she added, is the great excitement and enjoyment in helping each child grow to a full realization of his own potential.

Teachers and workers in the Church were specially honored along with the young people in the Church School.

Students from Nursery to fifth grade received ribbons for their participation in the program; students in Grade 3 received Bibles in anticipation of their 6th grade studies of the Bible; and graduating seniors were presented with World Bibles.

Music for the service: "No Man Is An Island," "Children Of Different Ways" and "The Impossible Dream" spoke to the universality of the Church School program.

Completing the morning's festivities were presentation of the keys to Harry B. Taplin for the newly rebuilt Youth Room named in his honor and which was being dedicated at this service. In making presentation, Mrs. Erwin Salzer of Waban, retiring Chairman of the Religious Education Committee brought to Mr. Taplin the profound thanks of the Church community for his 20 years of devoted concern and unceasing labors to establish full-fledged classrooms facilities for the Church School.

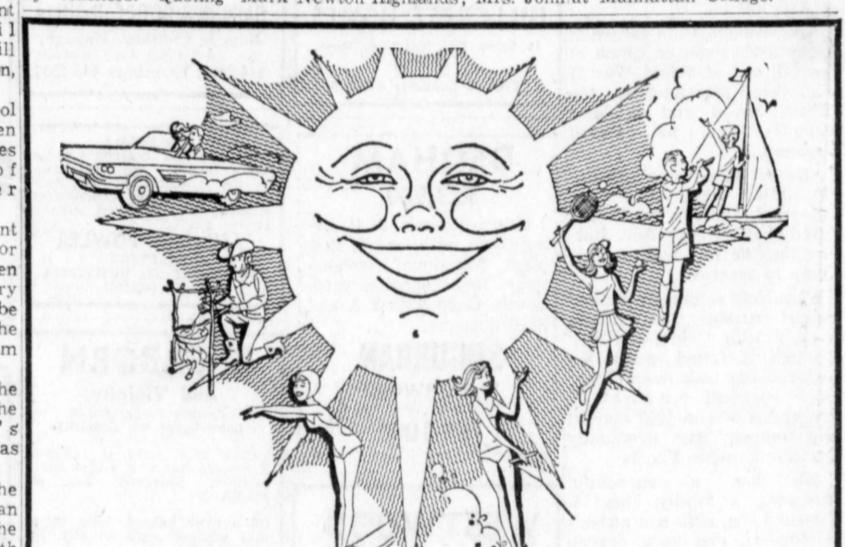

Speaking of their significance to all mankind, Mrs. Laughland observed, "It is the transient beauty of the living flower caught for just a brief span of time that speaks to us most deeply."

Likewise, she reminded the congregation, "Every day both the child and parent changes - and this moment in time will never come again." She beseeched parents to learn to look at - and listen to - their children every day.

A parent and teacher were also charged with responding to the day's celebration. Parent, Newton Teixeira of W. Newton recollects, "The tragedy of parenthood is that you cannot pass on experience." Most of us, he spoke, have already given over much of our teaching job to the public schools and church schools, because we overestimate the advantages of the captive audience, and possibly because it just may be harder to face the alternative: WE THE main teachers."

The day's observance concluded with the annual Family Picnic held on the grounds of Mt. Ida Jr. College.

Teachers in the school honored were: Mrs. Eugene Bullock of Newtonville; Miss Beth Daniels of West Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dickinson of Newton L.F.; Mrs. John Ertha of W. Arts and Sciences at recent Newton; Dr. S. J. Foulkrod, commencement exercises held Newton Highlands; Mrs. John at Manhattan College.

MERCENARIES KNIFE INTO JUNGLE IN DRIVE AGAINST REDS

SOUTH VIETNAMESE mercenaries knifed into nearby jungles Wednesday in a drive against North Vietnamese gunners who have held the Green Beret outpost under siege for 51 days. A U.S. Army officer said the camp would never fall. The sweep by about 400 men hired by the U.S. Special Forces to protect the base 285 miles northeast of Saigon was launched about one mile south of Ben Het. The camp, manned by 12 U.S. Green Berets, about 180 American artillerymen and a large force of South Vietnamese Civilian Irregular Defense troops, has been hit by more than 5,000 shells since the siege began May 6.

ISRAELI JETS ATTACK JORDAN IN TWO RETALIATORY RAIDS

ISRAELI JETS attacked Jordan in two raids Wednesday in retaliation for Arab guerrilla strikes into Israel. The Arab world described sabotage of Israeli oil lines at Haifa as the biggest guerrilla victory since the 1967 war. Tel Aviv communiques said the jets struck for 25 minutes Wednesday at Arab guerrilla positions near Addisaya three miles south of the Sea of Galilee, then returned in the afternoon for a 30-minute raid at Shuna, 11 miles south of the Sea of Galilee.

SLEEPING PILLS CAUSE OF JUDY GARLAND'S DEATH

JUDY GARLAND died of an accidental overdose of sleeping pills that she had used since the age of 16, a coroner's report revealed Wednesday in London. Coroner Gavin Thurston said Miss Garland, 47, had such a high level of barbituates already in her bloodstream that her body could not tolerate any more. At the same time, Thurston specifically discredited the story that Miss Garland was an alcoholic and also ruled out that her death was intentional. He based his ruling on an autopsy report. Following the inquest, the coroner released the body for transport to New York Wednesday night.

SOVIET UNION OFFERS PLAN CALLING FOR ISRAELI WITHDRAWAL

THE SOVIET UNION has drawn up a Middle East plan which calls for Israel withdrawal from all occupied Arab lands. It has the support of United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Communist diplomatic sources in London disclosed Wednesday. They said the Soviet proposal already has been presented to the United States, whose own plan was rejected by both Russia and Nasser. The U.S. plan would have permitted Israel to remain in the old sector of Jerusalem and in the Golan Heights of Syria. The Soviet plan also provides for recognition of Israel by the Arabs, free Israeli navigation through the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba, and a four-power guarantee of security for all Mid-east nations involved.

HOUSE SCHEDULES FLOOR VOTE MONDAY ON EMBATTLED SURCHARGE

HOUSE LEADERS who ordered a two weeks' delay in voting on President Nixon's embattled tax bill took another head count Wednesday and scheduled a floor vote Monday, the day the tax surcharge is to expire. The leadership obviously was cheered by a report from the Republican side of the aisle that the President's proposal to extend the surtax for 12 more months had gained 40 new GOP commitments overnight, for a new estimated total of 170 Republican votes.

JAVITS CHARGES NIXON WITH PLANS TO DELAY DESSEGREGATION

NEW YORK SEN. JACOB K. JAVITS said Wednesday he has learned that the Nixon administration has imminent plans to grant a further delay to 800 school districts facing a September desegregation deadline. There were persistent reports the Justice Dept. planned to issue a joint statement with the Health, Education and Welfare Dept. today or Friday announcing changes in school desegregation guidelines. But a Justice Dept. spokesman said he knew nothing of this. The plan reportedly would abolish the September deadline. Javits said the plans "are of serious concern to me and to others who have worked for equal education opportunity over the last 12 years."

ASTRONAUTS GIVE MOON WALKING SPACESUITS FINAL FITTING

ASTRONAUTS Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin on Wednesday at Cape Kennedy gave their moon-walking spacesuits a final fitting while launch crews rigged the Apollo 11 space machine for a crucial countdown test. The pilots also worked out in moonship simulators, rehearsing lunar landing and takeoff phases of their mission, due to blast off in three weeks — at 9:32 a.m. EDT July 16.

JAMES FORMAN DEMANDS $140 MILLION FROM UNITED CHURCH

BLACK LEADER James Forman called on the United Church of Christ in Boston Wednesday to chip in $140 million toward an official $500 million sought from the nation's churches for a movement seeking reparations for blacks. Officially, however, the movement hopes to garner as much as $3 billion. Forman, head of the National Black Economic Development Conference which is spearheading the reparations drive, also called on some 2,000 church delegates attending the weeklong seventh General Synod to withdraw the church's name from an injunction barring the black group from its headquarters building at 475 Riverside Drive in New York City. The withdrawal motion was referred to the business committee following overwhelming defeat of a move by the Rev. George Thomas of Boston, a black, to suspend conference rules and to bring the matter to an immediate vote. Loomis Patrick, an attorney for the church, said the church would not drop the injunction because it lacked "any form of assurance" that the black group would not again try to interrupt work at the headquarters. "It is felt that the present legal protection must be retained," he said prior to the vote.

21 PERSONS ARRESTED FOR REFUSING TO LEAVE WELFARE OFFICE

TWENTY-ONE persons, including a Roman Catholic priest, were arrested Wednesday after refusing to leave a welfare office in Boston's Mission Hill section. It is believed the first time a Roman Catholic priest was arrested on trespassing charges in the Mission Hill welfare office in Roxbury. They were released on personal recognizance. The group included 17 welfare mothers, three organizers and the Rev. Robert Hatch of St. Leo's parish in Dorchester. Seven of the women were arrested Tuesday in a similar demonstration when supervisor Miss Frances Sullivan refused to see them.

MRS. HICKS SIGNS UP TO RUN FOR CITY COUNCIL

MRS. LOUISE DAY HICKS, outspoken foe of busing school children to achieve integrated classrooms, signed up Wednesday to run for City Council on a law-and-order platform. Mrs. Hicks, 52, lost the 1967 mayoralty race to Kevin H. White by some 12,000 votes. "I am still gravely concerned about the problems that were presented to the people," she said, adding that major issues in the Democratic primary for City Council Sept. 23 would be high taxes, crime in the streets, and housing for the elderly. "The soaring tax rate is the prime concern. I think we're in a crisis financially," she declared at the Election Department in City Hall. Mrs. Hicks also said she would try a third time next year for repeal of the racial imbalance law, which requires that a school may not exceed 50 percent non-white enrollment.

45 Added To Rolls At Junior College

The Newton School Committee on Monday night granted permission to Newton Junior College to expand its enrollment by about 45 students to a capacity of 535 and to include a larger number of non-residents.

The motion approved, which was offered by Committee Alvin Mandell, stated that the college may accept up to its capacity non-residents after all Newton residents who seek admission have been satisfied.

The School Committee also, through a sense of the meeting, indicated its support for Newton Junior College President Charles Dudley's request that assurance be given that the college will continue to operate for the next five years.

However, as Committee man Edwin Hawkrige noted, this School Committee cannot really bind future boards.

Mr. Mandell abstained from voting on the motion to allow expansion of the number of out-of-Newton students. Basbas said he was concerned with the idea of asking Newton taxpayers to subsidize education for non-residents.

Governor Sargent declares that he isn't one who indulges in arm-twisting.

He had better start practising that political art because if he doesn't, his latest tax program will follow his earlier one down the legislative drain.

The arms which Mr. Sargent will be obliged to manipulate belong to the Republican legislators, whose votes the Governor will need in order to have any chance of achieving passage of his tax bill.

When Governor Sargent's original tax plan was defeated in the House of Representatives, he made a respectable showing among the Democratic members, but his fellow Republicans voted overwhelmingly against it.

$15 Hike May Be In Prospect

Tax Rate Hovers Near $100 Mark At Present

Newton's tax rate this year will be either just under or just over $100, according to present indications.

Mayor Monte G. Basbas is striving to prevent the rate from reaching the $100 mark.

Last year's real estate tax rate was $88.60.

Forecasts of a $15 increase in the rate and a tax rate of $102 or $103 seem premature although it is possible they will materialize.

Mrs. Isabelle Mackey, chairman of the city's board of assessors, declared yesterday that she does not yet know exactly what the increase will be in the assessed valuation of taxable property in the city over last year.

That will play a part in determining the amount of the tax rate since a rise in the valuation of taxable property in Newton broadens the city's tax base.

The father is a graduate of Western Reserve University School of Medicine, and he teaches at Harvard

HEART—(See Page 30)

Also still to be determined is the amount the Board of Aldermen will transfer from the city's surplus fund to hold down the tax rate. That will be just about the same as last year.

The city's surplus fund presently totals $1,094,036. A year ago, it amounted to $1,094,801, a drop of only $765.

Newton is losing $1,088.70 from last year's figures between a drop in the amount of revenue it will receive from the State and an increase in the amount it must pay to the State for MDC, MBTA and county assessments. That is equivalent to $3.25 on the city's tax rate.

However, Newton will not be obliged to pay any welfare expenses this year as it did during the first half of 1968.

Newton this year will receive $4,780,369 from the State, according to the estimates submitted recently to the Board of Assessors by the State Tax Department.

Last year the city received $5,450,278 from the Commonwealth. This represents a drop of $669,909.

Assessments by the State including Newton's share of MDC, MBTA, county hospital and county costs, amounted to $3,763,510.03 this year as compared to $3,344,477.25, a jump of $419,032.78.

Notre Dame Sisters Mark Julie Billiart Canonization

The Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur in two Newton convents marked the canonization on Sunday of Julie Billiart, foundress of the order, which was held at the Basilica of St. Peter in Rome.

Sisters of Notre Dame in all parts of the world with their lay colleagues, alumnae and friends, participated in the canonization celebration.

Locally, they are Our Lady of Presentation School in Newton, and St. Bernard School in West Newton.

Julie Billiart, who was known in her time as "the Saint who smiles," was born in Cuvilly, France, in 1751 and died in 1816. She selected education as her apostolate and gave it as a guideline to the Sisters "equine your students with what they need for life."

This simple dictum explains the adaptability of Notre Dame schools which can function meaningfully in Brazilian villages, African bush schools, Japanese schools and universities, and American and European schools at all levels.

In 1840 the first Sisters of Notre Dame came to America and settled in Cincinnati, and in 1849 three sisters came to Boston. They staffed St. Mary's

Plan Footbridge Over Centre Ave. Post And Air Rights Turnpike Project

Newton Corner community members and officials met Friday and agreed to a solution to the pedestrian traffic problem at Centre avenue and Center street in connection with construction of the $12 million air rights project over the Massachusetts Turnpike.

They approved the

linking the southern side of the street at Hubbard's Drug Store near the Library to the air rights pedestrian walkway's now under construction. This would provide the footbridge long sought after by the Newton Corner community.

Attending the meeting were

Mrs. Lillian Ambrusino,

Joanne Barresi and Olympia Pasquarosa; State

Representative-Alderman H.

James Shea Jr., and Mark

Walch, trustee of the White and Walch Trust, which is

project.

Also, they agreed that the footbridge should be designed by Mr. Walch's air rights architect. This would assure that the architectural style of the footbridge and its location is concerned.

Rep-Alderman Shea said he believed that "well-planned air rights, coordinated with community needs, offer the best hope for stabilizing

Newton's real estate tax base

federal assistance."

As executive director, Mr.

Slotnick will direct the programs for NCDF. His

development of a plan to create a substantial number

housing units scattered throughout the city on as many sites as are economically feasible.

Mr. Slotnick will also be responsible for developing a program for citizen education to inform Newton citizens of the need for low and moderate cost housing and of the NCDF approach to meeting that need.

Mr. Casselman also announced the offices of

NCDF will be located at 93

Union Street, opposite the

MBTA in Newton Centre, in space made available by the

Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Co.

Mr. Casselman went on to say, "With this kind of support from Newton residents, we hope to be able to make a real dent into the

housing shortage in Newton.

Citizens who wish to assist us in any way can stop in at our

Newton Girl Is Christian High Lexington Grad

Dorothy Harutunian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harutunian, 355 Newtonville Ave., Newtonville, was one of thirty-one members of her graduating class to receive a diploma on June 17 from Christian High School, Lexington.

Dorothy, during her years at Christian High, was involved in chorale, softball, basketball, senior play, photography club, library club, and ski club. Christian High School is the only co-educational, Protestant, secondary school for grades 7-12 in the greater Boston area.

The school has a total enrollment of approximately 175 students. The school is operated by the Board of Trustees and is identified with other Christian day schools and academies through the National Association of Christian Schools.

Tuesday morning for its next destination, is one of the 75 touring buses enroute to Washington, D.C., where over 300 AFS students will have their final meeting before returning to their own countries.

The end-of-year bus trip for three weeks provides these students with a broader view of American ways and life throughout the country than they would otherwise see in the home communities. Over 25,000 families in 650 communities host bus strip students.

The American Field Service conducts International Scholarship Programs for students 16 to 18 years of age from many nations. A non-profit organization with no religious or political affiliations, it seeks to foster understanding of the differences and similarities which exist among peoples of the world.

To accomplish this aim there are two American Field Service Programs: One, Students to the U.S., in 1968-1969 has brought more than 3,000 students from 61 countries to live, study and join in community life in the United States.

The other, designated Americans Abroad, in the current year has sent over 1,400 students to 48 countries for an equivalent experience. In the past 21 years, over 47,000 from 75 countries have participated in AFS programs. AFS has 40 overseas offices and 3,000 volunteer chapters throughout the U.S.

The school is open to all faiths and ages three through sixteen are welcome.

Grassroots Opinion

As a service to our readers we present today a series of mini-editorials taken from various newspapers throughout the United States.

Laguna Beach, Calif., News-Post: Most of the highest paid jobs in the world are held by people living in the United States. We take far better care of our old people, sick people, poor people and orphans than almost any other nation . . . We have free education through high school and often through college, free elections, unlimited opportunity. What's wrong with this? Who are the people who scorn it and want to change it — and to what?"

Rosholt, S.D., Review: "Why pay a college or university president $25,000 to $35,000 a year to run an institution of higher learning, if he is going to permit a minority group of students to tell him how his college is going to be run?"

Liberal, Kan., Times: "The new administration . . . has at least made one good move, we believe. It is in announcing that the appointments of all postmasters and rural letter carriers will be removed from the political system . . . Good postmasters just don't come, they are self-made and they should be allowed to remain at their post as long as they do a good job."

Sullivan, Ill., Progress: "In the big cities of our nation, those who live on 'welfare' are banding together to form organizations of considerable strength. Their purpose is to get more of everything — more money, more service, etc. from the government at no cost to themselves. They feel that it's the duty of the government to support them — many of such people have never known any other way of life, and doubtless there are those who have never worked for a living. 'Relief' was intended chiefly to help out those between jobs, or who were in need through no fault of their own. It was not intended as a way of living as some seek to make it today."

West Point, Miss., Times Leader: "Remember the old saying: 'The rich get richer and the poor get poorer?' A pert paragrapher observes that the Great Society changed that one. It now reads: 'The rich stay rich. The poor get a few crumbs. The crooks have a field day. And the middle class gets soaked for the whole kit and kaboodle.'"

Sea Isle City, N.J., Times: "Because their peaceful pursuits do not make news, there are folks who believe the majority of our young people are stupid and selfish and vicious, caring nothing about their communities and country — nothing about their fellow men, not even, most of them, about their parents. This, of course, is not so. Despite the troublemakers, destroyers and anarchists among them, the great majority of our young people are decent and intelligent and law-abiding and do care about others."

Clover, S.C., Herald: "Since only about 15 percent of the enlisted men now in service (of a total of 3,500,000 officers and men in uniform) are draftees, one can readily see that ending the draft in peacetime is feasible."

Benton, Mo., Democrat: "No wonder it's hard to attain peace and understanding in the world. There are more than 700 million adults who can neither read nor write. Think of it! One-third of the world's population is still illiterate!"

Simsbury, Ct., Herald: "A recent issue of Aviation Week & Space Technology magazine reveals that the Soviet cosmonauts had to use capitalist-made ballpoint pens on their space jaunts. Russian-made pens will not function in the zero gravity of space."

Minoqua, Wisc., Times: "There are some politicians who shake your hand before an election and your confidence after."

Matawan, N.J., Journal: "The newspaper offers our brightest young people a great and satisfying future in serving their country and their fellow man . . . There is no greater profession for those who seek to make a living with a real purpose in life."

Wheaton, Ill., Journal: "For the vast majority of ordinary, law-abiding American citizens the foremost crisis that faces the new Administration is the savage inflationary spiral that is undermining all sound standards of value."

Denver, Colo., Herald - Dispatch: Laurence M. Gould, President Emeritus of Carleton College, said: 'I do not believe the greatest threat to our future is from bombs or guided missiles. I don't think our civilization will die that way. I think it will die when we no longer care. Nineteen of 21 civilizations have died from within and not by conquest from without. There were no bands playing and flags waving when these Whether that was because the GOP House members didn't like Mr. Sargent's tax program or didn't like Mr. Sargent is uncertain. It probably was a combination of both.

The Governor did not kindle any affection in the hearts of either Republican or Democratic law-makers when he vetoed their $2500-a-year-pay raise and insisted they settle for $1400.

Ex-Governor John A. Volpe twisted arms until he almost pulled some of them out of their sockets when he was fighting for enactment of the sales tax in 1965.

Governor Sargent will not be forced to go to that length to obtain adoption of his tax bill, but he will be obliged to line up some votes for his measure or see it defeated again.

While some tax program obviously must be adopted this year, such proposals as the elimination of even the credit for 50 per cent of federal income tax payments on the state income tax return are not exactly suggestions of great popular appeal.

A one per cent increase in the sales tax will be relatively painless since it usually deals in pennies at a time, but another hike in the state income tax will be felt by most wage-earners.

When the so-called cherry sheet, on which is estimated the amounts the State will pay to the cities and towns as well as the sums the local communities must pay to the Commonwealth was distributed, it was assumed that Governor Sargent's latest $90 Million tax bill will be approved.

That is the basis on which the cities and towns will declare their 1969 tax rates.

If the Sargent tax bill should be rejected, the present moaning and groaning by municipal officials would turn into loud sobs and outcries of anguish.

Earl Warren Among blandest Of Highly Placed Politicos

Earl Warren was the most bland highly placed political figure this writer ever covered.

In the 1948 Presidential campaign, Mr. Warren, the Republican nominee for Vice President, shunned controversy meticulously.

Tempe, Ariz., News: America gives its ear, heart, conscience and front pages to the protesters. But, below the din . . . Each day your mail is in your box; the bread is on the rack; the fireman answers your call; the teacher heads her class; the soldier answers muster; the waiter brings your soup; the copper gets mined, and the cars get built. While critics go merrily down the river intoning, 'We're heading for Armageddon,' human beings of high character and many backgrounds do their jobs, pay their taxes, educate their children, invent, patch, scratch, plan, plow . . . And make this country tick!"

Lake Worth, Fla., Herald: "One of the interesting things about our presidential elections is the amount of dirt the two parties dig up about each other. We are indebted . . . for this gem: Since the Democrats took over the Agricultural Department eight years ago, we have lost more than 800,000 farms in America. We have lost more than four and a half million farmers. But during that same span of years, we have added in excess of 20,000 workers to the payroll in the Department of Agriculture. The number of farms is down 20 percent. The number of farmers is down 29 percent. But the size of the Agriculture Department is up 23 percent."

Deming, N.M., Headlight: "Friend and foe alike heap a great deal of abuse upon Uncle Sam's expenditures of money and manpower to aid and protect nations quickly which wish to remain free. We wish that more of the critics would reflect . . . on what the alternative would be if Uncle Sam did not stand as a deterrent to Communist encroachment."

Oppose MBTA Trial

Editor,

The Graphic:

Representative Michael Daly, Representative John Melia, Representative Norman Weinberg of Brighton, and Representative Paul Malloy, Representative H. James Shea, and Representative Irving Fishman of Newton oppose the MBTA decision. Recently these Representatives and other interested parties met with the MBTA Board of Directors to voice their opposition to the planned experiment to substitute buses for trolley cars on the Watertown line. Unfortunately the MBTA officials have decided to continue with its planned experiment which began June 21 despite the legislative opposition, despite the opposition of the Brighton - Newton - Watertown Committee for Better Transit, the Bay State Association and 1800 people who recently signed a petition in opposition to the change.

Many of us who live on the carline are opposed to this inevitable trial for many reasons. It will mean transferring to the subway in Kenmore Square. It will mean increased traffic in the already chaotic Kenmore Square area. It will mean the use of diesel fuel, a known contributor to air pollution. Newton Corner now claims the highest pollutant counts in the Metropolitan area. It will mean individual buses will replace in unsectioned streetcars.

On residential Tremont Street, we are concerned with the increased speed which will undoubtedly prevail when our trolleys no longer slow the pace of traffic. Our arguments are many, but the MBTA has made its decision and we must choke on it.

Two Qualify For State Police Post

Two residents of the Newtons passed a civil service examination and gained places on a list of men eligible for promotion to the position of State Police Detective Lieutenant Inspector in the State Department of Public Safety, it was announced this week at the State house.

They are Joseph A. Arnold of 28 Orris St., Auburndale and John J. Bartinelli of 248 Watertown street, Newton.

Of 106 men who took the examination, only 17 succeeded in passing it.

be scratched from Lindsay's dance card, and some impolite political onlooker is certain to express doubt that either was ever really on it.

Liberal Democratic leaders in New York City are considering a possible drive for 7500 signatures in order to place some Democratic contender, in addition to City Controller Mario Procaccino, on the ballot in the November election.

Ex-Mayor Wagner has been sounded out on the idea but is not enthusiastic about the prospect of absorbing another defeat.

Political observers have a hard time picturing Procaccino, who as the law and order candidate toppled Wagner in the Democratic primary, sitting in the Mayor's chair.

That's why the political pundits aren't counting Lindsay out of the election. He should be able to prevail over either Mr. Marchi or Mr. Procaccino, the Republican and Democratic nominees respectively.

If Lindsay does manage to survive the coming election, he's not likely to work very hard for either President Nixon or Governor Rockefeller in their hour of political need.

If Lindsay is defeated next November, it will bode ill for liberal Mayors of large cities across the United States.

Serving as Mayor of a big city today is probably the most difficult and frustrating job in public life.

The problems are many, are complicated and are so difficult of solution that it is impossible to satisfy everyone.

It may be that under present-day conditions a Mayor of a large city is called upon to make so many hard decisions that he can't win election to more than one term although that does not seem likely.

A substantial number of good Mayors have decided they had enough and that they would step aside and let someone else assume the headaches and worries.

The returns in New York's mayoralty election next November will spell out an important political story.

Many GIs Want To Complete Tours Of Duty In Vietnam

When it comes to confusing and complicating matters, our military officials bow to nobody.

A substantial number of soldiers in the units to be moved out of Vietnam under President Nixon's troop replacement order are seeking to stay in Vietnam because of army policies. They don't want to go home.

For instance, servicemen in Vietnam receive no credit for a tour of duty there unless they have been in the country at least 10 months.

So servicemen who have been in Vietnam eight or nine months want to stay there and finish their tour of duty.

If they don't, they may get re-assigned to other units and then be shipped back to Vietnam for a year's stay after they get back home.

A soldier who completes his tour of duty in Vietnam and has less than five months to serve on his term of enlistment is eligible for an immediate discharge from the service.

Career soldiers want to receive credit for a full tour of duty in Vietnam for promotion purposes.

Then, believe it or don't, there are soldiers who like it in Vietnam and want to stay there.

For one reason or another, a lot of soldiers don't wish to be brought home from Vietnam.

Use Of Brass Tokens July 1

The Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority announced today that, effective Tuesday, July 1, the use of the Authority's 20-cent brass tokens will be discontinued.

This decision does not apply to the use of the 25-cent silver token in use on the former Eastern Mass. suburban routes.

When the Authority adjusted its fare schedule on both surface and rapid transit lines last December 1, the sale of the brass tokens was discontinued. However, passengers were allowed to use these tokens for payment of fares on surface trips.

During the following six months, it was found that the continued use of these tokens was causing problems as urban and suburban routes were integrated to improve bus service.

Riders still having tokens on the discontinuance date may redeem them at the Authority's Cashier's Office, 500 Arborway, Jamaica Plain.

Are you keen about a certain color scheme? Then don't be afraid to use it in different rooms in your home. Let it flow all through your home. Don't ever worry about monotony! Actually, the idea is much like the variation on a theme in music. The basic color scheme provides the themes, and each room interprets it in a different, but harmonious way. One-color scheme in varying emphasis gives a different look to each room. There's an illusion of extra spaciousness because the color scheme's continuity is unbroken. Use your walls and carpets as a background for the deeper tones, then pick up the lighter shades in painted furniture, flower arrangements and paintings. Go one-color scheme all the way!

The decorators here at FERNAND'S FINE FURNITURE, 36 Harvard Street, Brookline, 566-8635, will help you create any illusion you want through the harmonious use of color and style. We have a complete decorating service, as well as a complete line of the finest occasional furniture.

Mahded Grotto Prophets Hold Ladies Program

Mahded Grotto Prophets and their ladies enjoyed a program entitled "Hair Styles and Wig Whimsy" Monday night at the Masonic Temple in Dedham square.

Presented under the auspices of the House of Kenneth Hair Design of Framingham, the program featured Miss Bette Day, guidance director of Kenneth Hair Stylists, who spoke about coiffures for the modern woman.

The wig portion of the program was presented by Mrs. Sheila Friedman, co-owner of Bellwood Wigs. Mrs. Friedman operated a wig boutique at the newest House of Kenneth Hair Design, recently opened in Framingham.

Versatility of wigs and hair pieces was stressed, and evidence indicates wigs are really here to stay. One of the ladies in the audience was given a free wig.

Prophets and their guests enjoyed coffee and refreshments following the meeting.

Vegetables used to have their quiet little corner on the plate, but now they've moved with a big boost into the spotlight. We've actually perfected new and elegant ways of dressing them up (the way garden-fresh, frozen or canned) that lift them into the realm of "haute cuisine." To name a few: artichoke with shrimp, endive with tongue and bacon, baby beets in orange sauce. These glamorous vegetables can be served as a separate course. Some are piping hot, others are chilled and several may be eaten either way. All depends on the season and the rest of the menu.

The chef at THE HIGHLANDS RESTAURANT, 1114 Beacon St., Newton Tel. 332-4400 is always perfecting new and elegant dishes for your dining pleasure. We will also serve all occasions at your office, plant or home with our "Gourmet Catering Service." Call 332-4400 for information.

Merge . . .

by-laws also provide that each year the president of the board will appoint a nominating committee.

The board shall approve this nominating committee, whose makeup shall be composed of three Newton members and two Needham members. They will place in nomination candidates for directors to be voted by full members.

Both Chambers will maintain their present staffs and offices.

Songer said the combined Chamber will be helpful to Newton because it gives the Newton business leadership increased resources, "both manpower and financial to help the community development."

He added: "It not only gives us more money to work with but more people to work on the different programs." He said, too, the merger creates a more powerful voice in the legislature, where the Chamber from time to time speaks out on proposed bills.

He said the merger helps in that Needham has more jobs in business than Newton, in proportion to the population of the two communities: 25,000 jobs in Newton and 15,000 in Needham.

Helen R. Loenig of 56 Park Avenue, Newton, and Deborah A. Rose of 22 Bonad rd., West Newton, were graduated with the bachelor of arts degrees from the University of Hartford in Connecticut. Both girls were in the University's school of Arts and Sciences.

See the difference clean electric cooking makes!

It's hard to miss.

One look at pots and pans is the clincher for most people. They like the way modern electricity gets the job done without flame. There's no soot. Nothing to blacken pans. No extra cleanup for the cook!

And that's just one of the plus features of flameless cooking. There are others. Lots of them. Like ovens that clean themselves. Exact top-burner settings. On-off controls that cook a complete dinner automatically.

So if you're looking for something special, look into flameless electric cooking.

You'll like what you see.

Chief Quinn accented the fact that a partnership between the householder and the police could minimize the number of burglaries if the foregoing rules were followed.

Quinn also commended the teamwork between the uniform branch and the burglary squad that has resulted in a lessening of housebreaks, but went on to state that a continued effort of all, to work with our citizens, must be maintained, if we are to enjoy our reduced number of housebreaks.

Chief Quinn added a commendation to everyone for their vigilance and action in the reduction of burglaries in the three months just past.

He went on to say that it is easier to work with our citizens in the area of prevention and increase a public awareness than it is to investigate past burglaries we have prevented with good police efforts, but we do know we have to assume fault whenever one is committed, and only continued good police work and the cooperation of our citizens is going to reduce this or any type of crime.

Chairman Manuel Beckwith pointed out that Newton residents will be given first choice. He also said that the motion spelled out the fact that the increased enrollment would not require additional staff or facilities.

A resolution offered by Hawkrige was also approved which calls for an in-depth study to be made of tuition rates, space and program at the junior college in order that the School Committee can understand the options available and the implications of the options with regard to the future of the college.

Mayor Basbas and Committeemen Alvin Mandell and Vincent Stanton abstained from voting on the motion.

Stanton expressed the view that though there is no question that the junior college provides a worthwhile service it does cost the city of Newton half a million dollars annually. There is a need to establish educational priorities in the city, Stanton asserted, and these cannot be established for a five year period in an instant.

In presenting his request for a kind of 5-year plan which would assure a sense of stability to the junior college and its staff, President Dudley declared that several realities must be noted: 1. Undoubtedly, the cost will increase as have all other educational institutions. 2. The larger share of the cost is borne by the city and that will increase. 3. There is little likelihood of increased state aid. 4. Any substantial tuition increase will change the nature of the college and 5. Any rapprochement with the state community colleges is remote.

In presenting the report on Newton Junior College, Dudley pointed out that the students present an enormous range in age (17 to 55), levels of motivation, versatility of backgrounds and intellectual ability.

Leo P. Judge, dean of student personnel, said that though admission to the college is generally open, there is a finer screening with regard to programs. Though most students apply for the liberal arts program, many are screened to the general program or others.

He expressed the view that some of the most important values are the openness of the enrollment, the inexpensive

Gets A Bachelor Of Music Degree

Eileen F. Maxner of BonTempo Road, Newton, received a Bachelor of Music in Music Education degree from the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston at Commencement Exercises held at Jordan Hall on June 8th. Mrs. Maxner, who was on the Dean's List at the Conservatory, is a graduate of Arlington High School.

Four students from the Newtons received degrees during the recent record-breaking commencement exercises held at the University of Illinois at Urbana.

Alan Bernard Butler of 9 Simpson Terr., Newtonville, received the master of science degree; Ross Bertram Capon of 17 Duffield Road, Auburndale, received the bachelor of arts degree; Michael E. Bielski of 11 Loring St., received the bachelor of music and Peter James Fleisher of 150 Grant Ave., also of Newton Centre, was awarded the bachelor of arts degree.

Doggie Freedom Group Sets Off Big Car Parade

Members of the Legislation and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen have under study the pro and con arguments over a proposal to modify the city's dog leash law, following the two-hour public hearing at the Newton High School on Tuesday evening. Recited a list of 12 reasons why the present all-day leash should remain.

"I have a pet, too," he said. "My pet is my lawn and hedges. And I do not like them demoralized by someone else's pets. If they can't take care of their pets, then they shouldn't have them."

Fifteen Aldermen attended, and the Moderator was Melvin J. Dangel, chairman of the Legislation and Rules Committee. Following the Committee's study of the testimony presented at the hearing, the recommendations will be made to a future meeting of the full Board of Aldermen.

Among the comments were these remarks:

"Not only dogs trample flowers and upset garbage cans. Children do too. I therefore suggest a leash law is vital in order to insure a healthy pet."

On the suggestion to allow dogs off-leash from 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. "Just imagine 4200 dogs let loose at 5 p.m."

"It's unfair to take a pup and keep it leashed all day long. To hear him cry all day long is pitiful. It's unfair and cruel."

From a woman who related a dog attack on her child: "It's a sad commentary on our society when dogs take precedence over children. Newton has an excellent school system. Let's hope our children survive school age."

"A leash law also lessens dog owners... No other nearby community has a leash law as vigorous as Newton's. Needham has changed its leash law for a control law."

"Statistics show that after 14 months all dogs that have been allowed to run free either get hit by a car or get a disease, either from other dogs or from garbage."

Samuel M. Rachlin, 43 Dearborn St., West Newton, voted.

This is another chapter in the continuing efforts of Alderman Joseph M. McDonnell for redistricting which the Board of Aldermen has refused to do. It was estimated that the cost of changing the ward lines would range between $200,000 and $300,000.

Judge Henry H. Chmielinski in Middlesex Superior Court in his order found there was a big variance in the makeup of the city's eight wards, ranging from a high of 13,967 residents to a low of 8,233. The court ordered the city to take a census in January of all residents from one to 20, and from 20 years and upward.

Further, the court ordered that the city submit within 60 days after completion of the census, the new redistricting plan. This would give the city until May 31, 1970 to comply with the order.

Buenos AiresCemetery Is Status Symbol

By STEWART KELLERMAN

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — It's been said in Argentina that you could come from the best family, marry the perfect girl, succeed in all the right things — but if you weren't buried in La Recoleta you didn't make it.

La Recoleta, a 10-acre symbol of Argentina's upper class, is one of the most extraordinary cemeteries in the world.

Located in one of the most exclusive districts of Buenos Aires — Barrio Norte — it looks more like a walled medieval city than a burial ground. You can walk for hours through its 272 paved streets, peek into the windows of its 5200 house-like mausoleums, without seeing a tombstone or a grassy knoll.

Names on the doors of the white, grey and black houses provide a 'who was who' in Argentina.

JAMMED WITH TOURISTS On some congested streets the multi-story mausoleums are so closely packed together you can walk for blocks without seeing even a blade of grass. On weekends there are pedestrian traffic jams on the roads as both tourists and mourners flock to the cemetery.

Getting into La Recoleta for keeps, that is, is like trying to become a member of an exclusive country club, with one exception — the cemetery costs more.

In view of the prestige now attached to La Recoleta, it's ironic that the first person buried there was a poor, freed slave named Juan Benito. That was in 1822 and the only grave marker was a simple wooden cross.

Kevin R. Hart, graduate of Newton High School, received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque recently. An English major, he was a dean's list student his four years there, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and was awarded a 3-year National Defense teaching fellowship at Kansas State University where he is now pursuing graduate studies for his advanced degrees in History. He is specializing in Military History. He is the son of US Army (Ret) Col. and Mrs. Robert H. Hart of 465 Crafts St., West Newton.

Court Orders City to Redraw Its Ward Lines

The City of Newton was given until May 31, 1970 to report on a census to be made next January in order that it re-draw its ward lines to comply with the U.S. Supreme Court edict of one man, one vote.

This is another chapter in the continuing efforts of Alderman Joseph M. McDonnell for redistricting which the Board of Aldermen has refused to do. It was estimated that the cost of changing the ward lines would range between $200,000 and $300,000.

Judge Henry H. Chmielinski in Middlesex Superior Court in his order found there was a big variance in the makeup of the city's eight wards, ranging from a high of 13,967 residents to a low of 8,233. The court ordered the city to take a census in January of all residents from one to 20, and from 20 years and upward.

Further, the court ordered that the city submit within 60 days after completion of the census, the new redistricting plan. This would give the city until May 31, 1970 to comply with the order.

Average annual rainfall for the Mauna Kea resort area is less than seven inches a year, but an elaborate automatic underground watering system makes up the difference.

Meanwhile, it remained uncertain whether the City's law department would appeal from the latest court edict.

Others said this is the first time they have had peace and that the 4,200 licensed dogs represents a minority of the 23,000 homeowners.

NHS Golf Team Wins State Championship In Chicopee

By JEFF GROSSMAN

The Newton High Golf team, "Coach Jim Ronayne commented. It was the third consecutive State title as the top eight teams in the Tourney finished within our strokes of each other last day at Chicopee Country Club's huge 6900 yard layout. "It was just too close for

With a small and relatively inexperienced squad, the finale, 80-58, was managed to attain a fair team's top point scorer with record of 2-3, this spring, to 31 3/4. Parnell was undefeated in dual matches.

Other scorers for Newton were Jerry Coleman with an 84 and Harry Karp and Brian Quigley with 85's to bring the Newton total to 334. Following the Tiger linksters closely in the eight team melee was Pittsfield with a total of 339 strokes. Haverhill was third with the same amount with second being decided on fifth and sixth golfers or the non-scorers.

Attleboro, Marlboro and Xaverian all checked in with 337. Springfield Cathedral and Framingham South finished with 338.

This victory marked Newton's fifth title, the most any school has ever captured. Other championship years for NHS linksters were 1940, 1950, 1960, and 1968.

Newton South Track Team 2 Graduations Finished 4th In League

By Lewis Freedman

The Leroy Keagle family of 20 Richfield Road, West Newton, celebrated two Northeastern University graduations this year.

Douglas received a bachelor of arts degree in biology and his sister Pamela will be awarded a bachelor of arts degree in sociology in August.

The Keagle name will remain on the Northeastern classroom rosters in September, however, when Douglas and Pamela's sister Cynthia enters as a freshman.

In addition, the Keagle name continues on the Northeastern faculty rosters with their father, Leroy, who is dean of the college of Pharmacy.

While a student at Northeastern, Douglas worked at Harvard Medical School.

Under Northeastern's cooperative plan of education, students alternate terms of classroom study with terms of practical work experience related to their major.

Douglas's "co-op" position at Harvard Medical School was in the department of biological chemistry as a research technician.

He will further his studies at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine beginning this fall.

Class A relays at Boston College.

Senior Robin Hirsch chalked up 23 points in the 100, 220, and running the first leg of the relay. His fastest times were 10.5 and 23.8.

Junior Ron Schneier utilized four events, the triple jump, high jump, relay and 880, to accumulate 23 points.

His best efforts were 38-6, 5-4, and 20.65. He was on both placing relay teams at BC.

Howie Cohen tallied 21 points all in the 120 high hurdles. Howie's time improved nearly half a second every meet until he was finally down to 16.5.

South's strong point this season was the sprints.

In addition to the points collected by Hirsch, Peters, and Kopelman, the fourth member of the relay team (defeated only once) sophomore John Seeler, allied 16 3/4 points. Seeler had an excellent season, getting down to 52.7 in the 440.

White the sprints were strong the field events were weak. Outside of Parnell and consistent backup man Rick Kates, the Lions had few steady field men.

Sophomore Joe DeLuca developed into a good shot-putter with a best of 42-5 1/2, and should have a good future ahead of him.

Senior Al Miller, in his first season of competition started strongly, clearing 9 feet. However, he broke his arm early in the season. Paul Nisson, a sophomore and improved greatly, after Miller's injury. He also topped 9 feet.

The distance events, too, were fairly weak. However, the future here is bright.

Schneier, a 2:06.5 half-miler this season has the potential to run two minutes.

In the mile and 2-mile, the Lions have four sophomores - Mike Oshima (4:59.5, 10:57), Dick Dickinson (11:00), Bill Sage and Steve Reef.

South's team year had only 24 competitors. While only nine will graduate, many replacements will be needed to back the 15 returnees.

'Doctor Zhivago' Director Films 'Ryan's Daughter'

By MARS ROSS

DINGLE, Ireland (UPI) — Ask a really keen student of geography to name Europe's last outpost of civilization facing the United States across the Atlantic and he might answer, "Dunquin, Ireland."

Until a few months ago he'd have been right and in another few months he'd be right again. But not just now.

The "last outpost" claim goes to the one-pub village of Kerry, near Dingle in County Kerry.

Half a year ago nothing stood on that wild bit of landscape but mountain sheep, peat and British movie Director David Lean. Today there's Kerry, complete with pub and church, built as the setting for Lean's latest movie, "Ryan's Daughter," a $7.2 million production.

Famous Inhabitants

The inhabitants of Kerry tend to be pretty well known despite their remote abode — Robert Mitchum, Trevor Howard, Sarah Miles, Christopher Jones and John Mills among them. And David Lean.

Lean, 61 and handsome enough to be mistaken for an actor himself, rarely gives interviews on set so involved does he get in his work. But he did take time out to explain his enthusiasm for this original story by Robert Bolt, who also wrote his last two scripts, "Doctor Zhivago," and "Lawrence of Arabia."

"It's about love, and I think falling in love is probably the greatest experience and excitement you can have in life," said Lean. "You can have your pot marijuana and all the rest of it."

Taking the setting of a remote community brushed by the outer world at the beginning of the Irish uprising in 1916, Lean is giving subtle treatment to the wider side of human emotions. He dislikes blatant sex on the screen.

"If you stumble in one seeing two naked people making love on a bed, it's bound to have an effect. It jumps people out of the film," he said. "The moment is such a shock that after seeing two people at a dead camel could be dragged across the screen and you wouldn't see it."

Sex Private

"I think sex is such a private thing that if you shot it on the screen, one should leave a lot unknown or unsaid so that the audience themselves can fill it in. If you show it blatantly, they're just voyeurs and it's not very attractive."

Some of the film's casting is unexpected.

Mitchum plays a good, rather dull man, the schoolteacher husband of Sarah Miles, who in real life is married to Bolt, the scriptwriter.

"If you have a good, dull man playing a good, dull man, it would be dull," Lean said. "I thought it would be interesting to cast against type and have Mitchum act it. I think he is a first rate actor. He's also got star personality. I like star personalities because I think they come out on the screen not because they have a name but because they have got personality."

Christopher Jones, 27, a young American newcomer whose first screen role was as a pop singer who became president, plays a shell-shocked English war hero.

Magic Personality

"When I first saw him on the screen, he was playing a middle European," Lean said. "I asked what nationality he was. I thought he was Polish. When I was told he was American, I couldn't take my eyes off of him. That's part of the magic of whatever star personality is, if you want to watch them on the screen."

Lean, whose only other film in the past 14 years was "Bridge on the River Kwai" — giving him three box office hits in a row — is shooting his latest one entirely on location in and around Kerry.

could stand for centuries will be blown up unless the locals want to preserve Kerry for its curiosity value. In all likelihood the title of Europe's most westerly village will be reclaimed by Dunquin at the foot of the mountain.

IRVING GLICKMAN, D.M.D.

Dr. Glickman Is Honored As Top Clinician has become the 20th recipient of the Berkshire Conference award given annually to that dentist, who, in the judgement of his professional colleagues, "has contributed most significantly to the furtherance of dental science and research."

Presenting the award was Louis J. P. Calisti, D.D.S., M.P.H., Dean of Tufts University School of Dental Medicine. Dr. Glickman is a Newton resident.

"Dr. Glickman's career in periodontology (study of tooth-supporting tissues) has been unique in its scope as well as its quality," said the Tufts dean. He continued,

"the unparalleled contributions of this singular teacher-clinician, including publication of more than 150 scientific papers and authorship of what has come to be a classic textbook in this relatively new field of dental medicine reflect Dr. Glickman's dedication to dental science."

"Few other teachers,"

Dr. Calisti went on, "can match Dr. Glickman's record of service to the profession, to the public, and equally important, to his students."

The occasion for the award presentation was the banquet

Dr. Snider told the Traffic on both sides of Chestnut Street had signed a petition asking the Commission to "control and curtail speeding and reckless driving which is

problem," Dr. Snider asserted.

The new center, which will be opened in September, will include the nation's most modern facilities for the collection and processing of blood and blood technology and research. The program provides blood for the 204 hospitals and blood bank facilities in Massachusetts.

"This new facility," said Gilbert D. Kitteridge, chairman of the Fund Campaign Committee, "will help us work closer to our required 1000 pints of blood a day to meet the needs of our hospitals."

Annual Minnie Mitchell Day at Newton-Wellesley

The Newton-Wellesley Hospital celebrated its annual "Minnie Mitchell Day" recently to add to the fund, now quite sizeable, whose earnings are available under employee committee guidance, for the assistance of any Newton-Wellesley Hospital employee with financial problems arising from illness.

The affair was not only a fund raiser, but a fun raiser. Tables under colorful awnings and trellises were set up in the entrance corridor, and laden with home-baked food, gifts and what nots. Ted Haussman, Public Relations Director, had two showings of his world renowned circus films in Usen Auditorium. There was a wandering guitarist, "supper orchestra" and a balloon selling clown. More than 50 workers contributed to the festive affair.

This event began in memory of a much-loved employee in the housekeeping department, who died after a siege with cancer. Her fellow employees rounded up an impromptu purse with which to help with the expenses that remained. Annually each Spring, there has been an all-out effort among hospital personnel to raise money for the "Minnie Mitchell Fun," now available to other hospital personnel with illness related needs.

TV Profile . . .

Peggy Lipton Identifies With Role in 'Mod Squad'

By VERNON SCOTT
Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Peggy Lipton enjoys a life envisioned by scores of thousands of girls in their 20s — a starring role in a television series, a steady boy friend, and a small beach house.

Peggy is the pretty, leggy blonde of ABC-TV's "Mod Squad" who plays a feminine cop.

Born in New York, and a resident of California for five years, Peggy is definitely a member of the mod generation. At 24 she has moved away from home and heart to a two-bedroom abode she shares with a girl friend in Santa Monica overlooking the Pacific.

Peggy works from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. five days a week. She cooks when the mood seizes her, but not well enough to entertain at dinner parties.

The state hopes to obtain the building, owned by a hardware firm in recent years. Local legend has it that Lincoln visited his future wife in the home as a young man.

She maintains her willowy figure by eating health foods and not worrying about a diet. She stuffs herself with desserts and cookies she bakes, but without adding weight.

Peggy visited Paris recently and, as she says, "blew my mind" on the fashions there. She favors skimpy dresses, narrow sweaters and long flowing pants.

Her role in the series requires her to dress more conventionally.

SIMILARITIES

Peggy admits there are similarities between herself and Julie Barnes, the girl she portrays on the show. "Our basic temperaments and behaviour are the same," she says. "And it's more me on the screen than acting a strange role."

Weekends are devoted to dance classes, shopping with girlfriends and, of course, dates with her beau.

In the summer months Peggy can be found sunning and surfing at the beach. She also enjoys horseback riding and such diverse activities as softball and ballet.

Another of her favorite off-screen activities is collecting pets — which she sometimes regrets.

"I have various dog and cats around the city staying with friends," Peggy says. "I adore animals but I've been moving around so much I have to leave my pets with other people so they won't freak out."

Her newest acquisition is a minnow bird.

A conversation piece wherever Peggy finds herself with other females is her long blonde hair. It reaches to her waist. She cuts it once a month and finds it unnecessary to do any more than wash and brush her lengthy locks. No beauty parlor visits for Peggy.

Her idea of an enjoyable date is a music happening or an avant garde movie with her boy friend, whom she refuses to identify but allows as how he is not connected with "Mod Squad."

Peggy has no idea of getting married in the near future.

"I'm having too much fun and my career is moving along," she explains. "And besides I'm excited about the groovy furniture I'm buying for the house. It's me — everything I've wanted since I was 16 years old."

Symphony In a Tent

By United Press International

New fashions in watches for the affluent include these from the Watchmakers of Switzerland: a man's ultra-thin watch with champagne dial, sapphire crown; a lady's white gold bracelet watch with lapis-lazuli dial encircled with sapphires and diamonds; lady's covered bracelet watch fashioned of platinum and diamonds.

The handbag fashion world has gone off the gold and silver standard. Every metal shines in new bags. Pewter, aluminum, copper, platinum and gunmetal shines are the ones to watch. The monogram mania also is about to descend again. Initiated bags will join signed scarves as a status symbol.

CAIRO (UPI) — Police officers in Cairo have been told they will remain in their offices only for certain emergencies. Otherwise, they are to patrol the streets on foot searching for pickpockets. Hundreds of cases of pocketpicking have been reported in recent weeks, leading to a government crackdown, on the lawbreakers.

The new tent, featuring a cable suspension system, is 140 feet long and 170 feet wide. It will hold the orchestra and 2,000 concertgoers. The cable suspension system, using more than four miles of galvanized airplane cable, will permit another 10,000 persons to have an unobstructed view from outside the tent.

The tent will have two main masts rising to a height of 65 feet. It is soil-resistant, water-repellent and flame-resistant. The total bulk of the tent is 7,500 yards of material put together with 20 miles of linen thread.

Schools Are Out . . .

Chief Quinn Asks Drivers Be On Alert

"The release of youngsters from classrooms will soon add to seasonal driving hazards confronting motor vehicle operators," Chief Quinn said today.

Quinn said that drivers will have to be particularly watchful for children, many undoubtedly heedless of their life and limb, who may be found dashing across streets in areas near playgrounds, beaches, parks, swimming pools, tennis courts, and at play on city streets.

He asked drivers to take nothing for granted — to expect the unexpected. "You are the adult and the driver of a potentially dangerous weapon. The responsibility to protect pedestrians is yours. Slow down in play areas — take a second look for that youngster about to dash into the roadway — then proceed cautiously."

The close of school also presents a challenge to parents to do everything possible to keep children from being hurt by automobiles. Close supervision of their outdoor activities would seem to be the wisest course," Quinn concluded.

Move To Ban Turnpike Gas Complex in WN

Three Newton State Representatives have filed proposed legislation designed to bar the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority from constructing a service station and restaurant complex in West Newton.

Representatives Irving Fishman, Paul F. Malloy and H. James Shea Jr., filed the legislation which would prohibit the turnpike gasoline station and restaurant. In addition, the three Newton lawmakers filed a resolution with the House which would urge the Turnpike Authority to refrain from building the proposed service station.

The three solons, Fishman, Malloy and Shea, in a joint statement declared:

"The Turnpike Authority's effort to construct a commercial development in West Newton is essentially an attempt to increase Turnpike revenues."

"The Authority is not sufficiently considering the public safety, the public need and convenience, or the impact such a facility will have upon our Newton Community," the statement continued.

We have therefore filed legislation designed to prevent and discourage the Turnpike Authority from imposing its gasoline station and restaurant upon the West Newton Community."
